$19 mi[illegible]lion Holm[illegible]es-Ali fight [illegible]t planned in Cairo

CAIRO (UPI) — Th[illegible] newspaper Al Ahram said Tuesday it wi[illegible] organize a $19 millio[illegible] world heavyweight titl[illegible] fight betwee[illegible] Muhammad Ali and the reigning WBC champio[illegible] Larry Holmes in Cairo i[illegible] October.

A contract will b[illegible] signed by Al Ahram' board chairman Ab[illegible]dullah el-Bari and New York promoter Don King, the newspape[illegible] said.

According to the [illegible]paper, the title fight wil[illegible] be held in the first week of October as part of celebrations marking the anniversary of what Egypt considers its victory in the October 1973 Middle East War. The American organizers have allocated $19 million for the fight, the newspaper said, with Ali getting $8.5 million and Holmes $7.5 million.

The newspaper said it was Ali who chose Cairo as the site of the fight "be[illegible]cause Egypt is the lea[illegible]der of Africa and the Ara[illegible]b world and the cap[illegible]ital of Islam."

A[illegible]i, 38, retired from the ring last year. He was trai[illegible]ning for a comeback against [illegible]ohn Tate, but the [illegible]merican heavyw[illegible]ight unexpectedly crown to [illegible]lost his WBA [illegible] Mike Weaver.

The n[illegible]wspaper said income [illegible]rom the Cairo fight is expected to top $30 million "said Egypt will get a good share that will be devoted to charity and sports."

President Anwar Sadat has shown great interest in the fight, according to the newspaper, and instructed Al Ahram to "stage 17 in a historic manner that will do honor to Egypt and its cultural heritage."

Rod Carew
he still gets a thrill

11 All-Star games don't bore Carew

California first baseman Rod Carew says no matter how many times he is named to the All-Star team, It will still be a big thrill for him.

In addition, Carew says being the top vote-getter gives him that "extra good feeling" about being selected.

Carew was chosen by the fans to start for the American League at first base in the game, to be played July 8 in Los Angeles. It was the 11th time Carew was selected and the fourth time the 34-year-old infielder has been the top vote-getter in the American League.

Carew denies he was ever thinking about not participating in this year's All-Star game. He says he only had doubts about playing one season.

"I intend to play," Carew declares. "The only time I had any problems was when my wife was expecting."

Few blacks among All-Star starters

By Sam Lacy

Tuesday night's Major League All Star baseball game will find the smallest number of black players in the starting lineups in several years.

Although Rod Carew held his own by being elected for the 11th time, the opening lineups at Dodger Stadium, Los Angeles, will include a total of five black stars.

This is one less than were voted to starting berths a year ago.

In addition to the California Angels first baseman, the American League team will have Reggie Jackson of the Yankees and, possibly; Al Bumbrey of the Orioles in the outfield for three on its side.

The National League will have but two starters, both in the outfield. They will be Dave Parker of the Pirates, and Reggie Smith of the Dodgers.

Last year, Parker, Smith and Cincinnati's George Foster started for the NL, and Jackson, Milwaukee's Cecil Cooper and Boston's Jim Rice opened for the AL.

Carew was the top vote-getter last year but could not play because of an injury. Cooper replaced him.

Injuries will remove some of the position leaders again this time. That accounts for the Bumbry possibility.

The Orioles' centerfielder finished fifth in the voting, but may move up since the third and fourth selections — Rice and Milwaukees' Ben Ogilvie — are hurt and won't play.

While there are few starters for this year's contest, there were a large number of near misses.

Baltimore's Eddie Murray was fourth among first basemen in the AL, and the Yankees' Willie Randolph and KC's Frank White were third and fourth among second basemen.

In the NL, Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell was second at first base, San Diegos' Dave Cash was fourth at second base, the Cardinals' Garry Templeton was third at shortstop, and the Dodgers' Dusty Baker was fourth in the outfield voting which found Montreal's Ron LeFlore sixth, and San Diego's Dave Winfield eighth.

Willie's adios

The National League announced Monday that San Francisco's Willie McCovey, who has announced his retirement effective two days later, has accepted an invitation of league president Chub Feeney to be a guest in his box at the All-Star game in Los

Pseudo medals OK'd

The House of Representatives has given approval of a bill to award medals to the 650 members of the U.S. Summer Olympic team.

The House had virtually passed the measure by an apparently unanimous voice vote on Monday when it switched to a recorded vote proposal. This delayed passage briefly because of an agreement that no recorded votes would be taken Monday.

The bill authorizes obtaining the 650 gold-plated medals for up to $50,000 for presentation to the Olympic team in a Washington ceremony planned for July 30.

The medals are awards for winning places on the team and are not intended as replacements for medals the athletes might have won if the United States were not boycotting the summer games in Moscow, Rep. Bruce Vento, D-Minn., said.

By the Way

By Joe Black

Time has a way of sneaking up on us and before we know it, it is D-Day. This time D-Day is the U.S. census count that will take place in 1980.

Somewhere, somehow, Black and other minorities have acquired the notion that we are "beating" the man when we fail to tell the truth when asked how many people reside in our house or apartment. I don't know the reasoning behind this conjecture, but I am going to state some facts and then let you decide who really loses when we cheat the census count.

Fact 1. Population totals are used to determine how many representatives from each state will go to Congress. (I know that we are not satisfied with only sixteen Black Congressmen.)

Fact 2. Revenue sharing allocations by the Federal Government are apportioned annually on the basis of the local and state population. (This has a direct bearing on food stamp programs, work incentive programs, CETA, child nutrition act, etc.)

Fact 3. Should you lose your birth certificate and not have a way to document your birth, the age search branch of the U.S. Census Bureau can provide proof from your census record. This document is accepted as a substitute birth certificate by all federal and state agencies.
