

provided in this section, a corporation is not permitted to conduct the business of a funeral director and embalmer.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to any corporation licensed for the occupation of either funeral director or embalmer, or both, on June 1, 1945. Any such corporation may continue under this sub-title to hold a license as and to practice the occupation of funeral director and embalmer in this State, so long as the license is held continuously without interruption.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section a corporation which was formed during World War II to carry on the business of any person who was licensed as a funeral director and who was engaged in the business of funeral director or embalmer at the time of his induction into the Armed Forces of the United States during World War II, may continue to hold a license under this subtitle and to practice the occupation of funeral director and embalmer in this State, so long as the holding and practice are continuous, and so long as any such corporation is owned and operated by members of the immediate family of the person who was so inducted into the Armed Forces during World War II, including a father, mother, wife or widow, brother, sister and/or children, the corporation is entitled to all the rights and privileges of a licensee under this subtitle. An application made by a partnership or a co-partnership under this sub-title shall state the names and addresses of the persons composing the partnership or co-partnership and a license issued to the partnership or co-partnership also shall state these names and addresses.

(e) An application from a corporation under this subtitle shall state the names and addresses of the officers and directors of the corporation and a license issued to the corporation also shall list these names and addresses.

352. Veterans.

(a) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in this subtitle an honorably discharged veteran of World War II who is a graduate of a recognized college of embalming and who has held a license and who has actually engaged in the practice of funeral directing and embalming in another state for a period of five years, and who has practiced in this State as a duly registered apprentice funeral director and embalmer for one year is entitled to be licensed to practice the occupation of funeral director and embalmer in Maryland without the necessity of taking an examination.

(b) A licensee under this subtitle who is inducted into the Armed Forces of the United States for a temporary period and on any basis other than a career basis is exempt from the requirement for securing an annual renewal of his license during the period of such induction and service.

353. Widows.

Upon the death of any person licensed under this subtitle to practice the occupation of funeral director and embalmer, his surviving widow, if any, provided she is not herself the holder of a license under this subtitle may apply for a widow's license in order to con-
