Omegas mark Founders' Day—Achievement Week

REMEMBERING THEIR BROTHERS—During the Achievement Week celebration of Pi Omega Chapter, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, held at Morgan Christian Center recently two awards for 'Omega Man of the Year' were presented posthumously to Brothers Kenneth Ervin and George LeRoy Bennett. Mrs. Kenneth D. Ervin receives award for her late husband from Bro. Lloyd Alston, basileus; (left panel) and Mrs. George LeRoy Bennett receives award for her late husband from Brother Judson Wood, anti-basileus (right panel). At the time of his death, Brother Ervin was the basileus.

Recently, Pi Omega Chapter, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity held its Founders Day Service commemorating the founding of the fraternity.

The theme for this year's service was "How would our Founders meet the challenges that confront Omega in the 80's. A Re-affirmation and Re-Dedication of our Vows."

A special effort was made this year to involve other area chapters in the celebration which is dear to all Omega men. It was the feeling of the chapter that even though each chapter holds individual celebrations, Pi Omega wanted to share its joy with other brothers.

Brother Dr. Normal Johnson, Dean at Carnegie-Mellon University was the guest speaker. He gave an elegant oration using the chapter's theme. His speech encompassed the fact that Omega is needed more than ever given the realities of today.

William Bailey, who is now in his second year at Morgan State University which was made possible through a grant he received as a Bishop Edgar Love Scholar, was the guest soloist.

In November, 1911, three young men (Edgar A. Love, Oscar J. Cooper and Frank Coleman) along with an Assistant Professor, Ernest E. Just, founded the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity on the campus of Howard University. Today, the fraternity has grown in that there are chapters beyond the borders of the United States.

It was this special moment that the men of Omega paused to remember.

A little more than a week after the Founder's Day Service, the men of Pi Omega chapter held their Achievement Week celebration which was part of the morning worship service at the Morgan Christian Center.

This year, James A. Mosher Associates, Inc. was the recipient of the Howard Lee Cornish Humanitarian Award for their twenty years of exemplary service to the youth of Baltimore.

The chapter's Omega Man of the Year Award was given post-humously to Brothers Kenneth Ervin and George LeRoy Bennett. Pi Omega chapter felt it appropriate to remember these two brothers who had been active in the fraternity throughout their lives.

Their wives, Mary Ervin and Myrtise Bennett, accepted the awards. Mrs. Ervin said, "Its nice to be remembered."

The Outstanding Citizen of the Year Award was given to Coach Edward P. Hurtt, a long-time member of the fraternity. He was cited for his many contributions on and off the athletic field which helped to mold young persons into what they are today.

As part of the National Achievement Week celebration, the local chapters conduct essay contests. Winners of the Pi Omega theme essay contest were announced during the service.

The theme for this year's essay was "Manhood, Scholarship, Perseverance and Uplift: Essential Principles for Developing a Positive Self Concept."

Participants were: Fahmiseda Abdul-Aleem, Dunbar High School, Ricky Davis, Lake Clifton High School; and Angela Saxon, Dunbar High School.

The Brothers of Pi Omega Chapter were very appreciative that the Christian Center and particularly its Director, Brother Dr. Richard I. McKinney, opened their hearts and shared in the Achievement Week celebration.

Brother Lemuel O. Boone Jr. served as chairman for the Achievement Week Observance Committee. Brother Harold Kennedy, served as chairman of the Founders Day Service Committee.

Brothers James Priest and Hilbert Stanley, arranged the social gathering for Brothers after the Founders Day Service which was held at the Ritz.

Other members of the two committees were Brothers Judson Wood, James Thornton, Benjamin M. Phillips IV, Theodore Randolph, Harold Hart, Eugene D. Byrd Sr., Thomas L. Hasty Jr., Edward Marshall, Otis H. Robertson, Randolph C. Thompson, Earl Koger and Harry Smith.

Brother Benjamin Whitten serves as the Cluster Coordinator which includes both activities.

Courtesy Guild holds Pre-Christmas Dinner Party

By Pinnie L. Ross

Christmas lights flickered on and off on the beautiful Christmas tree with imaginary snow flakes falling under an angel placed at the top and the sound of birds singing could be heard. It will soon be Christmas and the pre-holiday season is being celebrated by many holiday galas.

This was the scene at the pre-holiday dinner party sponsored by those energetic members of the Courtesy Guild of Enon Baptist Church and was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Williams, Baltimore, Md., last Sunday evening.

The festive mood was enhanced by the attractively decorated table with a centerpiece made of live red and white carnations. The decor was carried throughout the house.

The dinner table laden with a party fare which ran of a variety from Beef Brisket and Oysters, prepared by Mrs. Charlotte Marshall, lady trsutee of the church, and trench string beans, two delicious salad molds prepared by the lovely hostess Mrs. Williams, steaming hot home made rolls and butter, and for dessert plain and rum pound cake were served, prepared by Mrs. Florence Miller and Miss Gwendolyn Carter. Miss Carter is on the staff at Coppin State College.

All members of the Courtesy Guild arrived on time time for dinner, but waited patiently for the honored guests to arrive.

Special guests attending the sumptuous dinner were the Rev. & Mrs. Jean James Thomas from Richmond, Va. former assistant pastor of Enon Baptist Church.

Presently he is the pastor of The Baptist Church, Richmond, Virginia. He is also the Director of Alumni Affairs at Virginia Union University.

His wife Jean is a former Baltimore City School teacher, presently in the Virginia School System, and William Ross, Sr., President of Ross Company Builders.

It was just like homecoming for the Guild members. When Rev. & Mrs. Thomas arrived at the house there were expressions of love and affection from all of the members of the Guild.

According to Mrs. Ruby Hamlett, a 27-year-member of the trustee board and longtime member of the church said, "The club was organized seventeen years ago under the direction of Reverend Thomas. The club members love and affection have prevailed throughout the years for him and his wife, Jean."

Mrs. Williams received her guests in a two-pieced long black evening skirt with a blouson deep cut top. The skirt had a slit on the side.

After a sumptuous dinner was served, the guests went down into the club basement for games and more fun. The Williams' showed slides of trips they had taken to the Islands, including a trip to the Mediterranean, after which the sounds began to play from a modern stereo unit.

The feeling of Christmas was upon all of us as we sipped spicy egg nog prepared by Harvey Seay, and were served with rum and plain pound cake.

Speaking of Mr. & Mrs. Seay, they are the parents of Columbian Myrian Christian, National Treasurer of Jack and Jill.

The atmosphere of the group was warm and friendly and prevailed throughout the evening.

The Alford Williams are the proud parents of two lovely daughters, Alfreda, a credit employee at one of the Sears stores and their pretty daughter, Sandra Jean, actress and singer, who resides in New York.

Sandra Jean was the first Black actress to appear at the Garland Dinner Theater in Columbia. The AFRO-AMERICAN Newspaper carried the story.

The community of Columbia extends a hearty welcome to the Rev. Darrell S. Green for his recent acceptance of an appointment as new minister of Martin Luther King Jr. Community Church.

Reverend Green is the associate minister of New Shiloh Baptist Church and secretary to the Minister's Council of the American Baptist Churches of the South.

He has been moderator for the Maryland Washington area A.B.C. Churches and founding secretary for the American Baptist Men.

He also has taught in the Baltimore school system for 14 years serving as an administrative assistant.
