Pierians host 25th anniversary celebration

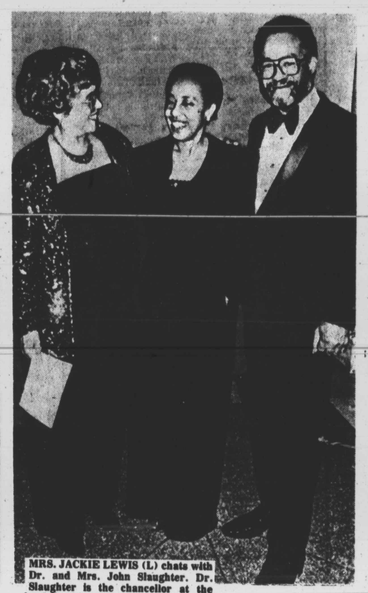
DR. AND MRS. HAROLD RAMSEY strike a happy pose for the camera.



MRS. JACKIE LEWIS (L) chats with Dr. and Mrs. John Slaughter. Dr. Slaughter is the chancellor at the University of Maryland, College Park.

PIERIAN HONOREE Dr. James Lewis receives award from Mrs. Glenn Tarter, past president.

MRS. LESTER WALLACE, presents award to honoree vice president, Pierians, Norman Ross.

IN A HAPPY MOOD are (L to R): Eugene Stanley, Mrs. Betty J. Eubanks and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lamb.

The Baltimore chapter of the Pierians, Inc. celebrated their 25th anniversary recently. The gala affair was held at the famous Walters Art Gallery. It drew lawyers, judges, law makers, teachers and supporters from throughout the State and beyond.

Meticulously planned, the event, which had all of the elements of a first - class anniversary celebration — cocktail hour, catered buffet dinner and a well - put - together program was richly endured.

The highlight of the evening was a portion of the program when two distinguished Baltimore patrons of the arts were honored and the beloved founder was introduced — Mrs. Ernest B. Johnson (Annette).

The Black Tie Affair got underway at 5:30 as guests, as with pony express, neither rain nor fog deterred them from attending the swanky affair. Everything was planned to perfection. Coats checked at 5:30 followed by exhibition that lasted until 6:30.

The sumptuous art, "The Ivory" was viewed during this period and guests were able to share the exhibit with others and at the same time, between stations, chat with friends.

At each exhibit guests heard soft music by the Robert Smith String Quartet which lasted throughout the evening.

The next stop was the main court for cocktails and a scrumptuous buffet dinner catered by Bluefeld Caterers, after which guests assembled in the Graham Auditorium at 8:15 for the program that lasted until 9 p.m.

Mrs. James M. Mebane charmed her way to the mike and presided over the interesting program. She gave warm greetings to the three hundred guests in attendance after which she introduced Mrs. G. Luther

CLARKS, ALLENS CELEBRATE

A recent meeting of SCORE (Social Couples Organized for Relaxation and Entertainment) turned out to be a combination birthday - anniversary celebration.

The gala held at the Talbott Rd. home of Judge and Mrs. Milton Allen (Martha) was to mark Judge Allen's birthday and was a surprise anniversary fete for William "Bill" and Virginia Clark, of Arunah Ave., Catonsville.

Bill and Virginia, both recently retired, the from the Baltimore City Police Dept. and she from Anne Arundel County Public Schools) just thought they were going to club meeting to celebrate Judge Allen's birthday.

But after their arrival, folks kept saying congratulations on your anniversary and, over dinner hostess Martha Allen announced it.

The delectable menu included stuffed chicken breast over creamed broccoli, tossed salad, a fruit compote, hot rolls, cake and ice cream, coffee, tea, wine and other cocktails.

There was live piano music throughout dinner by Richard Blackwell, who also sang "Happy Birthday" and "Happy Anniversary" to the Judge Allen and to the Clarks respectively.

Following dinner, honorees and guests enjoyed games of cards. There were numerous cards of well wishes and gifts for both honorees. There were also two special cakes for both occasions, and special toasts were drunk.

An eye-catching centerpiece of fruit arranged by the hostess was in the center of the dining room table and fresh flowers and greenery were throughout the house, including a huge poinsettia to put all in the holiday spirit.

Out to help the Allens and the Clarks celebrate were Lottie and James Cole, Catherine and Arthur Creigler, Delores and Judson Kerr, Bernice and Abraham Lynn, Mary and Calvin Parker, Gloria and Harry Parker, Mary and Aaron Ellis.
