Roberta Briscoe receives Rotary's highest award

Mrs. Roberta M. Briscoe
Rotary honoree

By Pinnie L. Ross

The 76th Anniversary of Rotary International was observed recently in Columbia.

Mrs. Roberta Briscoe, wife of Thomas Briscoe, past president of the Columbia Rotary Club is the recipient of the highest honor the Rotary has ever presented to a non member. The award was the Paul Harris Fellowship Award.

The Rotary motto is "Service Above Self" which Mrs. Briscoe has illustrated in the community in her many clubs and organizations and which was the reason for her being selected for the Rotary Highest nonmember award.

The lovely Mrs. Briscoe was one of the Founders of the Columbia Chapter, Jack & Jill, The Links Incorporated Columbia Chapter, Columbia Chapter of AKA.

She is a member of the Howard County Association for Retarded Citizens.

Presently she is serving as the newly elected president of the National Council of Negro Women and Kappa's Silhouettes, Columbia Chapter.

Mrs. Briscoe is a Librarian in the Ann Arundel County school system. Prior to becoming a librarian she taught physical education in the Arundel County schools. She has been in the Arundel school system for twenty-five years.

The Briscoe's are the parents of one daughter, Carolyn, a graduate from Fisk University. Presently she is in graduate school at Howard University working on her Masters degree.

We congratulate Mrs. Briscoe for her special award and wish her the best of luck as president of the two mentioned organizations for the ensuing year 1980-1981.

Oop's! There were several errors made in last week's Columbia Capers column on the beautiful candlelight ceremony of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Dandridge, the bride being the former Miss Karen Alice Cornick.

Last week's article stated that Robert C. Dandridge is the son of Mrs. Harriett M. Griffin. Correction — Marty Dandridge, the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Harriett M. Griffin and Robert C. Dandridge is the father of the bridegroom.

Correction — The bride is a graduate of Tufts University in Boston and not Howard University.

Correction — The bride was given in marriage by both parents Mr. Delroy L. Cornick and Mrs. Helen Cornick.

Omission — Mrs. Judith Sampson was the designer for the bride and the bridemaids.

Omission — Guest soloist was Myrtle Piggins.

Omission — The lovely Miss Susan A. Cornick, a second year student at Rutgers University, sister of the bride was Maid of Honor. She was attired in an Irish Color Crepe deChine gown with a sheer print jacket. She carried yellow carnations with a yellow streamer.

To the fine parents of the bride and bridegroom we apologize for errors made, and the omission of Susan Cornick's name as maid of honor in the beautiful wedding ceremony of their daughter and son, Karen and Martin.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Live each day to the fullest, Get the most from each hour, each day, and each age of your life. Then you can look forward with confidence and back without regrets.

Before the enjoyable breakfast, a lovely prayer was offered by Morris Jones, followed by a beautiful welcome by Bettie Jones.

The dynamic and personable master of ceremonies for the day which began at 10 a.m. and continued until 3 p.m. was none other than Marvin Jones. He kept the family and friends busily engaged with fun and laughter.

Many activities, including swimming, basketball, dancing and other talents were awarded prizes for the winners.

A prize was given to the person having traveled the longest distance to the reunion. This was received by Theron Perry from San Jose, California.

The award for the oldest sister went to Mary E. Barbour from Roanoke, Virginia. The best Disco music for the entire day went to Marvin E. Jones Jr.

At 2 p.m. a lovely brunch was served until 4 p.m. when the fun day at the Club House moved to the Holiday Inn Hotel.

After freshening up and getting all beautifully dressed, the Butcher family banquet began at 7:30 p.m.

Master of ermonies was Thomas Jones. He changed the scene to a more serious mood. After opening remarks by Thomas, the table blessing was said by the Rev. Eugene Carter, pastor of Good Shepard Church. Scripture was read by Lisa Reynolds.

The entire audience stood and sang The Negro National Anthem, led by Thomas Jones with his dynamic voice.

The welcome address was by Edith B. Peebles.

As the food was being enjoyed, a tribute by the Baltimore family "You light up my life" was beautifully sung, with Shelly Jones as soloist, Shirley Jones, pianist and Carla Jones, violinist.

Special remarks were given by Ruth Reynolds from Roanoke, Virginia, who did a bang up job on "I feel good for the shape I am in." An actress could not have gotten more applause.

Emily Mikeal from Blackstone, Virginia spoke of how happy she was to be present at this reunion, since this was her first, but would not be her last to attend.

This was followed by moments of silent prayer, another selection by the Jones Trio: Thomas, Brenda and daughter Shelley the soloist — "The three of us".

A standing ovation was given Bettie Jones who saw a need for the family to get together for the first family reunion August 11, 1973. Since that time the reunion has been held in different states.

The family group grows larger and larger at each reunion.

Lurking in the dark was another surprise. Bettie had worked under cover early mornings and late nights writing the history of the Butcher's. She had made many copies in paper back books and presented each family one. She felt that as the younger generation become adults, they would not have to search for their roots, but could see where, how and when the first Butcher was born and how the tree grew with the branches bearing the Butcher family.

She titled it "The Butcher's Family tree and the history of our father, John R. Butcher," patriarch of the family.

Life guards for the Club house were: Jeffrey Jones and Theron Perry. Receptionist were Cardell Jones, Brenda Jones, Emma Butcher and Shirley Jones.

Hostesses were Wanda Mobley, Karen Moulden, Tina Moulden, Lisa Reynolds, Treva Deshields, Carla Jones and Jill Baylor.

Family was present from: Columbus, Ohio, New Jersey, New York, Washington, D.C., Blackstone, Roanoke, Dewitt and New River, Pennsylvania and many other states.

Benediction was said by the Rev. Reginald Boston, pastor of Grace AME Church.

The family reunion for 1981 will be held in
