THE LIVING CHURCH

First Baptist observes 143rd year

By Pam Widgeon
AFRO Staff Writer

Many religious and political leaders shared in the joyous celebration of the 143rd anniversary of First Baptist Church, where the Rev. Leroy Fitts is pastor.

First Baptist, 525 N. Caroline St., oldest black Baptist church in Maryland, was founded by the late Rev. Moses Clayton Feb. 20, 1836.

Speaker for the Sunday afternoon program was the Rev. Willard Clayton, a direct descent of the late Rev. Moses Clayton and pastor of Macedonia Baptist Church, 700 block Lafayette Ave.

Roscoe Herring, a member of First Baptist for 31 years presided at the services with music by the choir of First Baptist.

Greetings were extended by the Rev. Matthew R. Silver, president of the United Baptist Convention; Sen. Charles Mc C. Mathias Jr., the Rev. William Brown, president of the Maryland Baptist Convention; Rep. Parren J. Mitchell, Sen Verda F. Welcome and City Councilman Walter Orlinsky.

Also, Mrs. Betty Johnson, president of the Women's Auxiliary United Baptist Missionary Convention; Miss Helen Benton, first vice president of the Lott Carey Baptist Convention and other community leaders.

Mayor Schaefer designated Feb. 25 - March 4 as First Baptist Week in Baltimore and the Rev. George Crawley stated that First Baptist is nationally known as the "First Baptist colored church" and a plaque honoring Rev. Clayton as founder of the church will be placed on the outside of the church.

All contributions for the memorial fund should be mailed to Moses C. Clayton Plaque Committee, 525 N. Caroline St.

Rev. Clayton came to Baltimore to begin a mission for the black community.

His first mission began in 1834 in the parlor of his Mullikin Street home in East Baltimore, where he organized a Sunday School. Several members of First Baptist are still living on Mullikin Street.

Rev. Clayton was ordained in 1835 and on Feb. 20, 1836, with 10 followers, he organized the first black Baptist church in Maryland.

In March 1841, the church was admitted to the Maryland Baptist Union Association and later began to build a small church on Lewis Street. Rev. Clayton resigned in 1849 and the Rev. John Carey was appointed pastor.

A sucession of ministers served at First Baptist from 1861 to 1865. They were the Revs. John Whye, Thomas Rheams and J Underdue.

The Rev. Lewis Hicks became pastor in 1865 and with the help of Rev. Berg, he was able to build a church at Thomsen and Young Street.

The lot at Caroline and McElderry Street, where the church is now located, was purchased in 1875. In January 1881, members moved into the edifice and this was the first building for worship to be built and occupied by black Baptists in this city.

Ground breaking held for solar heated church

Despite inclement weather more than 500 friends and members of Providence Baptist Church attended ground breaking services for the new Providence Church.

The $ one million structure will have solar heat and will be built at Lafayette and Pennsylvania Avenues in cooperation with the Baltimore City Department of Housing and Community development. The church will occupy 26,000 square feet.

Mrs. Edna Over Campbell, daughter of the founder of Providence, the late Rev. David E. Over, told the guests, "This is a very historical occasion in the life of Providence Baptist Church. It would almost seem that everything that has happened in the last 51 years has been preparing for this day."

Mrs. Campbell stated there are approximately 15 of the 243 members who organized the church still attending. Mrs. Campbell, a retired school principal, is also a lifetime member of Providence.

The Rev. Marcus Wood stated as soon as the city demolishes the houses on Pennsylvania Avenue, builders will start to work. The sanctuary will seat 500 persons and there also will be a church-school area and an office area.

The solar heating system for the church was recommended by a consultant to the American Baptists Churches Inc.

About 70 percent of the church is designed for solar heat and the solar apparatus will provide 60 percent of the heat needed in that area of the structure.

Committee members for the ground breaking service were Mesdames Catherine Creigler, Edna O. Campbell, Maxine Wood, Ethel Hall, Florence Davis, Frances Sigale, Evelyn Harris, Patelle Harris, Mabel Sneed, Larrine King, Joyce Duckley, Eva Cook, Barbara Marshall, Andrea Abraham, Ida M. Keisic, Thelma Cook, Mossie Cobb, Thelma A. Baltimore, Yvonne Campbell.

Also, Mesdames Levola Brown, Cynthia Coleman, Alice Stubbs, Rachel Scott, Elizabeth Craig, Rosalind Johnson, Elva Williams, Thelma Craig, Rebecca Scott, Irene Terry, Mattie Ashton, Catherine Creigler, Mary Flack, Vernice Matthews and Gloria Redd.

Others were Wilton Moore, Aaron Stansbury, Maredith Addison, Frank Chase, Michael Skinner, Robert Epperson, Elsmore Burrell, Kevin Chase, Wilton Moore, Johnnie Brown, John O. Wood, Ostell Blackwell, Robert Coleman, Russell Davis and Raymond Wade.

THE REV. MARCUS G. WOOD, pastor of Providence Baptist Church, introduced the guests at the groundbreaking eervices held Feb. 25 at Furman Templeton Elementary School at Pennsylvania Avenue and Dolphin Street.

COMING SOON — Groundbreaking for Providence Baptist Church was held Feb. 25. As soon as the city demolishes the houses shown in photo, the new church will be built at Pennsylvania and Lafayette Avenues.

Lent-the holiest season

For 40 days prior to Easter Sunday, April 15, Lent will be observed.

In Western churches, Lent begins on Ash Wednesday and in Eastern Orthodox churches it begins on Monday, 42 days before Easter.

Since Easter is a movable feast, determined by the date of the first full moon after the vernal equinox, Lent begins in different years on different days in either February or March.

It is commonly believed that Lent is 40 days long to commemorate the 40 day fast of Jesus in the desert after his baptism and before the beginning of his public ministry.

The first day of Lent, was observed this year on Feb. 28, Catholics went to the altar and were marked on the forehead with ashes in the form of a cross.

The priest says, "Remember, O man, that thou art dust and unto dust shall thou return."

The ashes are made from palm leaves left over from Palm Sunday of the year before and are blessed before the Ash Wednesday mass with holy water and the sign of the cross.

Other Protestant denominations also observe the beginning of Lent with the observance of Ash Wednesday and having services during Lent.
