Nearly 3,000 attend 1980 Ebony Fashion Fair

FREE SPIRIT — These are just a few of the numerous scintillating and sophisticated fashions aired during the '1980 Ebony Fashion Fair' held on Sunday, Oct. 12 at Morgan University. This affair is sponsored by the Baltimore Chapter of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. for the local chapter's cholarship fund. The theme for this year's show was "Free Spirit."

The 1980 Ebony Fashion Fair, presented annually by the Baltimore Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, was held at Morgan State University on Sunday, Oct. 12.

The theme of this year's show — 'Free Spirit' — was aptly carried out at the 3 and 8 p.m. performances.

The 14 models (12 female and two male) who hailed from states across the nation and from San Juan, P. R. dramatically aired fashions for sports, daywear, lounging, swimming, early evening, grand-evening and bridal wear in two segments with an intermission in between.

Pantsuits in vibrant rusts and golds with matching sweaters and hats, plaid ones with matching linings in their complementary coats were a big item. The tuxedo pantsuit is in.

Dressy suits of crepe-de-chine with interchangeable jackets and colors that complement each other rather than match were shown with flair.

Ponchos are big again. So are coatdresses, some with color-coordinated dresses underneath.

The gaucho-culotte look is back. So are tunic coats and minidresses and skirts, some with minicoats to match their design and color.

Elegant walking suits with complementary skolinskis were aired with style.

A cape coat that converted to a long skirt for evening drew raves.

Daring loungewear in bold prints and jumpsuits of taffeta and many other fabrics are hot items too.

Moires, velours, velvets, silks, cashmeres, lames and jerseys, many trimmed with fur or plumes or emphasized with sequins are also in.

Capes that convert to hoods,

Guests enjoyed a sumptuous repast of Fruit Ambrosia, cocktail franks, fruit punch, dilly' dip and hot pizza squares. And that was just for appetizers.

Following a delicious minestrone soup they also feasted on a buffet of rice pilaf, chicken croquettes, hominy-hominy, garden green salad, hot parmesan rolls, dessert, sherbet and beverages.

There were also many games to be enjoyed — cards, bingo, pokeno, to name a few.

For their efforts at games of chance guests won many lovely gifts donated by local merchants and businesses.

Black Telephone Manager's Assoc. holds annual Dinner Dance

The scene for the annual dinner dance hosted by the Black Telephone Manager's Association on Saturday, Oct. 4, was La Fontaine Bleu, Erdman Ave.

From 9 p.m. until 2 a.m. the 300 guests enjoyed a variety of activities and a program.

There was a delicious buffet dinner, open bar and dancing to the live music of the "This Is It" Band of Washington, D.C.

For those who like games of chance there was a roulette wheel spinning from 10:15 until 11:30 p.m. and from midnight until 2 a.m.

The drawing for a fifty-fifty raffle, was at 11 a.m. This was won by Mrs. Effie Frederick of Baltimore.

During the program at 11:30 p.m. Mrs. Joyce Culbreth, chair for affair, welcomed everyone.

As "In Memoriam" segment — "Remembering Lis," done in honor of deceased member Ms. Elizabeth Knight, included special readings of dedication to her memory and a poem from the book 'Compensation' by Ms. Evelyn Johnson, president.

Ms. Johnson and Mrs. Culbreth presented a check to Jo Ann Fuller, president of the Accounting Club at Morgan U., for the University's scholarship fund.

The purpose of the association was given by Mrs. Zerita Thornton, association member.

The B.T.M.A., established in 1979, was then called Black Involvement Group (BIG) and its purpose was to identify the concerns and issues of blacks in management.

Initially the focus was on outlining EEO issues from the black perspective and informing the Telephone company on them.

Now, however, the objectives are to aid in the development and full utilization of blacks in the Telephone business, to assist in the elimination of those C & P company policies, practices and procedures which adversely impact upon black participation in the business, to promote and advocate the development of management professionalism through continuing management education and to promote and support the membership's involvement in issues and activities which impact on the community.

Other recent projects are the AFRO's Mrs. Santa, participation in the Special Olympics for both the city and the state, clothing donations to area nursing homes and treating nursing home residents to cultural activities such as plays and the like

Among those attending the dinner dance were Judge Robert Bell, Ray Haysbert, of the C & P Telephone Company's Maryland Board; Mrs. Enolia P. McMillian, head of the local NAACP and an entire table of Morgan U seniors.

Officers of the association are Ms. Evelyn Johnson, president; Samuel Johnson, vice president; Mrs. Harriet Stanley, recording secretary; Ms. Rose Smith, corresponding secretary; Preston Brown, financial secretary and William Shorter, treasurer.

JUDGE ROBERT BELL enjoys a dance with Ms. Pat Smith during the dinner dance hosted by the Black Telephone Manager's Association held at La Fontaine Bleu, Erdman Ave. Oct. 4.
