

LAWS OF MARYLAND.

Maryland, Sct:

At a Session of the General Assembly of Maryland, begun and held at the City of Annapolis, on the 6th day of January, 1864, His Excellency, AUGUSTUS W. BRADFORD, being Governor, the following Laws were enacted, to wit:

CHAPTER 1.

AN ACT to repeal section one hundred and eighteen of Article eleven of the Code of Public Local Laws, relating to Frederick county, and to re-enact the same with amendments. Passed Jan. 11, 1864.

SECTION 118. They may lay taxes and collect, Powers and duties of. either by distress or by suit at law, all taxes now or hereafter to be laid, pass ordinances to pave and keep in repair, grade and re-grade the streets, lanes and alleys, and to widen the same with the consent of a majority of those interested, to prevent obstructions of any kind being placed in Carroll creek, within the corporate limits, to prevent horses, wheelbarrows and other vehicles from passing on or over the footwalks or pavements within the taxable limits, to prevent the quarrying of stone therein, unless upon application to the Mayor, who may impose such restrictions as shall be necessary for the public safety, to prevent trespasses upon lots, premises and enclosures within the taxable limits, and to punish by fine any person or persons for injury done to fencing, or for taking growing corn, fruit, vegetables or produce of any kind whatever, to protect and secure the safety and efficiency of the city constables by the passage of ordinances imposing fines on any person or persons who shall resist or interfere with said constables while in the proper discharge of their duty, or who shall refuse to aid and assist said constables in the