Her pearl headpiece had a cathedral veil of embroidered Alencon lace dollies. The dress and headpiece were designed by Phyllis of Bianchi.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Yvonne Coates, wore a blue silk organza gown with a double ruffle V-neck with a flounce.

Barbara Curtis, maid of honor, wore a matching gown of pastel blue.

Bridesmaids were were Robinette Walker and Deborah Claiborne who also wore pale blue.

Flower girl Lisa Nixon wore a baby blue dress trimmed with ruffles and white lace.

Edward Smoot, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Robert Acree, Leonard Baskerville, John Coates, Ronald Curtis and Carlton Gillis.

Katie Groves was organist and soloists were Marjorie Kearse and Ethel Myers.

The reception immediately following the wedding was held at Millbrook Park Center and was catered by Joseph Bell, formerly of Rhueleld Caterers.

Music was provided by Abe Riley.

After a honeymoon trip in the Poconos, the couple is at home on Windsor Avenue.

The bride was honored at a shower by Mr. Esther Morris prior to the wedding

Miss Sandra Opher weds Lance Corporal Talley

The marriage of Sandra Lorraine Opher, daughter of Mrs. Lorraine Hortense Boone Reynolds, of Baltimore, Md., and Albert William Opher Jr., of Cornwell Heights, Pa., to Kenneth Eugene Talley of Baltimore, son of the late Frank Talley and Mrs. Mary Talley of Baltimore, took place June 7th at New Shiloh Baptist Church in Baltimore.

The Rev. Vincent Thompson performed the ceremony. A reception was held at Martin's West.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Opher was attended by Sherree Corde' Opher, sister of the bride, as maid of honor. Jacklynt Talley, Laurie Spencer, Delores Powell, Robin Scott and Regina Dawson were bridesmaids.

The bride was a vision of beauty in gown of tulle chiffon and Chantilly lace in patterns of six-pointed stars.

The high neck and high waist bodice was made of clusters of lace pattern stars over swiss dotted net with seeded pearls in each lace design.

Small cape sleeves covered the upper arms and the circular skirt fell in lovely folds in front with cascading folds in a three foot trailing train.

The bridal veil with a trailing train of nylon net was held in place by a crown of capped lace studded with seeded pearls. The veil was trimmed with a border of Chantilly lace from the capped crown to and around the trailing train.

She wore handless pointed Chantilly lace gloves with seeded pearls in each six-pointed star design.

Anthony Harris was best man. Bernard Talley, Leon Talley, Keith Garrett, Gregory Jenkins and Blair Penacle were ushers.

Albert William Opher III, brother of the bride, was the ringbearer and Monique Straughn was flowergirl.

After his tour of duty, Lance Corporal Talley presently stationed at Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, N.C. and Mrs. Talley will reside in Baltimore.

Out-of-town guests were from North Carolina, Virginia, District of Columbia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and New York.

NEWLY MARRIED — Lance Corporal and Mrs. Kenneth Eugene Talley pose happily following their recent wedding held at the New Shiloh Baptist Church, Fremont Avenue and Lanvale Street. The bride is the former Sandra Lorraine Opher.

'School's Out' Disco

School's out. This was the case for jubilation expressed by cousins Mark Tutman, 13, and Darolyn Milburn, 12, as they hosted their first disco dance.

The gala affair was held on Friday June 20 at the Kappa House, 4903 Liberty Heights Ave.

Many of their friends showed up for the event to express the same sentiment school's out, everyone passed and they all deserved a break.

What better way to break away, than to disco the night away, or at least until 11 p.m., with unending music, and, of course, refreshments, compliments of hosts' and hostess' parents.

The youngsters are that peculiar age where they sort of like each other, but on the other hand, it's difficult to break the ice. But as the evening wore on, the young men and young ladies came out of their corners and delightfully contorted those little bodies in unimaginable ways, gracefully and rhythmically.

Guests were: Roddie Hart, Jesse Edwards, Frankie Savage, Ricky Edwards, Kevin McGill, Reuben and Jackie Scribner, Rhonda Pompeii, Lance and Rodney Fitzhugh, Kevin Watson, Aaron Moore, Robert Grider, Bo Ligons, Paul Gant, Jackie Brown, Dennis Dillard;

Also, Lisa and Melanie Byrd, April Ryan, Lee Golden, Shadana Stevenson, Tessa Bacon, Curtisha Wilson, Nicole Benton, Pamela Bullock, Karen Wilbourne, Shawanda Harrison, Eric Freeman, Augustus Padgent, Jason Tutman, Sharonda Milburn, Michele Cofield and Jenifer Seribner.

MARK TUTMAN cuts a few disco steps during the 'School's Out' party which he co-hosted, along with his cousin Carolyn Milburn, at the Kappa House, Liberty Hts. Avenue on June 20.

Introducing Blue Cross "Catastrophic" Protection.

The fight for life can be a very expensive battle. Maryland Blue Cross' Catastrophic Protection is designed to supplement your existing basic and major medical health care coverage (but not replace it) when that coverage is overwhelmed by severe long-term medical expenses.

The program, available for enrollment from July 14 through August 15, provides up to $1 million in extra lifetime protection per member for medically necessary health care. Benefits are available after a $50,000 deductible has been met within any consecutive 12-month period. Once $50,000 in covered expenses has been incurred, benefits of up to $250,000 will be available for the next 24 months for covered expenses not paid by another program of health care cost protection.

Once one benefit period has expired, a new one can begin, subject to a new deductible. Each member is eligible for a lifetime maximum of $1 million in protection.

The Annual cost for this coverage is $15.96 ($1.33 monthly) for an individual, $21.36 ($1.78 monthly) for parent and child, $25.92 ($2.16 monthly) for husband and wife, and $34.08 ($2.84 monthly) for family. All residents of Maryland are eligible, regardless of their age or state of health or whether they currently are members of Blue Cross. But remember, this special program is not a substitute for realistic basic and major medical health care protection. You should be sure you have coverage to help you meet the $50,000 deductible.

There is a nine-month waiting period for benefits if you have any condition, disease, ailment or injury which exists on or before the program's effective date.
