Flooding

With the threat of another storm Frederic approaching the Baltimore area by this weekend, the question now is whether the city is prepared with a plan.

The residents in Ashburton were uncertain what to do. No one came out to say stay in your home or evacuate and if so, to where.

By late yesterday afternoon, Richard Trainor with the Department of Public Works and William Ogletree, disaster relief service, were in a meeting at City Hall working out details of a plan that would be put into effect should a storm hit the area.

It is expected that the plan will be announced today. Friday informing residents where they should go if they have to leave their homes and what numbers to call if they need help.

Touring Murphy Homes

By Elizabeth Jacobs
Part 2

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series on George B. Murphy Homes in Northwest Baltimore housing 2,800 persons. In the recent 45th Annual Clean Block campaign 29 floors and six courts participated.

Residents complained that the media always concentrates on the dope, murders, and suicides of this community and rarely report on the positive people who are church-going, raising and educating their children and are decent tax-paying citizens of Charm City.

Correction-George B. Murphy Homes is named for the long-time school principal and oldest son of John H. Murphy Sr., founder of the AFRO-AMERICAN Newspaper chain. His sons are James Murphy, the late Howard Murphy and Judge William Murphy.

In Part 1, Mrs. Geralsine Moore, Mrs. Tina Rice and Mrs. Delores Robinson, winners in the recent Clean Block Campaign, held a block party Sept. 1.

They reported it turned out beautifully with harmony among the neighbors.

Mrs. Moore added that the party did a lot to encourage the neighbors to work together and keep the area clean and beautiful.

This year Mrs. Moore said she put her heart and soul into the AFRO Clean Block Campaign. So did her pretty daughters Mary Ellen, 11-year-old and Gwendolyn, 16. Both girls sang their hearts out at the Murphy Homes Clean Block kick-off meeting.

Both her daughters and Mrs. Moore agree that they like living at Murphy. The mother of nine children and a resident of Murphy for 16 years, Mrs. Moore feels the family would not have been better any place else and it's a beautiful place to live. Mrs. Moore says she enjoyed being Captain and looks forward to being number one next year.

Mrs. Delores Robinson, of 1000 Argyle Ave., Clean Block participant in the block party held Sept. 1, commented that Murphy Homes is not that bad. If people stick together, she observed, problems can be straightened out. Mrs. Robinson says that in working with AFRO Clean Block the community has made a start at better conditions and she hopes it will continue.
