Youth prepares for football career

By Najorie R. Green

"Life is like a football game. Sometimes you get tackled, but you know you have to get back up, brush off the dirt and keep on going."

These words of wisdom came from seventeen year old Robert Adams Neverdon Jr., a high school senior working as a Social Security Summer Aid in the mail room of the West High Rise building.

Robert's ambition is to attend a good academic college that offers him an opportunity to play football and prepare himself for a career in engineering or professional football.

"I'm not big, but I'm gifted with speed, streagth and quick reflexes." says Robert who last year attended the Woodlawn Senior High School where he played wide receiver on the school football team.

Since the school closing, Robert on the advice of his counselor, entered the competetion for the Cardinal Gibbons High School football team and was accepted as a running back. "Opportunity knocked, he said, and opened a way for me to pursue my career goals."

After convincing his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Neverdon that his chances for receiving scholarship were better at Cardinal Gibbons than they would be at Woodlawn Senior High, he received permission to transfer schools.

Voicing an eagerness to try a new experience, Robert is excited about leaving his summer job in time to start football practice on August 14.

Our future football great who was born on September 24, displayed all the characteristic of a true Libra when he stated his purpose in getting the job this summer was to prove to himself that he could hold a responsible job and properly manage his money.

He explains that young people of today are striving to make great steps forward but most of them are being pressured by their peers.

A former Karate student, Robert comes from an academic family of achievers and he intends to continue the trend.

He is a member of the Lancer Boys Club and recently attended a week-end youth leadership retreat in Pennsylvania sponsored by Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church on Liberty Heights Avenue.

Although he freely stated his great love and respect for girls, we are convinced that there isn't any one special in his young life.

ADA backs voting rights

The president of ADA, Father Robert F. Drinan, this week, called on Congress to reauthorize the Voting Rights Act and to defeat proposals to weaken "the most important and effective civil rights law ever passed."

Father Drinan said, "As it now stands, the Voting Rights Act is fair, economical, easily enforceable and Constitutional. It has enabled hundreds of thousands of minority citizens to participate in America's political life."

In letters to the members of the House of Representatives, Drinan urged support for HR 3112, sponsored by Rep. Peter Rodino (D-NJ), without further changes and opposed the provisions of HR 3948, sponsored by Rep. Henry Hyde (R-ILL).
