Erin Brock baptized

PROUD PARENTS — Mr. and Mrs. Odell Brock (Jacqueline) are pictured with their daughter Erin following her baptism on June 7 at the home of her parents.

Surrounded with the beauty of the pink and white color scheme, Erin Moore Brock was baptized on June 7 at the home of her parents, Odell and Jacqueline Brock.

In the glowing love of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Odell Brock Sr., of Catonsville and Mr. and Mrs. William S. Moore of Loyola Southway, the Rev. Stanley M. Butler performed the ceremony.

In presenting Erin for baptism, Vanazzo Eaton and Nannette Brock stood as the godparents.

Erin was angelic and a vision of joy in a white, full-length bridal lace gown with matching hat, designed and created by Charlyn Hyman.

The reception, attended by nearly 100 guests, was held at the Village Club at the Village of Cross Keys. Guests were entertained by the melodious sounds of the Rhonda Melton Quintet and dined on a superb buffet prepared by the Jonathan Edges Caterers.

A champagne toast, presented by the godfather, Vanasso Eaton, wished for Erin prosperity and happiness always.

Guests included Messeurs and Mesdames Richard Brooks, Levi Carner, Billy Lynch, Frank Johnson Jr., Wayne Howes, Marcus Townes, John Jay, Len Lyons, James Martin, Louis Goldbloom, John Murphy, Eddie West, Larry Gordon and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Sheton.

Also present were Margaret Jean Peterson (Erin's aunt), Aaron Peterson, Eric Brock, Myra Johnson, Edna Palmer, Ramona Gatewood, Barbara Bennett, Enotha Bennett, Dale Evans, Bonita Gatewood;

Also Tanya Williams, Sandra Boscia, Sherry Bars, Florence Howes, Louis Bosica, Ruby Mills, Victor A. Green, Paulette Brock, Joan and Karina Jackson, Joyce Roberts, Sylvia Stancil, Edie Malan, Rob Harper, Jessica Harper, Beverly Marshall, Carolyn Marshall, J. P. Grant, Lisa Maddos, Yvette Moore, Irvin Dett;

Also, Marcia Hawkins, Gregory Watkins, Wayne Davis, Katie Hemphill, Kathy Mettee, Laurence Bourne and Margaret Patterson.

The spokespersons were Josie Gaskins and Jeanette Ham both of the 3rd generation.

Call to adoration was done by everyone standing and reciting the Lord's Prayer, led by Herman James of the 2nd generation, a salute to the families by Doris Henson of the 2nd generation.

The special honoree, Aunt Allie (1st generation) was escorted in by Oscar Taft 3rd generation and James Nowlen of the 3rd generation. An 'Ode of Love' to the honoree was recited by Aleta Howard as Wilbert Quarles stood holding the corsage, (these two are little 5th generationers).

The pinning of the corsage was affectionately done by Royan James of 3rd generation, after which Tara (Royan's daughter) rendered a beautiful piano solo.

This short ceremony was finished with a community song "How Great Thou Art", led by Cecelia Carr accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Dorothy Mason.

The proclamation from the Mayor of Our city was read by Oscar Taft Jr. of the 2nd generation.

The dinner, served buffet style, included delicious roast top sirloin of beef with brown gravy, southern fried chicken, bar - bequed spare ribs, mixed vegetables, rice, little potatoes, hot rolls and butter, tea or coffee ice cream with many ingredients to make your favorite sundae.

Saturday morning there was a cook out breakfast of grits, scrapple, sausage, eggs, hot biscuits, orange juice, coffee and milk, after which the James Family boarded a bus at the door of the hostess for an eight hour tour which included Annapolis, Fort McHenry, Otterbein Area, Shot Tower, Johns Hopkins Hospital section, and lunch at Harbor Place. Three days well spent.

The James Family can truly say to God "How Great Thou Art."

Among those present were: Herman L. James and Bettye M. James,
