Kappa Silhouettes host annual luncheon-Card party

By Pattie Hodges,
AFRO Staff Writer

On Saturday, Nov. 22 the Kappa Silhouettes hosted an afternoon of fun for their guests at their Annual Luncheon Card Party.

A bevy of ladies comprising a capacitycrowd, togged to the teeth in nifty afternoon outfits of ultra suede, velvet, leather and snazzy wools, chattered animatedly under the lovely hanging baskets at Meushaws Restaurant, Security Blvd.

Luncheon fare was each guest's choice of chicken or roast beef, with complimentary vegetables, apple pie for dessert and coffee. Mrs. Virginia Watkins, Silhouette president, looking great in a blue ultra suede suit warmly welcomed all.

Mrs. Adele Dorsey, guest of Silhouette Laure Brown, was delightfully surprised, when, in honor of her birthday, a cake, replete with a single candle, was brought to their table, and table guests and other silhouettes sang "Happy birthday" to her.

Carole Cole, chairperson for the affair, also gave remarks of welcome, after which guests descended to the game room set up downstairs. Here guests excitedly vied for prizes at games of pinochle, bridge and pokeno, while continuing to enjoy cocktails and other sippables.

Door prizes were won by many lucky ticket stub holders. They were useful as well as pretty. One would win Sarah Coventry jewelry, while another would get groceries.

High winners at games, who got champagne and other lovely gifts were Maxine Mitchner, Beverly Jones, Dorothy Allen, Dot Owens, Barbara Harris, Marilyn Roche, Jimmie Laforest, Edwina Allen, Erma Dancey, Joan Hendricks, Elsie Hardwick, Barbara McCoy and Charlotte Brooks.

There were also many happy grab-bag winners.

On the committee for the affair, in addition to chairperson Carolyn Cole, were Kathlynn Jacobs, Laure Brown and Brenda Willis. Silhouette officers are Virginia Watkins, president; Doris Starks, vice president; Armelia Chase, recording secretary; Blanche Johnson, corresponding secretary; Kathlynn Jacobs, financial secretary; Florenzie Davis, treasurer; Gloria Carpenter, historian and Ivy Harris, parliamentarian.

Woodlawn Highlights · The Baileys enjoy retirement

By Marjorie R. Green

It's good to have good friends like Bill and Vivian Bailey. Friends you don't see lo ottten, but every now and then there is a card in the mail expressing their interest and concern for your health and happiness.

We were lucky enough to exchange greetings with these two retirees during the recent Metro-West building dedication recepti

You can't find a happier, healthier lookin couple. One would never guess that they recently celebrated their th Wedding Anniversary with a trip to the Caribbean. A few months later they enjoyed a second honeymoon in exotic Hawai

Since her retirement in 1975, Vivian and Bill have traveled extensively in the United States and abroad. She also attended law school approximately 18 months before deciding that she really wasn't interested in starting a second career.

Mrs. Bailey's supervisory experience in the Social Security Administration's Health Care Claims adjustment branch and her community involvement qualified her for a recent appointment as the Howard County Consumer Representative to the Central Maryland Health Systems Agency, Inc. (CMHSA).

A Columbia resident since 1970, Mrs. Bailey keeps herself occupied at home doing needlepoint. A few weeks ago she entered two samples of her work in a needlework show held in Frederick, Maryland and walked away with a third place ribbon. Since this was the first time she ventured to enter any work in competition, she was "surprised and thrilled" to go home a winner.

William "Bill" Bailey hasn't been idle either since his retirement last year. He is president of the Board of Directors for Howard County's Community Action Council. This council is involved in a number of programs that affect persons with limited incomes.

Eastwind, Pulaski Highway, was once again the scene for the Vanguard Justice Society's Annual Awards Dinner, held on Friday, Nov. 21.

Guests enjoyed live music by the Rubbi Band, open bar and dinner.

Master of Ceremonies, Sgt. Norman Parker, Patrol Dir., Northeastern Dist., Baltimore Police Dept., introduce guest speaker, Judge Robert M. Bell, who gave inspiring remarks to the assemblage.

There was a lot of comment during the evening about the 'Class Action Suit' that ultimately brought about change, resulting in promotions for many of our black policemen.

Awards were presented to Officer Charles Harold, who was named 'Police Officer of the Year'; Lt. Bessie L. Norris, who received the Vanguard's Special Achievement Award and Clarice LaV. Brooks, Community Relations Specialist, B.P.D., who got the Humanitarian Award.

Honorary Life Member named was Lt. Col. (Ret.) James H. Watkins.

The Vanguard Justice Society has a long history about many positive gains for blacks in the Baltimore Police Dept., including recent and past promotions for them and better working conditions.
