—Faith Wonderland banquet

Praises for the work of the young honorees came from the Rev. Paige, Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Frances Carter, the banquet chairman and Mrs. Beulah Jones who gave greetings.

Mrs. Harriett Gantt introduced the speaker, Miss Oprah Winfrey, a successful young TV news commentator, who inspired the honorees to make more out of life than "just partying" by her dramatization of the history of the race. She concluded by saying, "Thank God for strong mothers and fathers who have brought us thus far on the way."

Miss Winfrey who is employed by WJZ-TV recalled her younger days and challenged parents of today to tell their daughters to be "more concerned with books than their bosoms and tell sons that they can make a baby but can they raise one."

Mrs. Mason, in her closing meditation spoke on the power of love and especially at Christmastime. Dr. Arthur E. Jones, pastor of Jones Tabernacle Baptist Church in his invocation spoke of the love of the church which he said reaches out to the pastor and his wife and embraces the youth and the membership and all the community.

Music was by Mrs. Joyce Hanner, soloist of Israel Baptist Church and Gary Myers, pianist, who played appropriate Yuletide songs throughout the evening. The youth honorees were presented by Mrs. Lillian Wright and Mrs. Enolia P. Williams. The awards were presented by AFRO City Editor Elizabeth M. Oliver.

Gifts were presented by Mesdames Bertha Mosely, Janet Waddy and Eunice Spears.

Honorees were Misses Karen Booker, Allora Goode, Felecia Epps, Margaret Sapp, Deveria Jeter, Shelia Alston, Harriett Clark, Linda Hardy, Pamela Scott, Mary Bruce, Brenda Lee, Formithia Hurtt, Melyode Hardy, Mrs. Harriett Gantt, Mrs. Angela Taylor and Messers Ronald Evalon, William Paylor Jr. and Michael Stills.

Columbia Capers

Kappa party rocks in 1980

By Pinnie L. Ross

There were some 600 high fashioned, fast-stepping folks in Columbia on Dec. 31. The occasion was the first New Year's Eve dance sponsored by those fabulous Kappa brothers of the Columbia Chapter, headed by William "Bill" Rogers (Polemarch).

Columbians are still talking about the first New Year's Eve dance to be held by a fraternity or sorority after 11 years.

Telephone callers are saying: "It was something else"; "Those Kappa's are too much"; "It was simply fine;" "They outdid themselves on this one."

There were no reserve seats and members came as early as 8:30 p.m. to hold their tables. Those high steppers who stopped in late, around 10:30 p.m. as we did, continued to look right and left to see what seats were available.

Thanks to Maurice and Rita Simpkins for looking out for us, they were simply beautiful. By the way, they will be leaving for Rome next week on vacation—how exciting that is.

There were two dance areas set up in the beautiful meeting facilities in Oakland Mills where the affair was held. A disco area was flickering lights featuring Columbia's own Mr. Disco himself, John Taylor and his dancers.

The other section was more for lazy lovers, featuring Fuzzy King's band and Miss Fabulous Ruby Glover, Baltimore's lady jazz queen.

Guests switched from one area to the other and danced until 3 a.m. There were ladies and "gents" who thought they could not disco, but when John Taylor called for ladies, then men, each group came to the floor and took a few lessons and "rocked the night away". What a great way to start the New Year.

Baltimoreans showed up in great numbers. Among many seen at the affair were Beatrice and John Avery, Gilda Williams, Gerdine Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Edward, Miss Doris Pollard.

James Meals, Beatrice Bradshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dorsey, Eloise Minsker, James Barnett, Joyce Dorsey, Benny and Gloria King, Pat Gambrell, Dr. Frank Washington, John Lattimore and many others.

Dance Committee members were Jim Dorsey, chairman and Rufus Clanzy, Augustus Haskins, Oizer Burch, Ellis Humphry, Shelton Mitchell, Donald Matthew and Joel Morris.

Thought for today

For past mistakes I am forgiven,
God needs no better way,
To tell me I can try again,
He's given me...Today!

May you have a prosperous New Year.
