Survival skills workshops to be held

A variety of workshops, including those involving "survival skills" will be held in September at the Center for Displaced Homemakers.

An electrical repair workshop series will be held September 11, 18 and 25 at 1 p.m. Participants will learn how to rewire lamps, how to recognize electrical safety hazards and how to make minor household repairs.

A three part auto maintenance workshop series begins September 14 through September 28 at 6 p.m.

These survival skills workshops will be held at 2435 Maryland Ave. A $3 fee for each series will be charged; pre registration is requested by calling 243-5000.

Other September workshops include a four-part series on assertiveness training and a two-session series on test-coaching. Both begin September 7 at 6 p.m.

"Legal Problems in Separation and Divorce" will be presented September 14 at 6 p.m. "Credit and How to Keep It" is scheduled for September 20 at 1 p.m.

Besides workshops, ongoing support groups are held at the Center for Displaced Homemakers.

For more information on any of the programs offered, call 243 - 5000.

Senior citizens day camp

Family and Children's Society - Project SAGA, a group of inner - city Senior Centers, will hold their third Annual Summer Day Camp for their members on Sept. 19, 20, and 21.

Camp SAGA, located on the grounds of Nixon's Farm in West Friendship, Md., provides a range of recreational activities for the campers, who are 55 and over.

Door - to - door transportation, daily hot lunches, and snacks are features of the three - day, camp experience. Crafts, Dance and Movement, Yoga, and ball games are included in the varied activities.

Paul Gezon, executive director, Family and Children's Society, will be guest speaker on the last day of camp.

Project SAGA provides year - round services in their four Senior Centers, located at 1400 E. Federal St., 505 E. 22nd St., 100 S. Fulton Ave., and 3121 Walbrook Ave. Administered through Family and Children's Scoiety, and funded through Urban Services Agency, the Centers are open Mondays through Fridays, 8:30 - 4:30.

For further information, call 462 - 5505.

Unique shopping events planned

Two unique shopping events are coming up at the end of the September and beginning of October, both sponsored by the Women's Board of the Johns Hopkins Hospital.

The Better Dress Sale, Sept. 26 - 28, is a chance for visitors to buy nearly new designer clothes at a fraction of their original costs, while the Christmas Show, Oct. 4 - 6, gives the shopper a chance to avoid the pre - Christmas rush while seeing some of the most unusual and beautiful boutique items from up and down the East Coast.

The sales will take place in the Evergreen Carriage House, 4545 N. Charles Street.

Both events offer excellent photo and story possibilities and I would be happy to assist you in developing these over the next several weeks. Please contact me at 955-6680, if I may be of help. Enclosed are brief announcements describing each event in greater detail.

—Tattle Tales

The Great White Fathers have also gotten to one or two blacks who would do anything to get some kind of job. Considering themselves as "upper class" they have always smuck around to get a city or state desk post, no matter what it takes or whom they betray. The whole race can go down the drain, far as they are concerned.

One such has got a big fat tummy and has never hit an honest lick at a garden snake in his life.

Political prostitutes abound more than ever in this primary race and you know just who they are. Those yellow jackets are stinging every candidate they can get a penny from. One of the lady bees buzzing around is getting her roof tarred and her porch fixed, filling up her freezer for winter.

When one candidate arrived the other day, she snatched down the other folks' signs. After he left, she put the signs back up. The neighbors watched and saw what happened and called Tattletales.

Victory celebrations are already set for the night of Sept. 12, the end of the primary race. And, dear hearts, we have learned there was a fight between some of the main candidates who wanted a certain plush surburban place for their all-night beer and potato chips fling. And, guess what?

The candidate who won the set-to had to pay almost double the normal amount to get the place. And, he may not win. Har Har. Sniggle, sniggle. He's in trouble.

St. Paul's gets $50,000

LAWRENCEVILLE — Saint Paul's College, a private, predominantly black four - year institution, has received a $50,000 grant from the Booth - Ferris Foundation of New York towards the library wing in its $3.5 million capital campaign.

This meets the Richmond - based Morgan Foundation's two - for - one challenge of last December in which the college had to raise $200,000 in new gifts and pledges against Morgan's $100,000, and bring total gifts to date to $693,000.
