Doctor of Laws degree to Dr. Crawley at banquet

St. Paul Baptist Church celebrated its 70th birthday in rites which lasted 15 days and then crowned the events with a banquet honoring the 26th year of the pastor Dr. George A. Crawley Jr.

The 250 guests attending the final occasion dined in the church's spacious banquet hall and received congratulations from many (for not choosing to go elsewhere).

The use of the church's own facilities is one of the items stressed by Dr. Crawley who succeeded his father, the late Dr. George A. Crawley Sr. who died in 1954.

In addition to praise from the church's officials and many organization, Dr. Crawley was given the honorary degree of doctor-of-laws conferred upon him by Dean James E. Thomas of Virginia Seminary and College.

The Nov. 1-Nov. 14 programs were highlighted by 70 years of fashions presented by Madeline Stokes (of Golden Mist, a Pot Luck Dinner Party to learn of the church history.

Also addresses by visiting pastors, Rev. Charles Franklin, Rev. Eugene Carter, Rev. A. E. Jones, Jones Tabernacle; Rev. William Johnson, Union Baptist, Turner Station; Rev. Howard Queen, Pleasant Hope Baptist; Rev. Carl Washington, St. Timothy; and Rev. Lyman Lowe, pastor of Mt. Sinai Baptist, New York who gave the banquet sermon.

The Rev. Joseph Culp gave the anniversary address.

Banquet greetings came from Beotria Ogleby, chairman of the deacon board; Charles Charles Barner, trustee chairman; Rev. Leo Wagner, son of the church and AFRO City Editor Elizabeth M. Oliver.

Others on the program were George L. Moore, toastmaster; Robert Brisco, Joanne Anderson; Jane Hill, Gloria Knox, Georgine Crawley Wagner, Dorothy Turner, Vernell Weaver, Benjamin C. Jones, Audrey White, Julian Knox and Clutz Wilks. Mrs. Rebecca N. English served as chairperson. Harris Caterers prepared the four-course dinner "from soup to nuts."

A 20-page program book told of the "Three Score and Ten" history of the church.

HISTORY

Since its founding in September, 1910, St. Paul Baptist Church has worshipped in eight different locations.

Its first sanctuary was a rowhouse located at the corner of 24th and Oak (now Howard) Streets.

The congregation had started there in 1904 as the Virginia Baptist Church under the leadership of the late Rev. Georg W. Carrington, an ordained minister, whose membership was with the Ebenezer Baptist Church located at 406 E. 23rd St.

However numerous problems of one kind or another led the group to re-organize St. Paul in 1911, the church moved to its second location — the front room of a private dwelling in the 2500 block of Mace Street.

Many stalwart Christian workers were developed there, among whom were Alex Beard, Ida Beard, Betty Booker, Jessie Cook; Matilda Cook, Agnes Allen, Angelina Carter Harris, Pinkey Harrison, William Harrison, Charlie Johnson, Mamie King, Fannie Payne, Oscar Robinson, Lewis Snowden, and Emanuel Taylor who was the choir director.

They were in the number who called the late Rev. George A. Crawley Sr., to pastor them in September 1921.

The membership grew and work prospered, but that did not keep trouble away from the door; the church building was condemned; the pastor and officers could not get a permit to build on the land; there was no facility anywhere in the area that could serve as a place of worship. In those days Negroes, as blacks were called at that time, could not purchase or rent property wherever they wanted or could afford to pay; certain areas were strictly off-limits to them.

Pastor Crawley located a church building in the 1600 block of Rutland Ave., where whites only had always lived. So, in 1924 St. Paul moved "down into Egypt."

Immediately the white residents rose up in violent protest against the black "invaders" of their neighborhood.

Windows of the sanctuary were smashed by rocks and bricks that were thrown against them; dead rats were tossed through the broken windows during services; on their way to and from church were taunted and threatened with physical violence.

The stress and the strain accompanied by the ever present possibility of serious harm to them caused some of the flock to leave the beleaguered congregation in search of safer pastures.

Pastor Crawley got police protection and bolstered courage for seven long years.

In 1950 the congregation chose another site, an edifice on the southeast corner of Guilford Avenue and Lanvale Street where Rev. Crawley, Sr. was pastor until his passing on June 2, 1954.

In 1949 the Rev. George A. Crawley Jr., was elected assistant pastor of the church. He was voted in as pastor on September 7, 1954, three months after the death of his father. St. Paul continued to thrive under the leadership of Rev. Crawley Jr.

Tragedy struck again. In January, 1964 the church was destroyed by fire.

In 1969 Rev. Crawley, received word through a phone call by Father Hines of the St. Thomas Episcopal Church located at the corner of the Alameda and 31st Street was for sale. Rev. Crawley contacted him right away.

After a series of meetings and conferences had been held between the representatives of the two congregations, the sale was effected for $225,000.

On Sunday, May 17, 1970 a jubilant congregation marched into the edifice singing songs of praise and thanksgiving.

Dr. Crawley accepted the challenges in his ministry. He is continuing his studies at home and abroad.

He attends lectures throughout America, Howard University, Virginia Union University, Hampton University, Yale University, and many others.

The most cherished courses taken were at Oxford University, England Regent's College in 1979, where he holds a certificate for his labors. He has been named on the AFRO-AMERICAN Honor Roll as one of the 100 leaders of the 70s.

DR. GEORGE A. CRAWLEY (C) who already holds earned doctorates, is accorded an honorary doctor of laws degree by (R) Rev. James E. Thomas, dean of the Lynchburg, Va. Seminary and College. Dr. W. Lyman Lowe looks on.

IN MEMORIAM

HAMMOND - A tribute of love to the memory of our Mother MARY E. HAMMOND, who passed away one year ago, November 20, 1979.

When God created you, dear one, He made a perfect thing. That sent a gust of joy through Heaven
And made the Choirs sing.
He took a ray of sunshine
And a bit of Angel's smile
He dipped into the brightness
Of the cherubs star-dust pile.
He added sweetest fragrance
From the Rose-bed of the sky,
With a final dash of whiteness
From a cloud let passing by.
If God had given us to choose
Our Mother at our birth,
We would have chosen you of all
The Mothers on the Earth.

Her Children:
DOROTHY A. NELSON
GRACE H. SMITH
HOWARD J. HAMMOND

RICE - In loving memory of our dear one, INEZ REDD, who passed away November 21, 1959
Sad and sudden was the call
Of one so dearly loved by all
A bitter grief, a shock severe
It was to part with one so dear
We often sit and think of you
And speak of how you died
To think you could not say good-bye
Before you closed your eyes
For all of us you did your best
Oh, God grant you eternal rest

HUSBAND, SONS
MOTHER, SISTERS
and BROTHERS

The fairest lilies are the first to fall,
The sweetest, first to fade
The fondest, dearest, best of all
At peaceful rest is laid
As some sweet blossom droops and dies
When blighted by the frost
We faded from before our eyes
And all too soon was lost
But in God's garden free from pain
Where grow his fairest flowers
We know that we shall meet again
This fairest bloom of ours
