Bears await first essay under Thomas

Morgan State University's Clarence Thomas and Maryland, Eastern Shore's Joe Redmond share a fair knowledge of how each feels today on the eve of Saturday night's Bears - Hawks football game at Wilmington, Del.

Both are awaiting their first Mid - Eastern Athletic Conference outing as head coaches. Both are stepping into relatively new situations. And both know they are being watched with highly critical eyes.

Thomas returns to Morgan after seven years of moving about since his starring days on the Hillen Road campus.

He came back last spring in what some thought was a delayed action. Clarence had expected the Morgan job offer two years ago when the Bears' heirarchy chose Henry "Hank" Lattimore.

Thomas was coaching at Bowie State at the time, but left shortly after the Morgan post was filled, to accept an assistant coaching job at Williams College. He got the call after Morgan officials refused to renew Lattimore's contract.

This means, of course, that the new mentor will be closely scrutinized by the Morgan alumni, which supported his selection when he was bypassed for Lattimore.

Athletic director Earl Banks, who was instrumental in the choice of Lattimore, and later in his dismissal, will be looking for vindication in his belated acquiescence to Thomas.

And the players also are on watch to learn whether the new (Thomas) system offers a way out of the team's 4 - 6 losing pattern of last year.

Maryland's Redmond is a carbon of Thomas only in the sense that he, also, is in his freshman year at the helm of the Hawks and, like Clarence, Joe came to his new job direct from the campus of a predominately white college.

Redmond was an assistant coach at Northern Illinois when he received the nod to Princess Anne.

At the outset, it appears that Morgan will depend on Lloyd McCleave, Mike Mayer and Steve Turpin for veteran offensive help, and upon Mike Lyons, Henry Robinson and Art Cook on defense.

The Hawks' Carl Hardaway and Ralph Esquelin, plus reciever Jim Le Sane, provide their main offensive thrust, while Greg McIntosh and Ed Jackson anchor the defensive line.

Both teams have a generous sprinkling of promising freshmen.

LACY.

HAPPY TWOSOME — Pitcher Vida Blue (R) sits with boss, San Francisco owner Bob Lurie as latter announces signing of Giants' ace to a 6-year contract for an uncomfirmed estimate of $350,000 a year. "It's the last contract I'll ever sign; I'm here for life," said jubilant Blue.

Tim Baylor back; Feaster, Watkins dropped by Colts

Veteran defensive back Tim Baylor and rookie linebacker Colvin O'Neal were recalled Tuesday after being among weekend cuts by the Colts.

Baylor, a 24-year-old pick from Morgan State in 1975, had been a mainstay of the Baltimore special teams and his release had come as something of a surprise.

At the same time that Baylor and O'Neal were reacquired, rookie wide receiver Dexter Feaster from A and T and veteran fullback Lawrence Watkins from Alabama State were let out.

Brailey seeks probe of Colts

Delegate Troy Brailey, Baltimore, D - 40, early this week called on Jake Edelman, Human Relations Commission chairman, to investigate charges of alleged racism filed by star running back Lydell Mitchell against the Colts.

Brailey who is also a national vice president of the Afro - American Labor Council, forwarded the following letter to Edelman at the latter's Metro Plaza of fice:

Dear Sir: As one who has a relatively close relationship with the former and present Colt football teams, and many of the black players, I agree fully with Lydell Mitchell's alleged charge of racism against this Colt organization.

"From my observation, the present Colt organization's personnel is practically "lily white." If there aren't any black in policy making positions, there is no one to express the anxiety of black players. To this end, I respectfully call upon you to investigate the above allegations and give me a complete breakdown within the next 30 days.

"I await your answer. Yours truly, Troy Brailey."

Colts, Skins at peak odds

The Baltimore Colts and Washington Redskins are two of the three longest shots in Harrah's Reno book on weekend betting of the National Football League.

The Colts are rated 11 point underdogs for their Monday night game against the Cowboys at Dallas.

The Redskins are given nine points with the New England Patriots, exceeded only by the Buffalo Bills, 10 - point underdogs in the their opener with the Steelers.

Harrison a Colt

The Colts acquired seven - year veteran cornerback Dwight Harrison from the Buffalo Bills Monday for an undisclosed pick in the 1979 college draft.

Harrison, 29, started 12 games for the Bills last season, intercepting two passes and making 21 tackles.

Los Angeles gets unanimous approval for '84 Olympics

LAUSANNE (UPI — The executive board of the International Olympic Committee (IOC) Thursday unanimously recommended to its IOC members that Los Angeles be accepted as the site for the 1984 Summer Olympics.

The recommendation will be voted on by the 89 members before Oct. 7 but IOC officials said approval was almost certain.

The executive committee, in recommending Los Angeles, approved contract designed by the City Council and drawn up to ensre that local taxpayers will not have to foot the bill if the Olympics go into the red.

Before the games finaly belong to Los Angeles, the contracts will also have to be ratified by the U.S. Olympic Committee and the Los Angeles City Council.

In a statement, the IOC said the executive board had recommended in a mail vote of all its members — a ballot which will close Oct. 7 — to approve the two contracts drawn between Los Angeles, the IOC, the USOC and the Los Angeles Organizing Committee.

"The executive board is therefore recommending unamiously to all members that these agreements, which ensre that Los Angeles abides by the letter and spirit of the Olypic Charter 1978, should be confirmed, the statent said.

"These agreements have also to be ratified by the USOC and the Los Angeles City council," it said.

"At the Athens session the award was provisionally made to the city of Los Angeles, subject to the city entering into a contract with the Olympic rules, subject to the city entering into a contract with the Olympic rules, subject to the city entering into a contract with the Olympic rules and in a form prescribed by the the IOC, before Aug. 1. The president (Lord Killanin) using his powers, extended this time to the meeting of the executive board which was brought forward from October to Aug. 30 - 31," the statement concluded.

Organ named Bowie AD

Dr. Organ, 42, is a native of Lynchburg, Virginia, attended public schools there and graduated in 1960 from Virginia State College, where he lettered in football and wrestling and was an all - CIAA conference mat champion in 1958 and 1959.
