Nance, bench main cogs in UMBC's 9-2 machine

By Samuel Davis

Of the six local colleges previewed by the AFRO at the beginning of the college season, the Retrievers of UMBC have enjoyed the most success to date.

Their 9-2 record includes a 15-point setback at the outset of the season, and a triple overtimer.

Coach Billy Jones attributes the success to a strong bench which affords him the luxury of not being concerned about having to substitute.

"We don't lose too much when we have to do that," says Jones.

While no serious injury has beset the team, except a recurring stress fracture in the left foot of forward Zeno Galloway, Jones has been plagued by a succession of minor hurts. These have prevented settling on a fixed starting unit.

However, there is small doubt that Reggie Nance is the bellwether of the Retriever attack.

Nance's 17.5 points and 7.6 rebounds are just part of his value to the team. Jones describes him as the "kingpin."

"Reggie's the guy we look to as a leader. It's not so much his points, but how he gets it done because he shows the others how to do it," Jones said.

After making those comments, Jones went out and w rched his praise payoff, as Nance hit 18 points, pulled down nine rebounds, dished out four assists, blocked two shots and stole the ball twice as the Retrievers routed Nazareth Tuesday evening 77-57.

They now begin preparation for state neighbors, Morgan and Loyola, with Southampton in the middle.

AFRO Scholarship winner stars

Dwayne Wallace, winner of the 1977 Sam Lacy Scholarship Award from Project Survival, scored 16 points in helping Pittsburgh down George Washington, 82 - 61, in an Eastern Eight basketball game Wednesday night at Pittsburgh. The Panthers are now 9 - 2 overall.

'G'W managed to stay close in the first half of the game and trailed 37 - 33 at the half. But the Panthers adjusted to the colonials' press and went on a 12 - 0 binge early in the second half to break the game open.

Coppin's 2-10 disturbs, doesn't frustrate Bates

By Samuel Davis

It is probably the best 2 - 10 team in the city.

These are the Eagles of Coppin State College, a school that is not accustomed to its teams having poor seasons. However, the college, like coach John Bates, is satisfied with the season's performance, considering the situation.

The players Bates expected to return from last year's team, therefore he started from scratch.

But that has changed. After playing eight games, with only two players with college experience, Fred Stringfield and Darrell Singleton and a total roster of only six, the Eagles got the services of two members of lastyear's team.

So with the two new editions, 6 - 3 Claude Gross, and 5 - 11 Leroy Choice, the Eagles won their first game, upsetting Morgan.

When the second half began they got a late Christmas present. Milton Young, a two - year starter at point guard for Coppin (77 - 79) returned after sitting out because of personal problems.

John Bates 'not worrying'

For their first game of the second half, the Eagles traveled to Virginia State, but lost by three.

Next they took on Rutgers, and they got their second win, 70 - 50.

In this game, the Eagles put it all together with Choice and Gross hitting 14 points apiece. Young topped the team with 20, and Singelton and Stringfield adding 14 and 18 points respectively.

Things continue to look up for the Eagles since they also expect the return of Kevin Britson, a point - guard who was averaging 12 points a game before suffering a foot injury in the win over Morgan.

Bates is also expecting to have 6 - 3 Andy Crockett in uniform soon. The native of Wakefield, Va., also Stringfield's home town, is a newcomer who sat out the first half.

At the beginning of the season, Bates told the AFRO that with the lack of players, the important thing would be to finish the schedule and teach the newcomers. Now that the team has shown some life, have his thoughts changed?

"We're still concerned with one thing, and that is getting 100 percent out of everyone," he said. "If wins come we'll take them and losses also, as long as we've put out 100 percent.

"Once again I'll say we're not worrying about the record."

Leonard's brother makes debut

The Schlitz Parade of Future Champions announced this week that its Big Brother Fundraiser scheduled for Jan. 16, at the Armory - Star - Plex will feature as the main event the hometown debut of undefeated junior middleweight Roger "The Dodger" Leonard.

Leonard is the brother and sparing partner of current World Boxing Council welterweight champion, Sugar Ray Leonard. The 11 - 0 - 0 Roger who has remained in the shadows of his spectacular brother's career, is now ready to challenge the top junior middleweights of the world.

Dave Jacobs, trainer of both Ray and Roger Leonard feels that Roger is an excellent prospect for a successful professional career. He has had an excellent record as an amateur and has been guided professionally by top boxing personnel.

Roger has appeared on several major cards with brother Ray Leonard.

The fight on Jan. 16, will be his first feature card appearance as a main event. Several seasoned and highly experienced middleweights were considered by his partner Dave Jacobs.

The selection was Tyrone Phelps of Philadelphia, Pa. The veteran Phelps should be a good test for the undefeated Roger Leonard's flashy style.

The co - feature will be an 8 round bout between cusion O'dell Leonard and Willie Lee of Philadelphia. The under card which is the essence of the Parade of Champions program will feature local inspiring and upcoming young professionals who have had 10 or less fights.

The Schlitz Parade of Champions is scheduled to conduct at least one major boxing program each month thru May.

Morgan 'Twins 'act' set for College Park track

Of course, they do not represent all the talent assembled for tonight's (Friday) CYO indoor track meet at College Park, but there is no denying that the Morgan State women's team will command much attention.

For, among the galaxy of international male and female stars awaiting the competitions at Cole Field House is the unique assortment of Twins which have adorned uniforms of the Lady Bears in the past.

Paula and Paulette Clagon

The Clagon sisters — Paula and Paulette and the Parsons duo — Mary and Maria — are back cavorting on the boards, although the Clagons have finished their Morgan eligibility.

And one, Maria, is the defending champion in the women's 60-yard dash.

The others are scattered about in various running competitions, each considered a strong title contender.

Paulette, a member of the Lady Bears' record - breaking mile relay team, is entered in the Women's 440. Also in that event is Roberta Belle, a Clagon teammate on the mile - relay foursome of 1977 - 78.

Jennifer Whitfield of Columbia, a sophomore at Villanova, is in to challenge for the 440. And Parsons, in defense of her 60 crown, will face world class sprinter and Olympian Rose Allwood.

Two new faces are joining Belle and Maria Parsons on the 1980 Lady Bears mile tandem. They are Nellie Bullock and Cynthia Colquitt.

Vying for honors in the men's bracket are several outstanding Morgan talents.

Useful and versatile Neville Hodge will be a contender to be reckoned with in the sprints, and Carlton McNorton has accepted the bid to compete in the invitational 600.

Coach Braxton also expects strong efforts by his revamped men's mile relay foursome of Hodge, McNorton, Rich Jones and Guy Goodwin.
