Columbia Kappas observe their fifth anniversary

KAPPA HONOREE — The Honorable Walter E. Fauntroy, U.S. House of Representatives, District of Columbia, (L), receives a plaque from Columbia Kappa polemarch William Rogers, (R). The award was given to Congressman Fauntroy for his long and dedicated service in the field of human rights at the Columbia Chapter's recent Kappa Alpha Psi Charter Day celebration, held in the Village of Oakland Mills.

By Pinnie L. Ross

The Columbia (Md.) Alumni Chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity recently observed its fifth anniversary with a Charter Day celebration.

The celebration was held at the Meeting House in the Village of Oakland Mills.

One hundred members and guests attended the Charter Day celebration.

Guest speaker for the celebration was the Honorable Walter E. Fauntroy, U.S. House of Representatives (District of Columbia).

He is a distinguished Kappa brother in the Washington, D.C. Alumni Chapter.

Congressman Fauntroy spoke on a varied number of issues, some currently of world concern.

At the conclusion of his message, the Congressman was presented a plaque in recognition of his long and dedicated service in the field of human rights.

The presentation was made by the Chapter Polemarch, William Rogers.

A review of the chapter activities since it was organized was given by the Chapter Historian, Sheldon Mitchell.

The Chapter has received several awards for its community service endeavors, including the State of Maryland Volunteer Service Award, which was presented by Governor Hughes.

After the presentation, the group enjoyed a champagne toast, buffet and dancing.

Other guests included members of the Columbia Silhouettes and visiting Kappas from nearby chapters.

The charter members who were in attendance included William Ross, Sr., first polemarch of the Columbia Chapter; Claude Ligon, second polemarch; Thomas Sweet, third polemarch, Walter Lewis, Charles Price, Mayfield Webb, James Penimore Cooper, Charles Kelly, Jesse Kenzler, Thomas Wallace and Marion Guyton.

Christmas Bash

Cocktails, music, food and conversation provided the fine Christmas gaiety held at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt McKinley (Maureen) in the Village of Wilde Lake.

The occasion was another elegant, zesty affair where friends were warmly received by the gracious hostess.

The warm atmosphere prevailed among the many friends and new acquaintances throughout the evening.

Charming Mrs. McKinley had a scrumptious buffet set up for her guests.

Included on the table was a variety of meats, turkey, chicken, ham and beef, and potato salad, cole slaw, spreads, and cheeses.

A special dessert table was set up including a beautifully decorated cherry cheese cake, prepared by Ethel Hill, a colorful Christmas mold, prepared by Evelyn Hill, a colorful Christmas mold, prepared by Evelyn McClurkin, a homemade fruit cake prepared by Helen Fitzpatrick.

Enjoying the pre-holiday festivities were Mr. and Mrs. William A. Ross Sr.; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dailey (Lorraine); Mr. and Mrs. James Fitzpatrick (Helen); Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hill (Ethel); Mr. and Mrs. Johnson McClurkin (Evelyn); Mr. and Mrs. Larry Irvin (Hassie); Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Clay (Oxzie); Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lee (Joanne), Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Kensley (Nancy)

Mrs. Barbara Lee, treasurer; Mrs. Stella Richardson, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Arbia Baker, chairman of the board;

Other members are: Ms. Vivian Young, Ms. Bernice Graham, Ms. Sheila Evans, Mrs. Sheila Christian, Ms. Violet Miles, Ms. Dorothy Harvin, Ms. Marilyn Bailey, and Mrs. Cora Townsel.

Among the guests attending their Christmas charity affair were: Antoinette Harvin, Mrs. Mary Harvin, Lawrence Irving, Mrs. Barbara Irving, John S. Williams and Sharon Murphy;

Also Jim Johnson, Eugene Newman, Paul Lee, Lee Roy Hackett, Joe Mangum, Jim Richardson, Joyce Jones, Atty. John Wood and Paula Newman.

Upper 10.

Member of the Upper 10+ recently had their 15th anniversary luncheon - dance at Blue Crest North, Reisterstown Rd.

Music was provided by the Bill Cummings Combo, and club members and their guests feasted on delicious luncheon fare and danced from 1 p.m. until. Everyone enjoyed the affair to the hilt.

Upper 10+ is a group of friends who enjoy football and travel, which was organized in 1964 at the home of Bea and David Wright.

Meeting the third Sunday in each month, the club usually gathers at members' homes to enjoy games and plan travel activities.

Travel to historic places in the U.S. have been enjoyed and some members have participated in junkets abroad.

Football watching has been a favorite pastime for all. July 4 picnics and New Year's Eve celebrations have been traditional.

In addition, members gift each other on their birthdays, and the hospitality committee provides appropriate remembrances at time of sad events, as well as happy ones.

Members of the group are Muriel and Melvin Callaman, Gwen and Charles Hillen, Ethel and Cliff Murray, Herm and Royal Weaver, Jean and Ken Whalen, Mary and Aaron Ellis, Bettye and Paul Moss, Mildred and Errol Taylor, Liz and Edward Williams and Bea and David Wright.

Ten Friends

The Ten Friends; a group of women who have been just that — friends for thirty or more years - and who do deeds for charity, held its monthly meeting recently with Clarice Tilghman as hostess.

After a brief business session, which included giving checks of $100 each to the AFRO's Mrs. Santa and to WBAL's Mrs. Santa, the ladies had a delicious dinner, which had been prepared by the hostess' sister, Delores Young, also a member of the group.

There was exchanging of gifts with old secret pals and new secret pals.

Hazel Gause, a member who retired in June, was given a surprise shower of personal gifts and an acrostic, written by Delores Young and dedicated to Mrs. Gause, was read.

Others who attended were Alice Williams, president; Vivian Smith, vice president; Rosetta Williams, treasurer; Connie Neal and Mary Mitchell.

Helen Tilghman, secretary and Thelma Rogers were absent.

NNBPW Meet

National Association of Negro Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. Baltimore Club met recently at the Harvey Johnson Community Center for their regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. Edith M. Thomas, president, presided. Mrs. Neli Sheridan opened the meeting with a Christmas thought and Prayer after which Christmas carols were played.

Writer receives grant for African Study

Miss Adrienne Manns, 23, received a Danforth Foundation grant for graduate studies recently and will be doing field work in connection with her dissertation project on the World War II veterans of Ghana.

Adrienne Manns

There was a brief meeting of reports from the Membership, Program and Ways and Means Committee Chairpersons.

The club selected Montrose School as their Christmas project. Miss Ruth Crawford, coordinator at Montrose was to have come and talked to the members about Montrose wals unable to attend.

Miss Manns, who is a Phd candidate in African History at Johns Hopkins University, will be leaving for Ghana on Jan. 30 where she will pursue her studies for approximately six months.

Born in Massillon, Ohio, Miss Manns is a 1968 graduate of Howard University, with a B.A. degree in English and a recipient of the M A degree in African Studies in 1973 from that same institution.

Miss Manns has written for Essence Magazine, The Charlotte Observor and The Washington Post.

Last year she taught African History at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County campus.

She has been associated with the AFRO - AMERICAN Newspaper as a reporter and an acting city editor and most recently as Baltimore AFRO copy and assignment editor.

About Faces

About Faces 21 Ltd. Inc. hosted its annual charity Christmas party at the lovely Milford Ave. home of Priscilla and Joe Mangum on Sat., Dec. 15.

The many guests on hand enjoyed a delicious smorgasbord buffet, continuously flowing punch and cocktails.

There was much dancing and lots of conviviality as the party, which started at 10 p.m. went into the wee hours.

Special highlight of the evening was the announcement of a generous sum of money, contributed by the guests, for the club's Christmas project.

This year, their collection from the affair as well as clothing and toys donated, will go to the Cytburn Home for Boys.

Officers and members of About Faces, which is a civic - social - charitable club are: Mrs. Teresse Scott, assistant secretary,

On Sat., Dec. 15, at 6 p.m. the Baltimore Chapter of the Jack and Jill of America Inc., 13 and 14 year old age group, celebrated their final activity of this 1979 "International Year of the Child.'

The affair was an elegant Christmas dinner party held at the Westbrook Ave. home of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Owens, and hosted by the mothers of this age group.

The party room and dining tables were decorated with an array of Christmas greenery and other festive decorations for the holiday season.

The menu for the evening consisted of fruit salad, tossed salad, macaroni and cheese, green beans, fried chicken, hot rolls and butter and Welsh's sparkling grape juice.

Highlighting the evening was the presentation of a gigantic, artistically decorated Christmas cake to the Jack and Jill members.

Jack and Jill of American, Inc. is a non-profit service organization dedicated to the interest of children.

Founded in Philadelphia in Jan., 1938, it has as its objectives: (1) to create a medium of contact for children which will stimulate growth and development and to provide for them a constructive educational, cultural, civic recreational and social program; (2) to aid mothers in learning more about their children through careful study and (3) to seek for all children the same advantages which we desire for our own.

The Baltimore Chapter was founded in 1946. It has adopted the Calvary Baptist Church Day Nursery as its service project and has assisted the nursery in the purchasing of furnishings and materials.

Each age group is involved in a service project for the nursery or some other project involving children or young people. Among these are Provident Hospital's Children's Wing, and The United Negro College Fund.

Shirley T. Hill is the president of the Baltimore Chapter and also serves on the Eastern Region's Bylaws and Constitution Committee.

Jack and Jill members participating in the Christmas affair were: Misses Rebecca Bowen, Nicole Benton, Cheryl Johnson, Monica Hunt, Dianna Owens, Devy Patterson and Paula Pennington;

Also Masters Terry Brown, Byron Desbordes, Mark Davis, Mark Hunt, Paul Holmes, Robert Hubbard, Brook Lindsay, Jeffery Russell, Christopher Wilson, Byron Neal and Kelly Powell.

Joyettes celebrate retirement of Mrs. Gladys Walker

On Wednesday, December 5, 1979, the Holiday Inn, Belmont rang with the laughter and chatter of approximately ninety persons who gathered to help celebrate Mrs. Gladys Walker's retirement from government service.

The luncheon event was attended by special friends, relatives and members of the Joyettes social club.

Management personnel representing the Office of Disability Operations, who spoke words of praise for the honoree included, David Dittman, Mrs. Alice Hall, Joe Muffolett, William Milburn and James Dulaney.

In her response, Mrs. Walker addressed her friends in a very humorous and unique way. She extended best wishes for success to all the attendees who showered her with many personal gifts. The attending guests also gifted her with a 14 carat gold chain.

Mrs. Walker's husband, William was among the special guests who listened as the early out retiree expressed gratitude to committee members Terri Ervin, Joan Dowdy, Marie Penn, hostess, and Mae Klausner, Mistress of Ceremonies, for their contributions towards making her retirement day a beautiful moment to remember.

Typical of most retirees, she is looking forward to doing a lot of traveling in the future.

A retirement party will be held at the Cross Keys Inn on Wednesday, January 16, 1980 in honor of Dr. Lucius Leeper, SSA's Medical Director.

Reservations for the hot and cold buffet party will be available until January 11, 1980.

Edie Romano and Jay Priest are serving as committee chairpersons
