Mayor pays fourth annual visit to West Arlington

By Pattie Hodges, AFRO Women's Editor

Recently Mayor William Donald Schaefer made his fourth annual visit to the West Arlington Community, which is bounded by Rogers Ave. (on the East); Garrison Ave. (on the West); Hayward Ave. (North) and Oakford Ave. (South).

Upon invitation from the West Arlington Improvement Association the mayor and some of his top aides assembled at the Elderon Ave. home of Association president Dr. Charles Griffin.

Here neighborhood residents got a chance to rap with the mayor, to verbalize their concerns for the maintenance and the further improvement of their community and to ask questions.

Some of their concerns included huge, vacant houses being broken up into apartments (with absentee landlords and multiple - dwelling problems; the question mark of the Ston Institute being developed as a residential Industrial Park and the problems which the residents anticipate as a result of the subway.

Following the rap session the mayor, his aides and several West Arlington residents, officers and members of the Association went on a walking tour of the community, both to witness gains made and to do "Needs Assessment" on improvements still pending.

Subsequent to the walking tour the entourage assembled at the lovely Wabash Ave. home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Harris (Ruby) where the sign outside read "West Arlington welcomes Mayor Schaefer."

Here a delectable luncheon was served and everyone relaxed to chat informally.

The Harrises are a retired couple (he from Sparrows Point, she from SSA) who have lived in West Arlington for 20 years.

On being hosts for the mayor, Mrs. Harris stated "Mayor Schaefer has been very cooperative with us in trying to fulfill the requests for our neighborhood. It's a pleasure to have him."

Under the dynamic leadership of Dr. Charles Griffin WAIA president, the community, new median strips, regulations such as "No large trucks (over three fourth tons) can travel the neighborhood" and "No parking of trucks on residential streets," enforced; installation of needed traffic lights, the elimination of the problem of dogs and the boarding up of vacant houses.

Mayor Schaefer was very firm in his promises to community residents to continue to fulfill the needs for improvement in their area.

Officers of WAIA, in addition to Dr. Griffin are Walter Snead, first vice president; Gladys F. Parker, second vice president; Ruby M. Harris, financial secretary; Peggy Campbell, executive secretary; Laverne A. Turner, treasurer; Mary E. Smith, executive committee member.

Others in attendance included Paul L. Burns, assistant commissioner, Dept. Transit and Traffic; Frederick I. Douglass, 5th Dist. City planner; Michael A. Cassell, realty broker and member of the executive committee of WAIA; Rosemary H. Atkinson, mayor's representative; Sarena B. Jordan, mayor's representative, N.W. Baltimore; Kenneth D. Chapmen, Mass Transit Administrator; John A. McCauley, Dept. of Housing and Community Development; Harry E. Snyder, chief, Alley Footway Permit, Division, Department of Public Works; Reginald Scriber, general superintendent of Inspection, HCD; Rosalie Griffin, wife of WAIA president;

Also Sgt. Michael Jackson, Baltimore Police Dept.; Clarence O. Harris (host: William Smith, assistant director, Planning Baltimore City; Rudolph Rivers, District Superintendent, Gwynns Falls Park; M. J. Brodie, commissioner, Dept. of HCD;

Also Douglas S. Tawney, director of Recreation and Parks; Francis W. Kuchta, director of Public Works; Mark Wasserman, physical development coordinator, Mayor's Office; Norman V. A. Reeves, City Councilman, 5th D. Roy Stevens, driver for the mayor and Carrie Purvis, secretary, Northeast Community Corp.

ON A NEIGHBORHOOD TOUR of the West Arlington Community with Mayor Schaefer during his annual visit to the community are (from L), Dr. Charles Griffin, West Arlington Community Association president and City Councilman Norman V.A. Reeves, 5th D.

Appreciation Luncheon held Saturday, June 20, at the Pimlico Hotel. Pictured are (from L) Mrs. Adele Foreman and Mrs. Clarice Parrish.

LAWYERS' WIVES AND CITATIONS — Lawyers' Wives proudly displaying their Mayor's and Governor's Citations are (from L): Mesdames Anna Williams, Adele Foreman, Lorraine Hayes, Ruth Rosedom, Martha Allen, Atty. Elijah Cummings, Clarice Parrish, Zaidie Koger and Shirley H. Pinkett, president.

The Lawyers' Wives of Baltimore, Inc. held its closing Appreciation Luncheon meeting at the Pimlico Hotel on Saturday, June 20.

Officers for the 1981 - 82 club year were elected and installed. They are: Shirley H. Pinkett, president; Diana Smith, vice president; Lois Owens, recording secretary; Gwendolyn Howard, corresponding secretary; Denise Bloom, financial secretary; Agnes Dorsey, treasurer, and Anna Williams, parliamentarian.

The highlight of the afternoon was the Appreciation Awards Ceremony, which was in honor of those seven lawyers's wives who have given thirty continuous years of dedicated service to the organization.

Feted were Mrs. Milton Allen (Martha); Mrs. Benjamin Forman (Adele); Mrs. U. Theodore Hayes (Lorraine); Mrs. A. Briscoe Koger (Zadie); Mrs. George Parrish (Clarice); Mrs. George Rosedom (Ruth) and Mrs. Archie Williams (Anna).

Attorney Elijah Cummings, president of the Monumental City Bar Association, presented a check to the organization which covered the expense of the honoree's luch and also gifted the honorees with beautiful floral arrangements.

The mayor and governor's citations were presented by Mrs. Dororthy Reddick, and Mrs. Gwendolyn Howard, respectively.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Smith and Mrs. Marguerite Wood followed with gifts from the president, Shirley Pinkett, who also presented Appreciation plaques from the organization to each of the seven honorees.

Agnes Dorsey, after giving response from the honorees, besto'ed on each member a scroll of honor from the president for their support during the past club year.

Also receiving a scroll was Attorney Elijah Cummings, in appreciation for his support in the occasion.

Family members of the honorees were present for the Awards Ceremony.

The president announced that the Lawyers' Wives Annual Oyster Bull Roast will be held November 15 at La Fontaine Bleu, Erdman Ave. It seems that the ladies are out to top last year affair. Now that will take some doing.

At the close of the Ceremony, the following prayer (read by the president) is hereby shared by the Lawyers' Wives:

I said a prayer for you today
And know God must have heard —
I felt the answer in my heart
Although He spoke no word;
I did not ask for wealth or fame
I knew you wouldn't mind —
I asked Him to send treasures
Of a far more lasting kind!
I asked that He'd be near you
At the start of each new day —
To send you health and blessings
And friends to share your way!
I asked for happiness for you
In all things great small —
But it was for His loving care
I prayed the most of all.'

Douglass High School holds retirement celebration

By Pattie Hodges
AFRO Women's Editor

On Thursday June 11 a Retirement Dinner was hosted by Frederick Douglass High School at Blue Crest North, the purpose of which was to honor four retiring Douglass High Teachers and a former Douglass principal.

During the cocktail hour music was provided by the students of Douglass' Music Department, directed by Ronald Kearns.

Greetings were extended by Meredith Addison and the invocation was by J. Martin Capehart, president, Deacon's Conference of Baltimore and Vicinity.

Following a delicious dinner, the Occasion was given by Mrs. Jean B. Owens, present Douglass principal.

A vocal tribute "Try to Remember" was done by Jewel Churn, accompanied by Thomas DeLaine, Ronald Kearns, Scott Taylor and Marvin Hammett.

Educational tributes were given by Lewis Richardson, Deputy Superintendent, Baltimore City Public Schools and Charles Gamper, president, Maryland Scholastic Association.

Honorees included Roy Cragway, Head, Department of Physical Education, who has logged 30 years of service with BCPS; Earl L. Hagan, Douglass principal, 1974 to 1980, (also with 30 years of service); Mrs. Bernice Lewis, teacher of reading (35 years of service); Mrs. Vera Taylor, Head, Dept. of Office and Distributive Occupations (32 years of service) and Ms. Gwendolyn Thompson, teacher of English (with 26 years of service).

Making presentations of plaques to the honorees were John Nash and Meredity Addison.

Receiving special presentations from their departments were Roy Cragway, M's. Bernice Lewis and M's. Gwendolyn Thompson.

The honorees also were gifted by members of their respective families.

Former principal Earl Hagan received a money tree.

Mrs. Lewis (honoree), who writes poetry, gifted each of the other retirees with a book of her poetry.

On the Retirement Dinner Committee were Meta Meyer, chair; Meredith Addison, Olive Cannon, Rita Crooms, Marion Forder, David Fowler, Jonathan Jacobson, John Nash;

Also Henry Ratsch, Catherine Richardson, Donna Sloan, Shirley Stills, Carolyn Tyson, Sylvia Wilson and Jean Owens, principal.

James' Family Reunion

This year the James family decided to come together in one "Big Reunion". The festivities started with a spaghetti dinner as they thanked God for his goodness.

Friday, June 12 the grand feast which was held at the "Eastwind", was a beautiful scene.

There was a huge hanging mural of a tree with bright green leaves, red apples and a brown tree trunk, each apple had a family name on it and there were many.
