Enchanted garden setting for Neal—Bell rites

RYALES PHOTOS

HOLDING HANDS and listening intently to the vows as read by the Rev. Carl L. Washington, the bride, Gwendolyn Hortense Neal and bridegroom, Jacey Jefferson Bell, take their oath seriously.

Newly weds fell in love teaching at Clifton Park

By Elizabeth M. Oliver

The wedding vows exchanged between Mrs. Gwendolyn Hortense Neal and Jacey Jefferson Bell were said June 16 in the gardens on the Ellicott City estate of Mr. and Mrs. Marion R. Chenault.

The new Mrs. Bell is a music teacher at Fairmount Hill Elementary School in Baltimore and Mr. Bell an administrator at an industry in Reedsville, N.C.

The couple met while both were teaching at Clifton Park Junior High School. The newlyweds are spending a brief honeymoon in Reedsville where they are choosing a site to build their home. They will take an extensive trip later in the summer.

The Rev. Carl L. Washington who also taught at Clifton Park when the bride was employed there, officiated assisted by another of the bride's friends, the Rev. John R. Scott II from Pennsylvania.

The double ring vows were repeated under a bower of flowers on the upper terrace of the spacious lawns.

At 11:30 a.m. the wedding processional of 20 attendants marched to the altar accompanied by the string quartet's "Trumpet Tune in D" by Henry Purcell.

The prelude, also by the string quartet, was Selected Movements from Mozart.

After the blessing of the rings and of the marriage, The Ave Maria Latin text was sung by Ms. Gwendolyn Irvin.

The wedding recessional, "Trumpet Voluntary" and other selections by the quartet are favorites of the bride who is an accomplished musician, a graduate of Fisk University and Juiliard Conservatory, N.Y. and Minister of Music at Ebenezer Baptist Church in Baltimore.

The string quartet played throughout the afternoon as hundreds of guests were served in the gardens of the lower terrace. Mrs. Maggie Fullard of Ebenezer was the caterer.

The lawns were decorated with scores of white wedding bells hung from the trees. The setting was made complete by planted flower patches and the live white doves, a present of the Chenault family. Mrs. Chenault said she will raise more doves and keep them in Ellicott City until the newly weds have established their North Carolina home.

The non-flowering sprig of myrtle and of ivy from the bride's bouquet will be planted at the couple's new home so they will watch them grow with their marriage.

For her wedding, the new Mrs. Bell wore a trailing formal princess frock of brocaid embroidered in seed pearls. Her bouquet was of white carnations, baby's breath, orchids and white satin ribbons backed with the herbs and greenery matching the bouquets of her attendants.

The bridegroom wore a white tuxedo and ruffled shirt. The bride's 8-year-old son Robby Alonzo Neal, by a previous marriage, was also in a white tuxedo as were the groomsmen.

NEWLYWEDS, Mr. and Mrs. Jacey Jefferson Bell (the former Gwendolyn Hortense Neal) walk from the bower and flower-covered altar in the upper garden to the reception in the lower gardens followed by the wedding party. Matron of Honor Mrs. Ireathe Chenault, Attendant Matron Mrs. Briscoe, Best Man Roy Bell, Honor Groomsman Calvin Monroe, Bride's Attendants, Attorney Wilhemenia G. Douglass, Mesdames Bernice Howard, Edna J. Montague, Paula M. Moody, Dianne G. Morris, Stephany B. Neal, Daphne D. Smith; Groomsmen, Albert T. Miller, Albert Bell, Christopher Chenault, George Hayes, Henri Montague, Robert Russell and William Woods.

Bridemaids wearing full length white dresses, matching picture hats and carrying green and white bouquets of pungent herbs and English ivy, were Matron of Honor Mrs. Ireathe Chenault, Mrs. Janet Briscoe, attendant matron; Attorney Wilhemenia G. Douglass, Misses and Mesdames Bernice Howard, Edna J. Montague, Paula M. Moody, Dianne G. Morris, Stephany B. Neal, friend of the bride from Welch, Va. (not related) and Daphne D. Smith.

Bestman was Roy Neal, the bridegroom's brother who is an administrator at A and T College, N.C.; and the honor groomsman, Calvin Monroe.

Other groomsmen were Harold T. Miller, Albert and Willard Bell, brothers of the bridegroom; Christopher Chenault, son of the host family and an employee of the U.S. Naval Academy, Annapolis.

Also, George Foster, Albert Hayes, Henri Montague, Robert Russell and William Woods.

Hostesses were Misses and Mesdames Rose Davis, Floridan Bell, Jacie Nicole Bell, Annie Laura Hackett, Flora Jennings, Ann Jefferson, Gwendolyn McDuffie, Kimberly Powell, Betty Tatum, and Lillie Thaniel.

Bridal consultants were from Miss Mena's Social Design, Greenbelt, Md.; directresses Helen Easterling Williams and Richetta B. Woods. Members of the string quartet were Celeste Blase, first violin; Charls Olive, second violin; Michael McLillan, viola and Beverly Brown, cello.

A STRING QUARTET, violins, viola and cello, with Ms. Gwendolyn Irvin, soloist (left) highlighted the impressive ceremonies with Counod's Ave Marie, Latin Text, as the bride, bridegroom, minister, attendants and guests stood without a whisper. The only sound was the cooing of the doves and small birds in the wooded areas surrounding the gardens.

Sandra Trice Gray named HEW commissioner

Sandra Trice Gray, who had been serving as special assistant to U.S. Commissioner of Education Ernest L. Boyer, was sworn in as assistant commissioner for educational community liaison in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare on June 8th at 10 a.m.

The ceremony took place in Room 800, Hubert H. Humphrey Building, 200 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C.

The Educational Community Liaison Office serves as the focal point for liaison between the Office of Education (OE) and all interest groups and national organizations which are concerned with educational issues.

Mrs. Gray had been special assistant to Dr. Boyer since she joined the Office of Education in July, 1977. For the past year she also has served as Dr. Boyer's executive assistant.

She was graduated cum laude with a bachelor of arts degree in special education from Philander Smith College, Little Rock, Ark. She earned a master's degree in education from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, and did post - graduate work in educational administration and reading at the University of Maryland College Park and Western Maryland College, Westminister, Md.

Prior to joining Dr. Boyer, Mrs. Gray served as an HEW Fellow in the office of Secretary Joseph A. Califano.

She plans to effectively expedite her job through mini- sessions, meetings between the Commissioner and iterest groups, and meetings between interest groups and the appropriate Office of Education officials.

Mrs. Gray and her husband, Dr. C. Vernon Gray, professor of political science at Morgan University, make their home in Columbia, Md., with their two children, Michael and Angela.

Pattie Hodges

SWEARING IN — Ernest L. Boyer, Commissioner of Education, sworn in Mrs. Sandra Trice Gray as assistant commissioner for Educational Community Liaison in HEW's Office of Education, as husband, Dr. C. Vernon Gray, holds Bible and looks on.

Partyline

By Pattie Hodges, AFRO Staff Writer

On Saturday, June 16th, Charlene Butler and Carol Smith hosted a farewell party for Carlene (Wendy) Morgan.

Miss Morgan is a Morgan University graduate and a program director for the Budget and Financing Section of the Department of Aging for the State of Maryland.

She was being honored by her friends because she was leaving on Sunday to take a summer session at Carnegie - Mellon in Pittsburgh, Pa. in Statistical Analysis, and from there on to Bucknell University in Louisburg, Pa. as an urban studies fellow.

The scene for her farewell party was the foot of the Science Building at the Inner Harbor.

A high point of the evening was an Inner Harbor spin on the Marcia - Denise yacht owned by Cecil Cooper of the Baltimore County Department of Personnel, who took some of the guests for an exhilirating ride around the harbor.

Some on hand to give Wendy a great send - off were: Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lansford, Ms. Carolyn Murray, Ms. Carol Covington, Ms. Betty Cotton, Ms. Mary Smith and guest, Ms. Amie McIntyre, Ms. Myrna Jackson, Michael Cann, John Crowder, Victor Green, Ms. Clarissa Morris, Art Parham, Mel Rutledge, Fran Beckles, associate professor at Morgan U. and author of 20 Black Women, Chris Cager, Bill Camp, Carroll Gibson and James Bridgeford.

Wendy received many lovely gifts.

Graduation Celebration

Graduation parties contine to abound in Charm City. Congratulations were in order for Michael Butler, who hosted a super graduation party at his Auchentoroly Terrace town house on June 9th, from 9 p.m. until

Mr. Butler had graduated from the University of Maryland School of Law on that same day.

Among those enjoying this dynamic bash and helping Mr. Butler to celebrate were: Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill Hammond, attorney Tony Robinson, candidate for the City Council, 5th District, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Burgess, Ms. Shirley Marcus, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Douglass, Ms. Yvonne Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Brown, Robert DeShield and Herb Singleton, local attorneys and Mr. and Mrs. Mel Rutledge.

Correction:

On Saturday, May 26, it was Ms. Jean Williams (not Gracie) who married Roosevelt Butler of this city. The new Mrs. Butler is the mother of Ms. Dorothy Williams, an AFRO employee.
