Family and friends attend reunion in Darlington, S.C.

By Jean Dudley

It is not uncommon for families of today to have family reunions. Members of the Gaulden, Perry, Lumpkin, Brown, Lewis, Bailey, Mulkey, Hunter, Blacks, Greene, Hudsons, Johnsons, Jackson, Lunns, Dudleys, recently had their family reunion in Darlington, S.C.

A busload of family and friends from Baltimore were among those who assembled. The family reunion was on a spiritual nature, in today's society, we find that we need to get closer to God and Christ for what, I am a person served to do and believe.

The family attended a fellowship banquet at St. John's Baptist Church in South Carolina. Guests at the banquet were Mr. and Mrs. Troy (Bernice) Lewis Mrs. Betty Muldrow, Ms. Dorethea Muldrow, Woodrow Lunn, James Lunn, Lamon Muldrow, Mrs. Gloria Muldrow, Mrs. Naomi Marner and Mrs. Geneva Harkins.

Mrs. Calperta Black served as mistress of ceremony and presiding over the program were Miss Natasha Muldrow, Ms. Dorothea Muldrow who sang "Amazing Grace" and Lamon Muldrow, a Morgan State College student spoke on the family.

The theme for the reunion was "Neighborhood With Love, Peace Joy" Mrs. Anna Nelson spoke on the theme.

Saturday's activities carried out the theme with services by members of the Baltimore families with the Rev. E. B. Burroughs pastor of Cherry Grove Baptist Church as guest speaker.

Mrs. Bernice Lewis presided and participants from Baltimore on the program were Herbert Muldrow, Louis Bailey, Troy Lewis, Freddie Fuller, members of the Norman Muldrow Male Chorus, Mrs. Geraldine Floyd, Miss Michele N. Thompson, the Rev. Roosevelt Lunn, Jack Lunn, Mrs. John Dudley, Mrs. Evelyn G. Byrom, Miss Nannette Muldrow, Mrs. Naomi Marner, Mrs. Alice Williams and Preacher Woodrow Lunn and Mrs. Betty Muldrow.

In keeping with the theme, Mrs. Burroughs spoke on "Family Strength and Unity Our Great Concern." He told the family, "The only time we see strength and togetherness where black families are concerned is when there is death. We are all related because we are one and together we are one in our Lord."

Rev. Burroughs told the younger members of the family to develop intellectual strength and train their minds. Moral strength is to know right from wrong and exercise strength is to put our hand in the hand of the man from Galilee.

The Rev. John Lunn, Pastor of Berean Baptist Church was the Sunday afternoon speaker. His topic was "Unity - Unity of Religion." He told the family, "Our faith gets stronger, but we should stand still and wait on the Lord."

—March on Washington

Cook confirmed that Reagan had issued an endorsement of the rally, and she tentatively agreed to attend.

Criticism of the march has also come from the Howard University Student Union, (HUSA). Andre Gaston, head of that organization, said that the march which has substantiates its bond to Africa, was "commercializing the march" by including a black college queen and black marching band competition.

"Because of his, (Brown's) ties with the people who lost him, (Fosu) Black College Day may be more harm than good," said Kali Hill, public relations of the National Organization of Black University and College Students, (NOBUCS)

The former NOBUCS head said that Brown's march wiped out a planned rally by that organization.

But Cook defended the concept of the bands and the queen.

"You get more flies with honey than you do with vinegar," he said. "We (NAACP) are trying to attract a type of million so that we could attract more students here."

Earlier, Brown had waved aside the protests of NOBUCS by stating that "I'm not concerned with a lot of nonsensical charges."

Cook said that Brown has spent "2.5 million of his own funds to promote and organize the rally. According to literature circulated by the movement, Fosu will be picking up the tab for the prizes awarded to the Miss Black College Day "Q" contest, who will be chosen from a pageant of black college queens.

Cook added that LeBaron Taylor of CBS records, the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, the Johnson Products company, and the M and M company have all promised financial assistance.

The program will feature Dick Gregory, Rep. Parren J. Mitchell, and a host of other nationally-known human rights activists.

It will be a day-long affair, which will begin at 9 a.m. with a march from Washington's Ellipse to the steps of the Capitol Building, and it has been billed as the largest gathering held in D.C. since the 1963 march on Washington.

"Why haven't those who are criticizing us organized anything on the scale of our efforts to save our black colleges?" he asked. "Ever since the days of slavery there have been those of our own race ready to side with the enemy to do-in-opt us."

Cook was asked why the NAACP and the National Urban League are not supporting —the project. Neither organization is part of the coalition organized around the rally.

"We didn't go around asking...(organizations to) 'will you be a member of the coalition,'" he said. "First of all we put out the word that we were forming a coalition. The groups that wanted to get involved did."

The movement has also drawn criticism from political observers, who say that the rally is timed and designed to embarrass incumbent president Jimmy Carter.

Questions were raised concerning the propriety of a request to visit Brown made to Knoxville Tenn. to meet with Governor Ronald Reagan, but Cook said that there was nothing covert about the meeting.

"We sent out notices to all the presidential contenders informing them that we would be willing to brief them on the rally," explained Cook. "Only Governor Reagan responded. The day after the debates in Baltimore, Governor Reagan invited Brown to fly with him on his private plane to Knoxville Tennessee and spoke with him."

In the suit, Ms. Chandler alleges that Mrs. White fabricated the letter because Ms. Chandler and several parents of students at the school demanded the dismissal of the principal.

"In retaliation against the plaintiff," the suit reads, "(the) defendant, (Mrs.) Edgar T. White maliciously, recklessly and negligently supervised, orchestrated, engineered and directed the composition of a...letter addressed to herself,..."

A copy of the letter has been included as testimony.

The defendant, who is represented by attorney Barry Steel, has asked for a jury trial. No date has been announced for the trial.

Steel is no stranger to the city school system, as he represented former school administrator Robert Rinaldi in his successful suit against the system. Rinaldi had alleged that he was fired unjustly by the school board.

Katherine O. Johnson dies

Mrs. Katherine O. Johnson, wife of the late Dr. Carson Johnson, died Sept. 22 at the Pikesville Convalescent Home.

Funeral services for Mrs. Johnson will be held Sept. 27, 11 a.m. at Grace United Presbyterian Church, Greenspring Avenue and Bannister Road.

Mrs. Johnson, of the 2000 block Druid Hill Ave., taught school for more than 40 years and retired in 1969. Born in Baltimore, she received her bachelor's degree from Morgan State College and her master's degree from New York University.

She was an active member of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Medical Wives Auxiliary, Phi Beta Sigma Wives Auxiliary and the Retired Teachers Association.

She is survived by her son, Dr. Carson C. Johnson Jr., a psychologist and college professor in Boston; three grandchildren, Christina, Cecelia and Laura Johnson and two sisters Miss Madge Oliver and Mrs. Loretta O. Valentine.

During the May primaries, Ms. Cooper had complained to the AFRO that the NAACP's efforts were being hampered by the Board of Elections Supervisors, but she says that the board has been more than helpful during this election season's drive.

Sheila Tucker, head of the registration effort, and Tia Thompson of the NAACP are currently coordinating a city-wide crew of volunteers who are apparently leaving no stone unturned in their efforts to register at least 1000 new voters by the Oct. 6 deadline.

The federal and local elections are scheduled for November 4.

"It's important to vote because it is the most important tool that the black community has at its disposal," said Ms. Tucker. "The people who have the power within our society have the money and the backing to support the candidate of their choice, but the black community doesn't have the influence or financial resources to be a part of the decision-making process. Therefore, the vote is our key weapon."

She said that the recent upsurge in black unemployment may be directly attributed to the poor voting record of the black community.

"Programs which benefit blacks and minorities are among the first cut by legislators who know that they don't have to fear black voter retaliation," she pointed out.

The NAACP will man a registration booth at this weekend's City Fair, and will also be at the Lexington Market's East wing Friday and Saturday.

Local unemployment facility lines and Manpower offices have also been targeted, as well as senior high schools and busy shopping districts.

In a related development, the state GOP has blasted a plan by the local Carter campaign office to pay a 99 cents bounty to registrants who corral new voters.

Area Republican head Thomas Buckmaster said that the effort "smacks of payola and bosism."

The program, which is labelled non - partisan by state Democrats and possible violation of election laws, was announced last week by a recently formed registration committee chaired by several prominent black Democrats and civil rights workers.

During the last elections, (the primaries of May 1980), only a third of state registered voters exercised their right, but political observers predict that the registration efforts, coupled with the excitement generated by the recent presidential debates, should combine to guarantee a larger election day crowd at the polls.
