1979 Tour

Part 3

900 Rutland top Clean Block

Winning AFRO Clean Blocks

Captain for 1800 Braddish Ave., Mary Sawyer, has a good looking block colored red and white. The block was very clean. Designs and little paintings covered the walls of the corner house.

Black and white were the colors for the 2900 block of Walbrook Ave. The block had floral type designs on its sidewalks. Slogans covered the walls of some houses speaking of unity. Captain for the block is Nina Harper.

Not far from 2900 Walbrook is the block of 3000 Grayson St. where the very popular Rev. Elinor Powell resides. Rev. Powell acted as a judge for the tour. The block was very clean and consisted of an assortment of primary colors such as green, yellow and white. Captain for the block is Rodney Micknight.

A tiny block surprised everyone this year. The block? — 1200 Parrish St. When the caravan arrived in the block, the captain, Darlene Cole and other Clean Blockers were anxiously waiting with pride in their eyes. The block was white with beautiful flowers in the urns. The captain did have one problem still and that was with a vacant house whose back was falling, located in the 1200 block of Stricker St.

An array of colors such as red white, blue and black were found in the 100 block of Whatcoat St. where Carol Turner is captain. The block had white urns with flowers in them and was very pretty.

1400 Mosher St., where Robin Moseley is captain, was unfortunately struck with a tragic and fatal fire this year. However, the block was still pretty with its green and whit urns with flowers in them.

Yellow, blue and white were the colors for the beautiful block of 900 gilmor St. Little Captain Kim Banks did a good job.

A block that could make anyone spellbound is the 1900 block of Mosher St. The block had chairs painted a beautiful green, flowers, and other decorations along with the color white. Captain for this clean and pretty block is Derick Winder.

The urns in the 600 block of Payson St. were among some of the most unusual and creative ones seen. Names of the residents in the block were neatly written on the urns in bold red letters.

The oldest Clean Blocker, George Dozier, had his block in tip top shape again this year with the help of the block's Captain, Vanessa Hawkins. Co-Captain Elise McDowell and other block workers. When the caravan arrived in Dozier's block, there was a treat of cod fish cakes, deviled eggs, finger sandwiches, punch and a beautiful cake with Fulton St. written on top. Everything was delicious. Thanks 500 N. Fulton. The cake was colored the same colors as the block, green and white. Plenty of urns and flowers graced the street and added to its beauty.

600 Brice St. was looking good. Urns colored with a tan base had geometrical Indian-type designs painted on them. Other colors used were yellow and red. Captain for the block is Linda Ivery; Co-Captain is Mrs. Lorraine Baurley and Advisor is Mrs. Gracie Adams.

Still on Payson St. is the 800 block. Colors for the block are yellow and green. The block was very clean as well as beautiful. Captain is Donna Snowden.

Beautiful was the 300 block of N. Carey St. which used festive orange and black colors. Advisor for the block, Mrs. Ora Weathers, served as a judge on the tour. When Clean Block began, it was reported that vacant houses needed boarding, trash cans were needed out front and people were putting trash in the alleys. None of these problems surfaced during Inspection Week and the block was gorgeous. Captain is Brian Garnett and Co-Captain is Arthur Kirk.

Another of Mrs. Gracie Adams' blocks, 2000 Harlem Ave., was very attractive with white urns and flowers literally spilling over from them. The block has a new Captain who is Cheryl Williams, a new Co-Captain, Rhonda Hicks and Mrs. Gracie Adams is the advisor.

One of the tiniest blocks in the Clean Block campaign was the 700 block of N. Pulaski St. Urns colored a deep brown and white were placed in front of each of the four houses. Around the corner on a small lot were several tires of the same brown color. Captain for the beautiful block is Mrs. Barbara Keith; Co-Captain is Jessie Hargrove and Advisor is Denise Clary.

2000 Rayner was beautiful this year with brown and white colored urns. The urns had flowers spewing over and the block was clean. Captain is Mrs. Barbara Keith; Co-Captain is Jessie Hargrove and Advisor is Denise Clary.

Loitering on corners and throwing trash in the area were some of the problems in the 800 block of N. Appleton St. But neither of the problems were apparent when the block was inspected. The block was very pretty painted red and white. Urns held flowers and the previous problem with trash had disappeared. Captain for the block is Sarah Johnson; Co-Captain is Yvonne Johnson and Advisor is Mrs. Gracie Adams.

The 1600 block of Edmondson Ave. looked very pretty with its red and white colors. Little mushrooms painted white with red polka dots were eye-catching. In the beginning of the campaign, it was reported that loitering was taking place in front of vacant houses. At inspection time, the street was quiet, pretty and sparkling. Captain is Alisha Thomas; Co-Captain is Sandy Thomas and Advisor is Annie Thomas.

Another Clean Block on Edmondson Ave. is the 1500 block which is located just below Annie Thomas' block. White and red were the colors that made 1500 Edmondson shine like a diamond in the night. Captain and Advisor for the Block is Johnnie Portee and Co-Captain is Attley Coward.

500 N. Gilmor St. had been plagued with a lot of problems such as people putting trash on its corner, people breaking its flowers and youngsters playing ball and other games in the street. But to go and look at this pretty, bright yellow and happy block, one would never suspect that they had problems. One of the outstanding features of the block were flowers. Flowers could be seen everywhere. The block was tidy too. Captain and advisor for the block is Louise Flood and Co-Captain is Mary Gilbert.

TOP BLOCK — The red and white block of 900 N. Rutland Ave. was one of the most enchanting blocks around. Some of the outstanding features of the block were a round wheel outlined with red seashells identifying the block and a tree stump painted white with beautiful flowers placed neatly in the center. Captain is Karen Crosby; Co - Captain is David Cousins and Adviser is Mrs. Mary Lucas. The block won $150.

In 1979 the AFRO Clean Block worked with 442 blocks in all areas of the city. AFRO inspectors covered 80 miles, Vanessa Johnson and Elizabeth Jacobs; AFRO staff members and judges toured 44 miles.

Clean blockers represent eight housing projects; Perkins, four blocks; Fairfield, eight blocks; Cherry Hill, two blocks; Latrobe, four blocks; Lexington - Poe, eight blocks and a high rise at 770 W. Saratoga. They decorated their stairwells and painted their front entrance.

Westport Homes, two blocks; McCulloh Homes, six blocks and 20 blocks in Murphy Homes due to efforts of the manager, Hattie Turner, Pauline Martin and Mrs. Burton. One high rise is beautifully decorated with painted stairwells and fresh flowers.

Van Storey Branch of Housing and Community Development is planning special awards to supplement AFRO awards.

The campaign started June 2 and during regular meetings at McCulloh Homes, guest of Charles Parker and at Dunbar High School, guest of Mrs. Julia Woodland, principal, $2,500 in paint was distributed; 500 packages of seeds; $400 in live plants taking up three truckloads.

Four movie parties were held at the New Theatre and the Hippodrome Theatre guest of J. F. Theatres. "Alien," "The Wanderers," "Dracula" and "Rocky II" entertained 6,000 AFRO Clean Blockers.

Some 650 youngsters have attended Oriole Baseball games and 1,000 have attended the Colt Football games courtesy of Lenny Moore.

We are indebted to the Mechanic Theatre and Hope Quackenbush who had the stars of "Timbuktu," Gregg Baker and Vanessa Shaw attend our meeting.

To Rod Armstrong and Ernie Donaldson we are indebted for the talented groups First Class and Pamoja Experience to entertain us.

To Twilah Searborough and Cleveland Brister for bringing us the Miss Inner City Teens.

We have stressed the importance of voting and representatives from the NAACP, candidate John Douglass, for city wide office for comptroller and Marguerite Campbell, 6th District City Council.

We are grateful to Mrs. Virginia Baker, Mayor's Office of Special Projects for helping with our 87th Birthday Party and making available War Memorial Plaza and all facilities for our awards ceremony.

Life is a puzzle and a test,

He admired life which was yet to come,
