sandlot ball in the Wilson Park area.

His first coach was Mrs. Madeline McQuay.

He has also played with the Northwood Little League, and most recently with the Elite Giants, the first all-black baseball team ever established here in Baltimore.

The latter group is sponsored by Park Sasuage and Operation Champ.

Daryl was a student at Essex Community College whre he was playing with a white closed league with only three blacks participating.

He was playing in an all star game in Glen Burnie when the major league scouts spotted him and he got his big break.

During remarks time at the party Mrs. McQuay, his first coach stated of Daryl's accomplishment: "It just goes to show you what you can do if you put your mind to it. Those of you in this room can make the same steps, maybe not in the same direction, but in some direction to improve yourself." Daryl's former coach, Lawrence Monroe, presented him with a baseball from the Elite Giants.

Daryl's sister are all good baseball players and his mother has had many years of experience as a little league manager, with a championship team each year.

She had this to say when asked how she felt about Daryl's break: "I am excited and praying hard that he makes it all the way."

Sedonia Johnson presented Daryl with a plaque for good luck from the third generation of the family and his sisters expressed their pride in him.

Dolphin Crusing Club

They are on the move again — The Dolphin Cruising Club — the premier organization of black boating enthusiasts in Baltimore recently returned from Miami Florida.

They had flown to Miami for the Miami Boat Show — the largest combined boat show in the East.

During the day they visited the beaches and some of the largest Marinas on the East Coast. Evenings, after the Boat Show, were spent sampling the attractions of the Miami - Ft. Lauderdale area.

Some local arrangements were made and supervised by Capt. and Mate Thomas and Lillian Jones.

Members of the Dolphin Cruising Club who enjoyed the Florida sun and fun included Commodore Edward and Mate Ruth Hunt, Captains and Mates William and Valetta Brown, Edward and Ethel Collic, Preston and Doris Henry, David and Mildred Pipkin, George and Catherine Taylor, James and Barbara Ann Brown.

Other members were Capt. Calvin DeShields and Mate Ethel Myers, Capt. Cleveland Washington, Ms. Wanda Pipkin, Mr. David Pipkin, Ms. Susan Hunt, Ms. Monica Hunt, and Mark Hunt.

Zetas mark Finer Womanhood Week

In spite of the snowy weather on Sunday, March 2, several hundred friends joined members of Alpha Zeta Chapter, Zeta Phi Beta Sorority Inc. at a Tea in observance of Finer Womanhood Week.

The affair, held at St. Paul United Methodist Church was the culminating activity of several observances that included worshipping at the Morgan Christian Center, a special visit and program at the Annie Mae Hunter Home for the Bland and the Annual Zetarama.

The public meeting and Tea serve to bring to the public the established ideals of finer womanhood, sisterly love and scholarship, and how the sorority tries to make these principles a reality. The affair also serves to honor outstanding women in the community and sorority who have made noteworthy contributions to their professions and the community.

Honored as "Woman of the Year" was Mary E. Robinson, Deputy Chief, Clinical Infant Research Section, Mental Health Study Center, National Institute of Mental Health, HEW, Adelphi, Md.; Lavern Harris, Director of the Poppleton Urban Renewal Planning Action Council, received the "Community Service Award.

Honored as "Zetas of the Year" were Elva Tillman, Director of Howard County's Housing Office and Gloria A. Garrett, teacher in the Baltimore Public Schools. Receiving a citation and savings bond as "Girl of the Year" was Sharon Duncan, senior at Western High School. She was cited for excellence in scholarship and active involvement in many community activities.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Dr. Edith V. Francis, superintendent of Schools, Ewing Township, Trenton, N.J. Dr. Francis, also a member of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, is well - known for her contributions in the field of education, especially in the area of the intellectually Gifted.

She has been listed in "Who's Who In Education" and was recently inducted as a charter member into the Hunter College Hall of Fame. Soloist for the progam was Lila Smith.

St. John Baptist Church will mark its ninth year

By Pinnie L. Ross

The 9th celebration of the founding of St. John Baptist Church will be celebrated Sunday at 11:45 a.m. and 5:00 p.m., at Interfaith Center, Columbia, Maryland.

A dual theme for the celebration has been chosen, Dedication for Christian Service at 11:45 a.m. with guest minister, Rev. James Tymes, Howard University.

A celebration tea will be held at 5:00 p.m. which will take on the praise through song theme with noted guest choirs, The White Stone Baptist Church Choir, The L. K. Ceasar Ensemble, The Senior Choir No. 1 from Mt. Olivet Free Will Baptist Church, Baltimore, the Angelic Gospel Choir, First Baptist Church, Guilford, The Long Reach Church of God Choir, Columbia, along with guest soloist Mrs. Fredericka Mathews, Mrs. Patricia Davis, Baltimore, Maryland.

The public is cordially invited to attend the celebration. Rev. Hubert Eaton is pastor of the church.

The National Council of Negro Women held its brotherhood observance recently at the Lors Park Neighborhood Center.

Guest panelists were: Silas Craft, president of NAACP, Howard County; Dr. James F. Cooper, psychiatrist; Aubrey Edwards, affiliated with Howard County Concerned Parents; the Rev. John Holland, minister, Gospel Tabernacle Church; Officer Frank Dawson, Howard County Police Department, Youth Division.

Parenting In Today's Community was the theme for the special guest to expound on. After the brief discussions there were special issues raised from the audience such as The Family Unit, coping on a daily basis, stress and cultural changes, divorce, separating, estrangements, the youth scene, unrest, rebellion and drugs.

The National Council has had meaningful programs since its existence in Howard County with programs that benefit the community.

Mrs. Celonia Walden is president of the Council, and program coordinator is Roberta Briscal.

Ms. Ethel B. Hill formally declared her candidacy for the Howard County School Board Friday, February 29, 1980.

Ms. Hill stated that one of the major issues she will be focusing upon in her 1980 campaign will be the need for the school board to take immediate action aimed at ridding the county's public schools of drugs.

"In my 1978 campaign, I advocated the need to address this problem and few people felt compelled to listen. Having been approached by parents in the elementary through high school levels, there is no question that this issue is the number one nuisance in our county schools."

Ms. Hill aso stated that she intends to focus upon the school board's approach to development of its budget policies. "The public school system currently spends more than fifty percent of our county's tax dollars, and the board cannot ignore the necessity for developing effective common sense fiscal policies.

Given the current resources, there is no reason why all of the children in this county cannot receive the basic information and tools necessary to receive a first rate quality education."

If Ms. Hill is elected, she will be the first black in the history of Howard County to ever hold that seat on the school board.

Ms. Hill is a resident of Columbia, and has been active in a wide variety of county activities, including president, Wilde Lake Middle School-PTA; chairman, Wilde Lake Village Board; and member, Howard County Citizens Task Force on Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice.

Ms. Hill is an EO Specialist in the Office for Civic Rights and Equal Opportunity, Social Security Administration.

Hints For Homemakers/Inez Kaiser

Parents puzzled by toothpaste taste

DEAR INEZ: Our only child is an active four-year-old boy. We realize it is important for him to brush his teeth daily even at this early age in order to avoid cavities. However, he doesn't like the taste of our toothpaste, and so he refuses to brush his teeth. Can you recommend a brand he might like that would still be good for his teeth? PUZZLED PARENTS

DEAR PUZZLED PARENTS: You are not the only parents with a child who can't stand the taste of the family's regular toothpaste. So just relax because there's an easy solution at hand.

Be glad that your son is growing up during a time when he can actually enjoy brushing his teeth with AIM toothpaste. AIM is a blue-gel toothpaste with a taste that children love—so brushing becomes a pleasant experience for them. They surely didn't have gel toothpastes when we were growing up!

Before you realize it, your son is liable to be brushing his teeth longer and more frequently once he starts using AIM toothpaste. Yes, AIM has the good taste that children like.

What's more, AIM contains fluoride which helps prevent cavities. In fact, clinical tests have proven that the leading toothpastes do not prevent tooth decay better than AIM.

Because of its cavity-fighting effectiveness, the Council on Dental Therapeutics of the American Dental Association has recognized AIM as an "effective decay-preventive dentifrice." This special recognition from such a highly esteemed dental group says it all for AIM.

Also, remember to take your son for dental check-ups regularly. Be sure he uses a toothbrush for children with soft end-rounded bristles.

But most of all, to help fight cavities, use a fluoride toothpaste like AIM. It has the taste kids like.

WHY USE A FABRIC SOFTENER?

PEOPLE OFTEN ASK ME: "Inez, why should I use a fabric softener? Isn't it just another extra step that adds to the time it takes to do the laundry."

It is true that adding fabric softener for some people is another step in doing the laundry. However, the most important consideration is that fabric softeners help provide a clean, white wash and also give washable fabrics a soft, appealing fluffiness.

And, if you use FINAL TOUCH, it softens your clothing and whitens them, too. What a time-saver!

FINAL TOUCH fabric softener also helps minimize wrinkling, makes ironing easier, and reduces static electricity. These benefits are all in addition to the whitening benefits which are not produced by some fabric-softener pads you toss in the dryer.

FINAL TOUCH whitens as it softens for it contains bluing for whiteness. It's one easy step to softer, fluffier fabrics!

HOW TO GET A SOFT, SMOOTH COMPLEXION

HAVE WINTER WINDS left your skin dry, scaly, rough or chapped? If your answer is "yes," then it's time to start pampering your skin and stop using soap.

Soap dries your skin by stripping away much of its natural moisture. Instead, start using DOVE beauty bar.

DOVE is not a soap. It's a mild cleansing bar that contains one-quarter moisturizing cream and is effective whether your skin is dry, oily or normal. DOVE helps keep your skin soft while it cleanses.

DOVE beauty bar will not irritate problem skin. In just seven days DOVE will help give your skin a softer and smoother feel. DOVE helps eliminate the dry, tight "wintery" feeling of your skin.

After using DOVE for a week, you will see and feel the difference in your face. You can greet another spring season with the assurance of having a softer, smoother complexion when you wash with DOVE.
