American Business Women hold 'Boss Night'

By Paula Hudson

The Freedom Chapter of the American Business Women's Association (ABWA) celebrated "Boss Night" at the Holiday Inn, Belmont on Monday, March 12 from 6 to 9 p.m.

Hannah Tabor, president of Hannah Tabor Real Estate Inc., was chosen "Boss of the Year."

Boss Night is an annual event established to honor employers of ABWA members and to familiarize employers with the educational aspects of the ABWA, which is one of the organization's major thrusts.

The evening featured cocktails and a delicious buffet dinner. More than 55 people come to enjoy the activities.

One highlight of the occasion was the vocational talk given by Barbara Mitchell, (chapter member), who explained her position as an Equal Employment Opportunity Specialist with the Bureau of Hearing and Appeals, Arlington, Va.

HONOR BOSSES — The Freedom Chapter of the American Business Women's Association met at Belmont Holiday Inn recently to celebrate "Boss Night." Members of the Association include (L. to R): Anne Pinn, Ethel Christian, Veraciedora H. Kane and Audrey Harris, president of the chapter.

Keynote speaker, who filled in for Dr. Elizabeth Johnson, director of the Division of Consumer Education, (who was unable to attend) was William Callahan, a local photographer who has extensive knowledge in the computer science area.

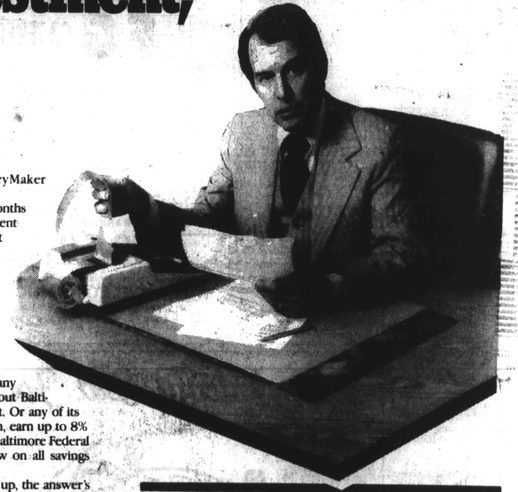
Baltimore Federal's Six-Month MoneyMaker Certificate... short term, high yield, absolute safety. As an investment, it really adds up.



Baltimore Federal's Six-Month MoneyMaker Certificate makes a lot of sense.

You invest $10,000 or more for only six months and earn an exceptional yield. It's a safe investment because there's no fluctuation of your investment principal, and accounts are insured up to $40,000 by an agency of the U.S. government.

If you have a six-month certificate at another financial institution you should check with Baltimore Federal before you renew. If you're considering investing in one for the first time, you should do it now. Either way, you're putting your money in a proven winner.

And the MoneyMaker is only one of many available savings and certificate plans. Check out Baltimore Federal's 5-1/4% regular savings account. Or any of its SelecTerm Certificates that, depending on term, earn up to 8% annually on an investment of $1,000 or more. Baltimore Federal pays the highest interest rates allowed by law on all savings accounts.

So, no matter how many ways you add it up, the answer's always the same — Baltimore Federal makes big things happen with your money!

SELECTERM CERTIFICATE RATES

BITS O' BRIEFS

Good ole days

Already, American sports fans are contemplating what it will cost the average person to attend the 1984 Olympic Games at Los Angeles.

Certainly, it will be nothing like the "good old days" of 1932 when Los Angeles last hosted the spectacle.

The "Hotel Greeters' Guide of the time quotes the following rates: Biltmore Hotel, $4 per day; Willard's famed chicken dinners, $1; greens fees at Baldwin Hills Golf Course, $1.50; season tickets $22 adults, $11 children.

Moscow up 100,000

The Moscow Organizing Committee has announced that there will be 100,000 more tickets available to U.S. fans for the 1980 Olympic Games than there were for the Munich games in 1972.

The United States, Canada, Australia and New Zealand bought 118,000, 22,000, 20,000 and 9,000 tickets in Munich respectively, whereas now they are offered 218,000, 54,000, 42,000 and 15,000 respectively.

Boxing no-no

A promotion suggested by a group called Pyramid Enterprises to involve football players in a series of televised boxing exhibitions has been turned down by the NFL Board of Player Representatives.

Since the action in Las Vegas the NFLPA has learned that the promoters have continued contacting players and attempting to get addresses and telephone numbers from the clubs whenever possible. They intended to use only offensive and defensive linemen.

The board turned down the proposal by a vote of 21 to 5, because of the negative image of the football player that the matches would display.

Without proper preparation and training the safety of the players is also questionable, the reps felt.

Hayes vs. Hoosiers

Washingtonians may be wondering what fortune would have befallen Georgetown had the Hoyas not won the NCAA eastern regional cage title.

When Indiana defeated Purdue Wednesday, 53 - 52, for the National Invitation Tournament title, it was remembered that Georgetown whipped the Hoosiers during the regular season.

Duane again

One - time running back sensation Duane Thomas may be back in the NFL again. He has been reportedly signed by the Green Bay Packers and told to report to camp Aug. 1.

Since being dropped by the Packers in a flurry of controversy last fall, Thomas has been working with a Hollywood film studio as a legal researcher.

Gala telethon

Eight superstar entertainers including Jerry Lewis, Dean Martin and Sammy Davis Jr., are among the first to commit for "Olympathon '79", the seven - hour telethon on April 21 designed to raise funds for U.S. Olympic and Pan American teams.

Other commitments include Tony Bennett, Lanie Kazan, Glen Campbell, Abby Lane and Ed McMahon.

"Olympathon '79" will originate from the Desert Inn Hotel in Las Vegas, Nevada. Celebrities from film, television and sports will appear to dramatize the United States Olympic Committee's fund - raising efforts.
