Columbia Links install new members

By Pinnie L. Ross

The Columbia Chapter of Links Inc. added three new members to their roll just recently.

The beautiful well planned installation was held at the Holiday Inn, Route 175, Jessup, Md. It was the first induction of new members since the chartering of the chapter in 1975.

The new members are: Marilyn Beale, Sandra Gray and Myrne Malvau.

The program opened with soft music played by Fredericka Hill, "Climb Every Mountain." The Welcome, Occasion and Introduction of officers, members and candidates was given by our President, Lula Wade.

Mable Beale gave the invocation, titled "A Meditation on Friends."

The History of Links (National area and local) was given by Maxine Pierce.

Jean Cooper gave the organizational structure and national officers, after which president Lulu Wade gave the purpose and goals of Links, Inc.

The National program facets were given by Dr. Sandra Smith, Celonia Walden gave the Duties and Responsibilities of Members, after which Dr. Ozella Webb gave the Financial obligations, followed by music, "Let There Be Peace On Earth."

The gracious candidates were called to the front for installation. Mrs. Sandra Gray was not present because of job commitment. Yours truly, her sponsor stood in for her.

The installation was simply beautiful, well organized, direct and to the point.

Each candidate received a long stemmed white rose, a symbol of the Links, and a silver bowl.

Congratulations were extended to the new members after which the president asked that all members gather around the luncheon tables and give a champagne toast to the new members. Many good cheers went out to the new members.

It was time for the delicious brunch to be served. All members were ready, as some had not had breakfast, (patiently waiting for the Brunch).

Much well prepared food for the Links included a variety ranging from bacon and eggs to baked chicken and fish and to top it off, a scrumptious dessert. (Cuff Note: One could not have asked for anymore food, it was much to much for the beautiful ladies.)

Each of the installation committee members should be given an orchid for a splendid job well done. The committee members were: Lula Wade, who presided over the installation, Mable Beale, chairlady, Dr. Sandra Smith, Jeanne Cooper, and Celonia Walden.

One of the purposes of the organization is to promote civic, cultural and educational activities for the benefit of its members and larger community.

Over the past five years the Columbia Chapter has abided by the By-Laws.

Their recent project of service was to mind a booth at the Columbia's Birthday Fair for two days soliciting memberships for The Howard County Chapter of NAACP.

Each member scheduled themselves for certain hours to work during the day and night. The President of NAACP, Dr. Silas Craft, was more than appreciative.

Mrs. Lula Wade, our president, has been a diligent worker, working so quietly and smoothly that the members reelected her for a second term as president of the Columbia Chapter, 1980-81.

Also reappointed for a second term were: Dr. Sandra Smith, vice president; Maxine Pierce, recording secretary; Lus Maria Webster, corresponding secretary; Dr. Ozella Webb, financial secretary; Susanne Price, treasurer; Rosemary Davis, parliamentarian; Jeanne Cooper, historian and Pinnie Ross, journalist.

OOPS! There were special people's names left out of my column last week — people who had helped the 'Miss Talented Teen-Maryland' Pageant over the past 11 years.

Those beautiful people are Mrs. Marie Phillips Braxton, Benny Phillips, Mrs. Ida Peters and Mrs. Bettye Moss.

Benny Phillips took exclusive pictures of Miss Edna Hill when she won the 1972 Nation title of 'Miss Black Teen Age America'.

Mrs. Marie Phillips Braxton wrote an exclusive story on Miss Hill.

Both Mrs. Braxton and Benny Phillips accompanied this writer to New York in 1972 to cover the Pageant.

Thought For Today

We have committed the Golden Rule to memory; Let us now commit it to life.

THE GAYZELS who celebrated their club's 25th anniversary with a gala dinner dance on Friday, June 19 are (L to R): Ella Edemy, Jean Davis, Mae Medders, Ethel Brewington, Audrey Davis, Marguerite Petersen, Merrial Brinkley, Mary Lewis and Gwen Woolford.

Change — A Continuing Commitment."

The emphasis this year was "Strengthening the Family."

At the public luncheon on Saturday afternoon, the delegates heard Dr. Barbara Sizemore, of the University of Pittsburgh make a strong appeal for the continuation of affirmative action programs based on the premise that the white man is where he is because of where the black man was for more than two hundred years.

The family was proclaimed as the most important institution in America, and delegates pledged themselves to the preservation of the family efforts to reduce teen-age parenting, a reaffirmation of the status of women and activities for Top Teens of America as major thrusts.

The Syn-Lod closed on Saturday night with the colorful Orchid Ball hosted by the Dayton Chapter.

Gayzels celebrate 25th year

The Gayzels celebrated the club's twenty-fifth anniversary June 19-21 with a weekend of social activities, including a dinner dance for some 150 guests.

Rounding out the weekend were a shopping trip to Washington, a worship service at St. Katherine's PE Church, and a champagne brunch for the celebrants and their escorts.

Members of the club, which has sponsored a number of civic projects through the years, including an annual scholarship to a graduate of Eastern High School, are Jeanne Davis, president; Mary Lewis, Audrey Davis, Mae Medders, Gwendolyn Woolford, Merriel Brinkley, Marguerite Petersen, Ethel Brewington, Eva Creigler and Ella Edemy who was honored as founder.

Dinner dance guests included:

Messrs. and Mesdames Curtis Walkes, William Willis, Glenn Tarter, Thomas Robinson, Charles Brown, Charles Pynn, William Clark, J. Walter Jackson, Robert Rea, Clifton Gaffin, Wilson Vernon, Franklin Beard, Paul Chester, Theodore Brown, Paul Scott, Riley Singleberry, Samuel Blackwell;

Assertiveness Training

A series of four workshops on assertiveness training will be offered at New Directions for Women's Career Resource Center 2517 N. Charles Street.

The workshops will begin on Wednesday July 8 and run through July 29 from 6-7:30 p.m. The training will be led by Sandy Hues, counselor at New Directions.

Assertiveness training is one of several workshops open to the public this month. It is free to displaced homemakers; $16 for others.

For further information and to preregister, call the Career Resource Center at 366-8570.

Management Seminars

Loyola College will offer six management institute seminars this July on the college's North Charles street from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each day.

A combination of lectures, discussions, and exercises will assist participants in developing skills essential to making interview a useful tool.

For more information or to register, call the Management Institute office at 323-1010, ext. 695.
