Rufus G. Langston Jr.

Interior Designer Extra-ordinaire

RUFUS G. LANGSTON JR. is busy dreaming up a design. Langston is one of Baltimore's talented interior designers.

Rufus G. Langston Jr. is a superb interior designer. Langston is a former art major at Morgan University and an Interior Design major at the Md. Institute of Art who has also taken courses at the Chicago School of Interior Design.

He has a creative and well-rounded background in residential and contract design and an open knowledge of designer's and manufacturer's sources.

He is also highly effective and competent in business procedures and well-trained and mature in designer-client relationships.

Langston is truly knowledgeable of commercial open space and office planning and a specialist in hotel-motel requirements, artistically capable of creating color renderings and presentation boards.

He is a creative producer of original graphic designs, has abundant knowledge of past and present furniture styles, a keen awareness of today's trends in decorating and the ability to design and excute custom made furnishings.

Give him a home — a store — a restaurant — a hotel lobby — just give Langston a setting — with his expertise, he will turn it into a dream come true.

Give him your own ideas for decorating your place. He will help you carry them out to your utmost satisfaction.

Langston has to his credit a string of work experiences in interior design and an impressive list of interior design projects that he engineered and completed.

Among them are: Chevron Asphalt Co.—Lobby— 1955 Chesapeake Avenue, Baltimore, Md. YMCA — Lobby, 808 King Street, Wilmington, Del.; Model House For Washington Hill Homes, Fairmont and Ann Streets, Baltimore, Md.; U.S. Postal Service — Offices — 6801 Oak Hall Lane, Columbia, Md.; Nigerian Embassy, 333 16th St., Washington, D.C.; Free Lance design job for lobby area at Western Electric, Baltimore Works; the Harrington Hotel, Washington, D.C.

Also to his credit, Langston has many residential projects in and around the Baltimore area, one in particular being the home of Pro-Basketball Star, Wes Unseld.

His own apartment (at Sutton Place where he resided some years ago) was photographed for House and Garden Magazine.

In addition to these projects, Langston has worked in Interior Design and Sales at Stanley's Furniture store, where he designed and supervised all floor and window displays, which involved coordinating of drapery, furniture, carpet, color, lighting, etc., for a finished look.

As sole designer, he designed and sold residential jobs, working personally with the clients.

Winkey extravaganza features renowned designers' garments

While I was on vaction, I checked out the fabulous fashion extravaganza held at Center Stage, Aug. 31, which was the First Annual Saluate to the Travis Winkey Magazine and Scholarship Fund.

For the first time ever, three major designers revealed their Fall collection in Baltimore, Md.

This famed traveling fashion extraordinare was produced by Travis Winkey and sponsored by Tower Ford and Christian Brothers.

Mr. Winkey, producer and director of the show, personally selected fashions from these designers. The renowned Willi Smith, internationally acclaimed Kevin and Robert, Jose Revera of New York's 7th Ave., Glenda Moore and Yvonne Williams and Crystal Cooper of Washington D.C. and Vickie Jones and Stephanie Taylor of Baltimore.

Mr. Winkey's tours of the east coast and fashion capitols of the world have created a lantalizing effect on his new cultural Art form, "On Step Further."

The show, emceed by Clarence Bishop, opened with a welcome by the Honorable Parren J. Mitchell and a background of Travis Winkey by Ruby Glover.

The show consisted of more than a half-million dollars in garments complete with the latest accessories modled by 14 female and 12 male models, with Travis Winkey as commentator and Clarence Bishop as master of ceremonies.

Butcher Family Reunion reflects love, faith, togetherness

By Pattie Hodges,
AFRO Staff Writer

The Butcher family reunion got off with a big bang, Saturday Aug. 23rd at the Dozen Club House located in Anne Arundel County, Md.

The Theme for the reunion was "God made us a family, we need one another, we love one another, we forgive one another. We work together, we play together, we worship together.

"Together we use God's word, together we grow in Christ, together we love all men, together we serve our God, together we hope for Heaven. These are our hopes and ideals. Help us to attain them, O God. Through Jesus Christ, our Lord.

"When Love is shared, it has no end. When Love is present, it's a constant blend. To have Love and give it, is a reflection of life. Without the strength of love, our world will live in strife."

Family gathered from far and near, as did many friends to join in the fabulous occasion.
