During the weekend of June 20-22 members of the National Association of Negro Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. (NANBPW) gathered here at the downtown Hilton Hotel for their Mid-Atlantic District Conference.

The very timely theme for the conference was 'Lost in America, Where Is the Family.'

300 members of the Baltimore (host) club and members representing clubs from Virginia, Washington, D.C., Delaware, Pennsylvania and New Jersey registered on Friday evening, ware, Pennsylvania and New Jersey registered on Friday evening, June 20 and held a briefing session and committee meetings.

Highlight of the evening was the hospitality hour, during which members greeted old friends and had an enjoyable time socializing.

Saturday, June 21 was the intensively active day. There was the conducting of workshops during the morning and late afternoon, during which the curcial issue of what to do to strengthen and revitalize family life in America was discussed, with capable workshop leaders, presenters, recorders and supporting teams.

Keynote address at the Saturday morning session was delivered by Dr. Elizabeth Fran Johnson, director, Division Consumer Education, who brought creative and dynamic ideas on the conference theme.

Saturday highlights were the lucheon, held in the Francis Scott Key Room of the hotel, and later in the evening a luau, sponsored by the Baltimore (host) club, at which guests enjoyed delectables, a fashion show, card playing and dancing.

Presiding at the luncheon was Mrs. Rosalie McGuire, chairperson of the event, who also gave the welcome and the conference theme.

A special treat of the luncheon was Mrs. Mary West Miller, who did dramatic readings which were very well received.

Miss Margaret Lindsay, bell-toned soprano, also added a special dimension to the occasion with two solos.

Mrs. Rosemary Atkinson, Mayor's representative and director of Lower Park Heights Multi-Purpose Center, presented a citation from Mayor Schaefer to Mrs. Candaoe Daisey, governor, Mid-Atlantic District NANBPW.

The AFRO-AMERICAN Newspapers recognized Governor Daisey, along with Mrs. Josephine Lowery, vice governor and Mrs. edith Thomas, president of the Baltimore Club, for their fine leadership in NANBPW, and pledged Certificates of Appreciation to them from the AFRO.

Head table guests at the luncheon received lovely miniature silver bowls and key chains. Members and guests won many delightful door prizes and there were favors for all on the tables.

The District Conference provides an opportunity for members of the local club to come together with members of other clubs for an interchange of information on the national and local programs.

Members share skills, training and experiences and assist each other in developing methods, techniques, new insights for improving the organization on all levels.

The conferences tend to unite sister chapters as well as the national organization.

Workshops on the conference theme included 'Socio-Economic Search for the Family, led by Dr. Yvonne Chappelle; 'Genetic Engineering and its Effect on the Family', led by Dr. Vera I. Wilson; 'Building Self-Esteem', led by Mrs. Marolyn Randolph and 'Non-Stablized Family-Its Effect on Youth', led by Mrs. Julia Boyce.

Chairperson for one conference was Mrs. Rosalie McGuire.

The Baltimore Chapter is very pleased to announce that Mrs. Shirley T. Hill, president of the local chapter, will receive Jack and Jill of America's National Meritorious Achievement Award at the National Convention to be held in July, 1980, in Houston, Texas.

Mrs. Hill, along with Mrs. Judith Neale, vice president, will represent the Baltimore Chapter at the convention.

Plans for the chapter's Bull Roast to be held March 22, 1981 at Martin's West were also discussed and refresbments were served before the meeting was adjourned for the season — with activities to be resumed in September.

Surprise 60th Birthday Party

Mrs. Anna Tolliver was feted recently at a surprise birthday dinner given in her honor by her daughter and son-in-law Pat and Warren Renwick, of this city.

The birthday fete was hosted at Shane's Restaurant, 1924 York Rd., Timonium, Md.

It was Mrs. Tolliver's 60th birthday and she was surprised and overcome with emotion, crying tears of joy upon seeing her family and friends all waiting in the Persian Room at Shan's to celebrate with her.

Invocation was done by Marvin Kornegay.

Honoree and guests enjoyed a delicious dinner, replete with dessert and beverages.

Highlights were a singing birthday message done by the Singing Telegram Group of Maryland and a champagne toast given by her daughter, Pat, toast which extolled Mrs. Tolliver's motherly virtues of love, patience and understanding.

Mrs. Tolliver has a twin sister, Mrs. R. Kornegay, who was a guest at the party, but the honoree stated that this celebration was the first time she had had a birthday celebration just for herself.

Remarks of congratulations were given by William Tolliver and by the Rev. Dr. Theodore C. Jackson Jr., guest, and pastor of Gillis Memorial Church.

Other guests included Dr. Sharon C. Hudson, Mesdames Fannie Watkins, (Mrs. Tolliver's 86 year old mother), Catherine Tiller, A. Westry, Bessie Parham and son and Mattie Renwick;

Also Messrs. and Mesdames Ralph Hudson, Marvin Kornegay, Wadell Watkins, Percy Watkins, Miss Jean Dukes, Mrs. Hallie Maynor and Miss Valerie P. Price and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Price Jr., of Washington, D.C.

BALTIMORE LINKS AWARD $500 SCHOLARSHIP — Kevin Gallop (second from L), Georgetown University student, proudly receives Links' Scholarship Award for the second year. Presenting from (L to R) are: Ruth M. Glenn, newly elected president Baltimore Chapter of Links; Vera Hayes, outgoing president and Robbie Chissell, chairwoman of Services to Youth Committee of the Links.

HONOREE AND GUESTS — Pictured at the surprise birthday dinner and champagne toast given for Mrs. Anna Tolliver in honor of her 60th birthday by her daughter and son-in-law Patricia and Warren Renwick are (L to R): Mrs. Tolliver, honoree; Warren Renwick, William Tolliver, honoree's husband; Mrs. Patricia Renwick, honoree's daughter and the Rev. Dr. Theodore C. Jackson Jr., pastor of Gillis Memorial Community Church.

Kevin Gallop wins second Links' scholarship award

For the second successive year Kevin Gallop has been the recipient of the Baltimore Chapter of Links scholarship award. Mr. Gallop has successfully completed his freshman year at Georgetown University as a foreign language major.

The Services to Youth Committee of Links, chaired by Link Robbie Chessell, initiated as part of its program, the establishment of a chapter annual scholarship to be awarded to a deserving student.

In 1979 Kevin Gallop, an honor graduate of Patterson High School, was the first scholarship recipient, having been recommended by his counselor, Mrs. Alicia Stark unanimously selected by Links to receive a five hundred dollar award because of his academic success at Georgetown University.

As a student, Mr. Gallop has been employed on campus, and despite the financial demands on him and his family he has been able to maintain a creditable academic record.

The Baltimore Chapter of Links was proud to have been able to assist and to encourage such a worthy young man.

This project was undertaken during the presidency of Link Vera

Columbia AKAs announce scholarship awards

By Pinnie L. Ross

The Columbia Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority has awarded $500 scholarships to two Columbia area women.

Angela Stevens, a resident of Columbia and a sophomore at Hampton Institute, Hampton, Virginia, will use her scholarship to continue her studies in gerontology. Ms. Stevens is a 1979 graduate of Oakland Mills High School

Whiie at Oakland Mills, she was appointed to the 1978-79 Special Education Textbook Review Committee by the Howard County Board of Education.

She is chairperson of the Hampton Student Affairs Committee, vice president of the Youth NAACP and a member of the Hampton NAACP.

Oakland Mills High graduate, Lisa Winston, also of the Class of 1979, is the recipient of the second $500 scholarship.

Ms. Winston, a sophomore at Howard University, Washington, D.C., is interested in medicine and plans to become a. pediatrician.

She is a former member of the Howard County Council for Children and Youth and received a first year cheerleading award at Howard where she was captain of the Junior Varsity Cheerleading Squad.

The Columbia Chapter of AKAs has established two other scholarship funds at several Maryland State colleges.

Awards for scholastic achievement for undergraduate AKA sorors will be awarded at Morgan State University, Coppin State College, the University of Maryland at Baltimore County, and Towson State University.

Three separate awards will be given to three undergraduate sorors at each of the above institutions who attain the highest grade point average in their chapter for the first semester of each year. In order to qualify the undergraduates must be carrying a minimum of 15 semester hours.

The other financial assistance program is a student revolving fund at Morgan State University and Coppin State College to provide emergency financial assistance for students. Each school will receive $250.

These funds will be available to both female and male students who are Howard County residents. The maximum amount a student may borrow at any given time is $50.

Previous loans must be repaid before additional money can be borrowed. The financial aid department at each school will be responsible for administering the loans.

AKA is a national organization of predominantly black college - educated women. It was established in 1908 and is committed to the value of education, the perpetuation of high ideals and standards and to the service of others.

The Columbia Chapter has been awarding scholarships to Howard County residents since 1974 and will continue to make such awards on an annual basis.

For additional information, contact: Mrs. M. N. Keller, chairman of the scholarship committee, at 730-8453 after 6 p.m., Wednesdays.

Miss Inner City Teen contestants ready for pageant

The "Miss Inner City Teen" Beauty and Talent Pageant is being held on Sunday, July 20th from 2 to 5 p.m. in Baltimore's New Convention Center.

Now in it's fifth year, the pageant is bigger and better than ever. Come out and show your support for the most beautiful and talented young women in our city.

The winner and first runner - up will receive college scholarships as prizes. Tickets for the competition, dazzling talent display and dinner may be obtained by calling 225 - 7100.

The pageant is sponsored by Urban Services' Youth Development Program.

All Saints Catholic Church, Liberty Heights Avenue, was filled to capacity recently for the double ring wedding ceremony of attorney Lewyn Scott Garrett and Joyce Ann Jackson.

The Revs. Robert Waznak and Ronald Belschner performed the rites.

Rep. Parren J. Mitchell, D-7th, presented a reading of "The First Prayer," taken from "The Song of Songs, 2:8-10." Juanita Jackson Mitchell, attorney, gave a moving reading of "The Second Prayer," taken from 1 Corinthians 12:31.

The All Saints Choir, under the direction of William Cummings and Velma Jones, assistant director, presented a concert of songs throughout the ceremony. Soloists included Walter Dyson, Sarah Garrett and William Cummings.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, William E. Jackson, was attired in a white silk gown with a V-neckline of old-fashioned lace intermingled with pearls. The veil of lace and pearls formed a floor-length train.

The color motif was light blue. An arch of blue carnations decorated the entrance to the aisle.

The wedding party of 16 were attired in pastel blue, the bridesmaids in pale blue gowns with matching wide brimmed hats trimmed in satin ribbons.

Sarah Garret, sister of the bridegroom and a senior at the University of Maryland School of Law, was maid of honor and one of the soloists. Best man was attorney James Bentley, cousin of the bridegroom.

Bridesmaids included Harriet Garrett Warren, Barbara Garrett, Doris Cook, LaVada Mason, Charlene Clagett and Sharon Brown.

Groomsmen included Raymond Jackson, Oliver McKay, Keith Dorsey, Russell Harrison, Edward Daniels and Gavin Johnson.

Jenelle Jackson, sister of the bride dressed in a light blue dress of silk with rayon lace, was flower girl.

Carlos Dunmoodie Jr. was ring bearer.

Attendants were Haysesworth Garrett Jr. and Roosevelt Warren.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Mary E. Jackson wore a chiffon gown.

Parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Garrett, carried out the powder blue motif. Mrs. Garrett wore a pleated lacy nylon gown and the accessories on the bridegroom's father's tuxedo were blue.

A reception was held at Pascal's, Druid Park Drive, following the wedding. The club was decorated in blue and white with a large wedding cake.

Caterers of C. Reginald Bennett and Lillian Bennett served dinner and hors d'oeuvres, fruit and cold food buffets were available as were champagne and an open bar.

The Bill Cummings Combo provided music.

Highlighting the reception was an original musical flute selection and song composed by the bridegroom to his bride. It was performed by him with the accompaniment of Edward Jackson at the piano and Sarah Garrett. The song was arranged by the trio and David Garrett.

The bridegroom is a member of the law firm of Mitchell, Mitchell and Mitchell. The bride attended the University of Maryland and is now a senior at Coppin State College school of nursing.

After a honeymoon to Saint Thomas, Virgin Islands, the couple will reside in the Elderon Avenue home purchased by the bridegroom as a gift to his bride.

Among the many political leaders and guests present were: Clarence Mitchell Jr., recent recipient of President Carter's Freedom Award; Rep. Parren J. Mitchell, Juanita Jackson Mitchell, Judges Robert Bell, Solomon Baylor and Neal Janey; attorneys William "Billy" Murphy, Edward Smith, Eljah Cummings, David Young, Blaine White, James Wiggins, Michael Lee and other members of the Monumental City Bar Association; attorney and City Councilman Michael Mitchell; Delegates Troy Brailey, Larry Young and Walter Dean; Councilman Norman V.A. Reeves; Mr. and Mrs. John W. White; Marshall Bright; Mr. and Mrs. Al Joyner; Dr. and Mrs. George LaNoue and Dr. Charles Griffin.

Relatives and friends from out of town included Jean Garrett, Keigh Garrett, Thomas Garrett Jr., all from Dillwyn, Va.; Natalie George, St. Thomas, Virgin Islands; attorney Marcellus Jackson, Denver, Col, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Miles and family from Wilmington, Del.

Paul F. Scott feted at lavish retirement banquet

HONOREE AND FAMILY — Paul F. Scott, (far R) is pictured during the banquet hosted in honor of his retirement with (L to R), his wife Roberta (Bobbie), son Michael 11; and (center front) son Jonathan, 6. The affair, held at the Forum on Friday, June 13, was attended by more than 400 people.

On Friday, June 13, Paul F. Scott was honored at a retirment banquet hosted at the Forum, Primrose Ave.

It was a joyous event attended by 431 guests and family members — people who have known Paul and who love him for his exemplary qualities as a man and as a 'people' person.

A teacher and principal in Baltimore County for 30 years, Mr. Scott has worked at Fleming, Hillendale and Wellwood Elementary Schools, at the Turner Child Development Center and for the past 12 years has served as principal of Timber Grove Elementary School in Owings Mills, Md.

He has received numerous awards for participating in community activities. These included The Jaycees and Optimist Clubs, Reistertown, Md.; Boy and Girl Scouts and the Owings Mills Recreation Council (local newspapers featured articles about this). He also received the Channel 13 Salute.

He speaks with great pride and love for his work as a Sunday School teacher and chairman of the Stewart Board of Douglas Memorial Community Church.

During the last few weeks of school Mr. Scott received many local honors. He was guest speker for the Awards Assembly of the Franklin Senior High School's 1980 graduating class. At Timber Grove, each class paid tribute to him through poetry, song, flowers and other acts of kindness.

An evergreen tree was planted outside the Timber Grove school and a gold plaque and an oil portrait of him have been placed in the school foyer — all in his honor.

At the banquet, which was attended by former students, teachers, principals, superintendents, school board members, local and out-of-town friends and relatives, Mr. Scott was lauded and applauded by a host of people whose lives he has touched and was presented with many gifts.

He received a camping scholarship to Camp Farthest Out, owned and operated by Douglas Memorial Church, named in his honor, a sound movie camera and projector, reels of film depicting the activities held at the school for him several weeks prior to the banquet, as well as movies of the banquet itself.

Mr. Scott is the youngest of 11 children. He is married to Roberta Woodlon Scott (Bobbie), media specilist, Woodlawn Middle School, Baltimore County.

He has four children: Sandra Scott Days, media specialist in Motgomery County; Paul F. Scott Jr., principal in Montgomery County, (and currently working on his Ph. D. Degree at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo.; Michael P. Scott, age 11, and Jonathan J. Scott, age 6. He has seven grandchildren.

His four sisters are Mrs. Cornelia Davis, East Orange, N.J.; Mrs. Pearl Ferguson, Baltimore; Mrs. Louise Mosely, Marriottsville, Md. and Mrs. Lucy Ligams, Orange, N.J.

Reminiscing about the past 12 years at Timber Grove, Mr. Scott said, "It has been rewarding for me to work in a school where the staff and the community were keenly interested and professionally excited about education.

"There are few elements that run as consistently through the history of the United States as the faith of our people in the efficacy of education."

"Quite often, the firmness of that faith has not always been matched by the vigor of our works. However, I can say without any equivocation that the Timber Grove family has been willing to match its faith in education by the vigor of its works."

When asked why he was leaving a school and community he was so obviously proud of, the reply was, "I believe that each man who asks more of the world must face the corresponding rise in what the world now expects of him. Those to whom much is given, much is required."
