Daughter of late Dr. Julian is wed

By Elizabeth M. Oliver
City Editor

Miss Roseari Kathleen Julian, a WFBR Radio news reporter and daughter of the late Dr. Emerson R. Julian, a city councilman and noted physician and Mrs. Roseari W. Julian of Baltimore, was married Sept. 8 in double ring ceremonies to George C. West Jr. of Woodbine, Md.

The bridegroom is son of George C. West Sr. and the late Mrs. Willie Pearl West. A graduate of Coolidge High School, Washington and Washington Tech, he is a member of the International Brotherhood of Electricial Workers and employed at Control Electrical Co. a subsidiary of Honeywell.

After a honeymoon in the Bahamas, the couple will reside in Baltimore County.

The vows were read by Rev. Monroe Saunders Jr. in the chapel on the Baltimore County estate of the First Apostolic congregation headed by his father Bishop Monroe H. Saunders Sr.

Following the ceremonies, some 300 guests attended the reception in the Quadrangle of the vast church complex which is set back on picturesque woodlands just off Route 40.

The event which witnessed the presence of some of the nationally famed Julian family, was a highlight of the early autumn social season.

Taking the bride's father's place and giving the bride away was Dr. Warren Brown, an international figure and husband of Dr. Mattie Julian Brown, sister of the late Dr. Emerson R. Julian Sr. of Washington.

Among others of the Julian family on the scene were the late physician's sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Julian White, retired educator and wife of John White Jr., an official of the National Alliance of Federal and Postal Workers and Mrs. Erma Dungee Julian Rabon of St. Louis, Mo.

Also, the bride's brothers, Dr. Emerson R. Julian Jr., physician and David Julian, and sisters Denise, Diane and Elizabeth Julian, all of Baltimore.

The bride is a Goucher College graduate. Her softly flowing white empire wedding gown set off by seed pearls at the neck and cuffs, fell into a cathedral train. Her headpiece, also with seed pearls, was cupped to the short illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and carnations and wore a necklace of diamonds and rubies, the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Elizabeth (Libby) Julian, her sister, the maid of honor, wore a soft pink frock, matching garden hat and carried a bouquet of varigated pink and maroon flowers and streamers.

Bridesmaids, Musses Denise, Diane Julian, Maxine Moore and Edith West, sister of the bridegroom, wore accordian pleated frocks of maroon with pink garden hats and bouquets.

The groomsmen included Best Man Lt. William Allen, Berlin, Germany; David Julian, Baltimore; Michael Clay, Washington; Norman Johnson, Baltimore and Dr. Darrell Gray, Baltimore.

Ringbearer was Gregory West, Woodbine, brother of the bridegroom and Adonica Davis, Baltimore, flowergirl.

Mrs. Roseari Julian, mother of the bride, wore a floorlength frock of pale pink chiffon. At the rehearsal dinner the night before, the bride gifted her maids with gold bracelets. Wedding soloists were Nedra and Michael Neal.
