Gilmor Homes start Clean Block

By Elizabeth Jacobs
Clean Block Assistant

Dear Boss:

It was a hot and sticky Friday morning when I arrived at Gilmor Homes to see Mrs. Harris, located on Gilmor Street near Pressman. I was a little late for my appointment after having waited in a gas line for almost two hours.

After I arrived at 10:30 a.m., I began the business of gathering some names of people from Mrs. Catherine Robinson in the management office who were possibly interested in the AFRO Clean Block Campaign as well as the names of some people who wanted to start flower or vegetable gardens. With a list of about 30 names, I was on my way. Luckily, I wore flat shoes.

With map in hand, I started from the last court, Delano Court. After knocking on several doors and receiving no answers, I almost gave up until I spotted a young man named Reginald Leak who invited me into his Aunt's home.

There I met Mrs. Annie Street who expressed that she was not feeling too well on this sunny Friday. Even though she was ill, Mrs. Street did manage to tell me that she did not want to be involved in the Clean Block Campaign because children who do not even live in the area come around after she has worked so hard to clean and mess up the block all over again.

She feels that the swimming pool located near Delano Court attracts children and observes that other courts do not have this problem. Although Mrs. Street was noh interested, her nephew was. Therefore I gave him an application for his block on Edmondson Ave.

As I continued on my venture, I realized that I still did not have a captain for Delano Court. Walking along the 1600 block of Delano Court, I met Ms. Sheena Johnson. Ms. Johnson was familiar with the Clean Block Program but was a little hesitant about working with it. She felt that there was a problem in getting all the people in the block to be equally concerned about their environment instead of just keeping their particular area clean. As we continued to talk, Ms. Johnson decided near the end of our conversation that she would undertake the task of being captain of her block

The next course I visited were Lorman, Booker and Balmor Courts. New captains are Sharon Lawson, William Coffin and Donna Lewis.

By the time I reached my next destination, Mountmor Court, it was 2 p.m. Glancing at the list of names that Mrs. Robinson gave me, I decided to give Mrs. Mary Perkins a try.

I introduced myself to her and told her about AFRO's Clean Block Program. She too was already familiar with it and did not want to be involved because the children do not listen. Just a wee bit disappointed, I tried Mrs. Pinchback, another person on the list. Mrs. Pinchback did not want to be a part of the Campaibn because dogs and cats would mess up her garden before her flowers had a chance to grow.

A little exhausted at this point, I trudged on until I came to Spray Court where I met Mrs. Renee Douglass. Mrs. Douglass was hanging out her laundry but did take the time to tell me that it would be tough to organize the people and get them to cooperate. Before leaving Spray Court, I'd found a volunteer in Mrs. Douglass.

After visiting the rest of the courts in Gilmor Homes and passing out to wrap things up with 14 new blocks. My journey ended where it had begun - in the management office of Gilmor Homes and speaking with Mrs. Catherine B. Robinson."
