Hats off!

Our salute this week goes to 21 - year - old Gina Pinkney of Baltimore, a senior at Drew University in Madison, NJ, majoring in Sociology, with a minor in Political Science.

In addition to maintaining high grades, Miss Pinkney had unusual travel experiences last semester.

She studied in London.

When she arrived in England, the airport was fogged out, so she showed ingenuity and took advantage of tours to Liverpool and Scotland.

June grad

During the break between classes, she purchased an unlimited student pass, visiting a number of European countries, including Rome, where she saw the Pope greet visitors.

Miss Pinkney graduates in June, presently has plans to find employment, and work on her Master's.

She is an honor graduate of Baltimore's Southwestern High School.

Her mom, Thelma Burkett Pinkney is the telephone employe. Dad is Julius C. Pinkney, the post office supervisor.

Grandpop

Many know her grandpop, Willard A. Pinkney Sr., the retired typewriter - repairman.

Years ago, he had the contract to repair and service all typewriters at this newspaper.

Today, Mr. Pinkney is 90. He and his wife, the former Ann White, the retired teacher, live on Ellamont St., in northwest Baltimore.

Hats off to their granddaughter, Gina, and to Gina's parents and her grands.

Please continue your nominations to this column's Hats Off Section.

Remember, we seek here to say a well done to young people who are doing well at work, in school, church or wherever.

Reason: Too many of us adults fail to commend our young people. And many, only pay attention to them when they do wrong.

Your roots

Mr. Julius Pinkney, mentioned above, has an excellent idea for those who would like to have their family histories become a permanent record.

He suggests that this newspaper encourage readers to write about their families, and this would be appropriate since this newspaper is in its 90th year.

More important, the AFRO is on micro film.

So, if families will donate 2 or 3 rolls of microfilm (tax deducible), to various historical societies, their family history will be available.

Among the historical groups suggested: MD. Historical Society, the Hall of Records, Annapolis; the Archives, Washington DC, and the Mormon Church, Salt Lake City, UT.

Cuff note: If help is needed for research, Baltimore's Pratt Library has all Maryland censuses from 1790 to 1900, plus all AFRO - AMERICAN Newspapers on microfilm.

About people

Get well cards to Dr. James S. Davidson, the Baltimore dentist.

He is recuperating at the home of his sister, Mrs. Gwen Cunningham. Your best wishes will reach him if addressed to 2145 Sharon Lane, Charlotte, NC 28211

MAYOR HARRIS? — Patricia Roberts Harris, second from right, is reportedly running for mayor of Washington, D.C. She is pictured at party hosted in D.C. Saturday, by Judge and Mrs. William Thompson, (l.). Extreme right, her husband, William Harris, the attorney. For more about the event, see If You Ask Me.

On the mend, and hoping to have the cast on her leg removed soon, is Mrs. Sherlock Grinage, (Ivy) She's recuperating at home.

Cheer to John A. Hawkins, the retired AFL - CIO man. He's doing well at his home in Halethorpe, MD. William G. Sykes sends hellos to fellow Baltimoreans from Nigeria, (An African country, 10th largest in the world).

He reports he manages a World Bank and Nigerian - sponsored project of specialists from around the world helping the state governments there to implement new food - production programs.

His headquarters are in Ibadan, the largest city in Nigeria, (with a population of over 3 million!).

He tells of travels within the huge city taking two hours by car, because of traffic jams, of the hot weather, (temperatures in the 100's)

Cuff note: Sykes says he is looking forward to the end of March, "when I can be reunited with my family and the wonderful people of Baltimore."

More people

A Baltimore - born youngster, Sheryl Greene, the young actress, has been appearing in the Maryland area. She plays the part of Lady In Red in the "For Colored Girls Only."

It was seen in Frederick at the Weinberg Center for the Arts on Feb. 5.

Frederick's morticians — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hicks (Marie), hosted a champagne - dinner for the cast, and invited local residents to meet them.

Among local guests Frederick publisher, George B. Delaphaine Jr., and wife, Betty; Mr. and Mrs. Chris Tyree, (Dr. Blanche Bourne); Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gates, (he's prof of sculpture at George Washington U.)

And from Baltimore, the young actress' mother, Mrs. Lonnie W. Greene, (Seretha), and daughter, Lonnia.

Cuff note: The play was also seen by a large crowd on Feb. 14, at Stephens Hall Auditorium at Towson State University.

Sheryl is a graduate of Boston U. in theatre arts. This is her second year of tour with For Colored Girls Only. (Correct name of this Wtozake Shange play is "For Colored Girls Who Have Considered Suicide When The Rainbow Is Enough."

Hellians

Top social event in Washington around this time of the year is the Valentine Party given by the Hellians, a men's social club whose members include the top business and professionals in the nation's capital.

On Friday evening, (Feb. 12), their 34th annual, attracted guests from all over the country. It was at the Shoreham.

The evening began with cocktails, followed by dinner, (filet mignon), after which there was dancing until midnight to the music of the - James McPhail Orchestra. (Their soft tone music during the dinner hour was most relaxing) and drew frequent applause from guests.

Guests at the black tie affair were provided special 8 page programs, listing all invited guests by names, (no titles) - for who needed them when among the invited guests, Marion Barry, the mayor and his wife, (who were in Florida and unable to attend).

But former mayor, Walter Washington and Mrs. Washington were there. So were Chief Judge Carl Moultrie and his wife, Sara; and Howard U. Law dean, Wiley Branton and wife Lucille; and Judge and Mrs. Luke Moore (Dorsey).

Up from Richmond, VA. State Senator Douglas Wilder and Debbie Witcher.

Mayor Harris?

Also there, former HUD Secretary Patricia Harris and her hubby, William, the attorney.

Those in political circles in DC, are saying that Pat Harris might consider running for mayor of the nation's capital, but she did not commit herself when we asked her about it?

The Edmond Johnsons, (Chuck and Theora), treated their guests to special Valentine flowers and gifts.

She was a picture in a floor - length, sheer black with gold dots, with the same dots repeated on the underskirt.

The Johnsons' daughter, Bunny and hubby, Horace Webb from Iowa, were at their table. Baltimoreans at their table included Sam and Barbara Owings and Bea and David Wright.

Baltimore

Other Baltimoreans seen in the crowd: Phyllis and Mike Moore, Dot and Junky Wood, Jean and Ken Wilson, and Warren Weaver, who squired Grace Gladden.

More guests with Baltimore ties, James and Louise Gilliam, now of Wilmington, DE., Sam and Gloria Massie of Laurel; Althea and Larry Moore of Laurel; the Otto McClarrins, (Justine), formerly of our town, now of DC. Merle and Jackie Smith of Silver Spring, formerly on the Morgan faculty.

And a loving, new couple from Baltimore in attendance was Joe Walker and Vivian Pendleton.

Detroit guests there included the Marshall Hills, (Norma); and Melvin and Helen Jefferson.

Dr. and Mrs. James Jones, (he's a member), were down from NY. She's the former Ada Fisher. Morganites still fondly call him "Rumps" — for his football prowess. A month back, fellow New Yorkers honored him for dedicated community service.

Thompsons

A number of Hellians and their guests were at the Saturday evening party hosted by Audrey and William Thompson (Judge Thompson, that is — friends call him "Turkey.").

It was at the Capital Hilton, with music by the same McPhail outfit. The buffet table was dominated by a huge red ice - sculptured heart.

As usual, after the Hellians' affair, and after the Thompsons' the next night, there was room - hopping until the wee hours.

Hellian members, not mentioned above, (you have to put the titles to them - they're all well - known), are: C. F. Adams, Andrew D. Bryant, Samuel L. Bullock, James H. Carpenter, William T. Carter, John W. Clark, Thomas Collier, Paul P. Cooke, (he's the school exec.);

And, Orlando W. Darden, Jesse O. Dedmon, William S. Gary, Sylvester R. Hall, Victor L. Hancock, Elmer W. Henderson, (the Baltimorean and long government exec.);

And James L. Mack, Oscar L. Mims, Addison P. Rand, Linwood Rayford, DeWitt Webster, J. Worden Yancey, C. Mason Quick and Andrew K. Roberts are associate members.

Milt Layton

Milton Sims Layton, 70, was eulogized on Feb. 6, at Northwood Appold Methodist Church.

Born in Baltimore, he was the son of Mrs. Theresa Parker Layton and the late Henry Layton.

He attended Baltimore public schools, Morgan State and VA State Universities.

Good humor

In those days - when city schools were jim crow-almost everybody knew Milt Layton. He had a friendly personality and people enjoyed his good humor.

Before his prolonged illness, he had been employed for 30 years at Bethlehem Steel Co.

Survivors include his mother, his wife, the former Lillian Stokes, a city teacher; daughters, Anna Louise, Jeannglynne, and Lauren Alicee; and an adopted son, Wallace Gray.

Chatman Funeral Home handled arrangements.

Pallbearers were: George Stokes, Ronald Covington, Jerry Hollinger, Larry Braxton, Eddie Nelson, James Williams, Algie Andrews, Charles Williams, John Stokes, Virgil Moore ad Wallace Gray.
