The Baltimore Alumnae chapter of Delta Sigma Theta, Inc celebrated its sixty - seventh Annual Founder's Day observance of the National chapter on Saturday, Jan. 19.

The occasion, which started at 12 noon, was attended by nearly 300 sorors (most frocked in their Delta red and white) and their guests, who gathered at The Forum, 4210 Primrose Ave. for a delicious luncheon and an inspiring afternoon, the theme of which was: "An Action Plan: Our Promise to Black Youth."

Soror Leah Hasty, chairperson of the Founder's Day Committee, presided.

Following the Call to Order by Soror Ellen Fisher, and the processional of program participants and persons seated at the dais, Soror Hasty gave the welcome, which was done with excerpts from Genesis.

Soror Hasty stated: "There was an action plan in Genesis, and we are here to keep that action plan for youth." She asked that others join with them (the Deltas) in keeping that promise.

The invocation was given by Soror Thelma Wainwright, chaplain, and all Deltas stood, to offer the Delta prayer. A moment of silent prayer was offered for deceased Soror June Ross.

A solo, "The Greatest" was done by Lydia Jackson, a former Miss Black Teenage America.

A delicious luncheon was served with red and white wine (and other beverages) on tables decked in red and white, with a red and white cake at the centerpiece for each. The cake was later served as dessert.

Introduction of dais guests was done by Soror Martha Bradford, co-chairperson, Founders' Day. She was also responsible for the recognition of audience dignitaries and representatives of other Greek sororities and fraternities.

Among special guests were new City Councilman Norman V. A. Reeves, State Senator Verda Welcome, Donald Atkinson of Parole and Probation, Dr. John Crew, superintendent of Baltimore City Public Schools and Dr. Rebecca Carroll, deputy superintendent, Mrs. Alice Pinderhughes, assistant superintendent, elementary education and Judge Milton Allen.

A violin selection was beautifully done by India Morris, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Mellasenah Morris, accomplished pianist, who performed at Carnegie Hall in June, '79.

FOUNDER'S DAY HONOREES — Recipients of the Delta's Annual Founders' Day Awards for 1980 are (L to R) Sorors Delores Jessup, Marian Finney, Maggie Wiggins, Mary K. Poole and Barbara Davis.

The awards were presented at the Delta Founders' Day Luncheon held at The Forum on Saturday, Jan. 19.

The Occasion was given by Soror Laura Knight, president, Baltimore Alumnae Chapter she stated the purpose of Delta as being to carry out projects relative to the community in education, housing and the like. Greetings were given by Soror Chapelle Armstead, director, Eastern Region, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc.

The presentation of recipients for awards was done by Soror Vera Proctor, chairperson, Awards Committee.

Mrs. Mary C. Spellman was presented The Vashti Turley Murphy Award, which is given for outstanding service, and which is the highest award presented by the Baltimore Alumnae Chapter.

GILBERT A. DALEY (R) receives Education Award from Dr. Brother George Crawford at the Phi Beta Sigma Founders' Day Luncheon.

On Saturday, Jan. 12, the Zeta Sigma and Epsilon Nu Sigma chapters of the Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity Inc. celebrated their sixty - sixth Anniversary Founder's Day with a luncheon at the Baltimore Convention Center, Mezzanine Room, Pratt and Sharp Streets.

This impressive affair, attended by more than 200 fraternity brothers and their guests, was highly depictive of the fraternity's motto: 'Culture for Service and Service to Humanity' and depictive also of its theme: 'Sigma Building Bridges Into the Eighties.'

After cocktails, the call to order was given by Brother Marvin Cheatham, president of the Epsilon Nu Sigma chapter and general chairman of the Founder's Day Planning Committee.

Following the invocation by Brother Harold Johnson, Mrs. Carmin Wiles Artis sang 'The Lord's Prayer' in her bell - toned lyric soprano voice.

Mrs. Artis is a Peabody student and a member of the New Jersey Opera Co. She was accompanied by Derek Schofield. Guests enjoyed a delicious luncheon, replete with dessert and beverages.

Greetings were given by Miss Sandra East, president of Baltimore's Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, sister sorority to the Sigmas. National Sigma president, Charles Wright also brought greetings to the assemblage and spoke of the Sigma's national theme: 'New Directions and New Dimensions in Fraternity Life,' reminding all of the past 60 years of Sigma history in helping Sigmas of the present to carry out the theme.

Introduction of dais guests was done by Brother Cheatham.

Prior to the introduction of the guest speaker by Brother Samuel B. Newton, Zeta Sigma Chapter, the assemblage was favored by another selection by Mrs. Artis, who did excerpts from 'The Marriage of Figaro', in Italian.

Keynote speaker was Congressman Parren J. Mitchell, of the seventh Cong. Dist.

Congressman Mitchell spoke glowingly of the civil rights decade (the 60s) during which people, who normally try to avoid pain, were courageous enough to endure pain and humiliation in their efforts to secure gains for our race.

Lively Reggae at the Electric Eye attracts over 700 people

By Pattie Hodges,
AFRO Staff Writer

A Raggae, sponsored by George Mitchell, owner of the Electric Eye, on Jan. 12 was a smashing success.

This affair, held at the Eye, 6307 Reisterstown Rd. from 10 p.m. until 5 a.m. attracted 700 guests.

They came out to participate in Raggae dancing, done to the tunes of the Mighty Invaders, the top Raggae group in the state.

Raggae music is a unique Jamaican sound which translates into feeling the ills of the world and at the same time celebrates the sound of freedom won by the Jamaican people.

According to Mr. Mitchell, Baltimore has a large Jamaican population and he feels that this is why the crowd was so large — folks or Jamaican extraction wanted to hear their own music.

Ital stew (a Jamaican dish) and mash and guiness (Mamaaican drinks) served as delicious party fare.

Folks partied and partied and there were representatives from the local news media on hand to check out the scene.

For those who wished, a part of the Raggae evening was devoted to American disco sounds. Everyone had a ball.

This affair was so successful that Mr. Mitchell states that each Tuesday will be Raggae Night at the Eye, which now features all live music.
