The passing scene—school days fade into vacation, summer

Nursery school grads leave for Disney World

By Elizabeth M. Oliver, City Editor

The last graduates of the 1970's in the nursery school to college catagories, have enjoyed the thrills and excitement of that day and have now passed on to summer and vacation.

Some of them are looking forward to further learning while others seek employment, never to return to school again.

However, such youngsters as those in the Oak Ridge Nursery School are journeying to Disney World in Florida. This morning Friday they went by Eastern Airlines with staff members, Susan L. Bailey, Brad Bailey, Wayne Jones, Steve Smith, Judy Hinton, Patricia L. Bailey and Bobbie Bailey, director. They will stay in the Sheraton Twin Towers of Orlando until time to return July 8.

What a trip for the kids who range in age from 4 to 6 years!

The children on the trip are among graduates who received diplomas from Dr. Alfred C.D. Vaughn, the father of one of the 20 pupils who finished the course. Others on the program the night of June 28 were the staff members (above) and those who spoke: Billy Holmes, Trenity Jackson, Damon Hinton, Cassandra Vaughn, Christopher Hamilton, Gerald Payne, Trenity Jackson, Christopher Turner, Keisha Mitchell, Jerome Fair, David Jackson, Billy Holmes, Damon Hinton, Tiffani Barbour.

CCB graduate is mother, pupil, employee

Ms. Sheila Simms works hard. She goes to school, holds a full-time job, and is a single mother of two small children—Maurice, 9, and Marcia, 7. A member of the Community College of Baltimore's Class of 1979, Ms. Simms is employed by CCB as a senior clerk typist in the office of the registrar. To supplement income, she also monitors real estate exams Saturday mornings.

Active in the P.T.A., Ms. Sheila Simms spends much of her free time helping her children with their homeowrk and tending to their needs.

She states her children are her source of strength.

"If it weren't for my children I probably wouldn't have the energy to go on. They are so supportive of me and proud that their mother is trying to better herself. I want to give my children and myself the best life possible. That's why I feel an education is so important." Ms. Simms admits with her work, her school and her family, she has very little time to herself.

At age 27, dances, parties, and movies have become luxuries rarely enjoyed.

Nonetheless, Sheila is confident that her efforts are not in vain. "Besides," she says, "when you have your family and friends behind you, that's really all you need."

Having received her A.A. degree in human services from the Community College of Baltimore, Sheila may attend Morgan State University in the fall where she will major in social work.

Interested in all aspects of the field, she still has not decided what her area of specialization will be. "I'm not sure whether I'd like to work with senior citizens, the handicapped, or prison inmates. The only thing I am certain of, is that I want to help people help themselves."

MS. SHEILA SIMMS receives diploma and congratulations from Charles Tildon the night of graduation.

LIKE A LITTLE PRINCESS, Cassandra April Vaughn walks proudly away after receiving her diploma from her father Rev. Dr. Alfred C.D. Vaughn.

Dr. Crawley at Oxford, England

Rev. Dr. George A. Crawley Jr. is following in the footsteps of his late minister father who had a reputation in the American Baptist church as a leading scholar.

Now in Oxford, England, Dr. Crawley is among the few U.S. clergymen admitted to study on the intensive 10-day course at the Regents Park College.

The ministers, majoring in "Pauline Epistles: Galatians," are those selected from the U.S. Southern Baptist and American Baptist Conventions.

Dr. Crawley who is pastor of St. Paul's Baptist Church in The Alameda, will remain in Oxford for the three-week course and then take a brief tour of England and France before his return.
