Talmira Hill named outstanding female participant for Md.

TALMIRA LISA HILL

Talmira Lisa Hill was named the 1980 outstanding female participant for the State of Maryland at the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation—Maryland Leadership Seminar, held at the International Hotel near Baltimore-Washington International Airport, March 21, 22, and 23, 1980.

Some 144 sophomores representing high schools from across the State of Maryland and including the District of Columbia, were participants in this purposeful event.

They were enabled, in a dynamic setting, to interface and interact with recognized local, state, and national leaders of business, education, the arts, government, and the professions, to gain a better understanding of the problems, frustrations, challenges, and rewards existing in today's world.

"America's Incentive System" was the 1980 State Seminar theme.

Planning, coordinating, and guiding this project was the Maryland Jaycees Organization, spearheaded by the Severna Park Chapter.

In addition to the above indicated, objectives of this state leadership seminar are: (1) to present to a cross-section of Maryland youth a better understanding of our economic system and the rewards which can be gained —both for the individual and for society as a whole and, (2) to allow young people a better appreciation of the business world so that they may share the experience with others in their own communities.

The high school sophomores chosen to represent their respective schools were selected using the following criteria: (1) emerging leadership ability, (2) ability to work well with others, (3) desire for new pursuits, and (4) willingness to learn and share with others.

Randallstown's Talmira Hill, as the seminar's outstanding female, thus becomes Maryland's Female Ambassador to the 1980 International Leadership Seminar, Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation, to be held July 1980 in Los Angeles, California.

Royce Anthony Wells, from Good Counsel High, Wheaton, Maryland, is the Free State's Male Ambassador.

An amicable, enthusiastic, and resourceful young lady is Talmira Hill of Randallstown High School. One finds the tall, attractive teenager energetic, expressive, and mature of thought for her sixteen years.

She believes that learning and growth are possible, and life more vital only through involvement. Her credits include:

—President Sophomore Class, Randallstown High School;

—recent past president, Student Council, Deer Park Junior High School;

Vulcan Blazers anniversary fete airs struggle and victory

VULCAN BLAZER HONOREES who received recognition at the 10th Anniversary Celebration of the Vulcan Blazers, Inc., held at their clubhouse on Park Circle Drive on Sunday, April 20 are (L to R): Alphonso Thornton, Clyde J. Smith, Father Donald O. Wilson, Dr. Edward O. Hunt, Mrs. Clara S. Thomas, Konstantine Prevas, the Rev. Sidney Daniels, Mrs. Barbara Smith, Herman Williams and Walter Slowe. Not pictured but honored also is Mrs. Beverly Reynolds, wife of Vulcan Blazer president, Arnold C. Reynolds.

The Vulcan Blazers, Inc., that club of black firefighters which has for 12 years dedicated itself to uplifting blacks in the Baltimore City Fire Department and to getting other blacks into the Dept., held its 10th Anniversary celebration on Sunday, April 20, at the Vulcan Blazer Clubhouse, 2811 Druid Park Drive.

Presiding at the program, which got underway at 5 p.m. was Arnold C. Reynolds, president.

Following the National Anthem, done by the assemblage and the Black National Anthem by Brother Titus Sprately, the invocation was given by Father Donald O. Wilson, and the welcome by Brother John R. Johnson.

Honored during the affair were several people who have either served as firefighters andor members of the Vulcan Blazers and other citizens who have been of great help to the black firefighters in Baltimore.

Also cited and given certificates were 37 men who have 25 years of service with the Baltimore Fire Dept.

Honorees were: Past Vulcan Blazer president Alphonso Thornton and captain with the Fire Dept.; Konstantine Prevas, who along with first black fire commissioner Rev. Marion Bascom, helped pave the way for better conditions and greater opportunities for black firefighters in the Baltimore City Fire Dept.; Father Donald O. Wilson who has served as chaplain for the Fire Dept. since 1977;

Also, the Rev. Sidney Daniels of Emanuel Christian Community Church, who was the first black chaplain and who served in 1970; Herman Williams, who moved up in the ranks from lieutenant to battalion chief and was the first black pump operator, and who is now with the Dept. of Public Works; Dr. Edward O. Hunt, first black physician appointed to the Baltimore City Fire Dept. and is now chief physician of the dept.

Honored also were Paul Carter and Walter Slowe, who helped the Vulcan Blazers immensely with finances and with communication; donating hours of free printing, including services and materials; Mrs. Clara Thomas and Mrs. Beverly Reynolds, wives of former and present presidents of the Vulcan Blazers; and Mrs. Barbara Smith, wife of Brother Clyde Smith and president of "Wives of Firefighters" who received a plaque of gratitude from the club for her group.

Most honorees received lovely plaques; some received certificates of award:

In responding to their honors, most honorees spoke of the hardships that black firefighters have suffered in the department as a result of racism, which is still ever present, but most conceded that things are much better than the days of a quarter of a century ago when the black men were subjected to blatant racism —separate beds, toilets, the silent treatment, lack of promotions and the like.

The general consensus was that though black firefighters have made much progress, there is still a long way to go for true equal treatment.

The Rev. Sidney Daniels, who in the absence of the Rev. Marion C. Bascom, gave keynote remarks. He admonished the Vulcan Blazers and all concerned: "The way is not always easy, but keep up the struggle. Don't forget others who are struggling though you may have achieved higher goals and moved into the middle or upper class." He spoke of the struggle of our black ancestors and their achievements and reminded us that we should encourage our youth to stay in school, study, learn a skill and don't give up because it is hard. He stated: "Do not become a part of the problem —be a part of the solution. Prepare yourself — be ready — keep on struggling."

Firefighters who were honored for having endured the struggle and who have logged 25 years of service with the Dept. were: David A. Echols, Lawrence Bynum, James H. Chambers, Littleton B. Wyatt, John T. Murray, Paul Britton, William Nesbit Jr., Richard H. Mason Sr., Frank M. Johnson and James W. McCoy;

Also, Matthews Goodwyn, James H. Beverly, Dennis Doda, Edward R. Bunch, James L. Edwards, Charles R. Thomas, Francis R. Handy, Johnny L. Buckson, Calvin C. Campbell and Thomas L. Carroll;
