IDA PETERS What's Happening

A Look Back At 1983

April

George Clinton and his P-Funk hit town with his "Atomic Dog" which sold out everywhere they went in 1983. Tour was supposed to end April 17 and was extended for 25 more dates. They sold out Capitol Center and the Red Parrott in NYC.

April 14, Cab Calloway starred with ten of the most talented entertainers from the nations' black colleges and universities at the Kennedy Center at their 8th Annual National Conference on Blacks in Higher Education. Cab was saluted in his hometown, Baltimore, April 13.

Pam Grier had one of the few meaningful roles for black actresses with Jason Robarts in "Something Wicked This Way Comes". She came to town and explained her dual role as "The Dust Witch" and "The Most Beautiful Woman In the World".

Robert Wood of Baltimore found his daughter on NBC's national television show "Fantasy".

Geoffrey Holder performed at Bowie State College on April 23; Dr. Charles H. King Jr. of the Urban Crises Center, /Atlanta and made the town sit up and take notice while he promoted his book "Fire In My Bones"... about shocking white folks into change.

Lou Gossett won an Academy Award for his role in "An Officer and A Gentleman". He was the third black in 55 years of the Academy Awards to win. Hattie McDaniel won in 1939 for "Gone With the Wind" and Sidney Poitier in 1963 for "Lillies of the Field".

At the end of April, Amiri Baraka was at Morgan State University for a Black Theatre Conference.

May 1983—AFRO's Vanessa Johnson captured Lena Horne at her press conference at Warner Theatre.

Pam Grier had only meaningful role in 1983 in "Something Wicked This Way Comes."

May 1983—Muddy Waters, King of Chicago Blues dies.

Jazz great Earl "Fatha" Hines died at age 77- at Merritt Hospital in Oakland, Calif.

May

The King of Chicago Blues, Muddy Waters was buried May 4. He died of a massive heart attack in his sleep April 30. He was 68.

That glamorous lady, Lena Horne came to D.C. for a months stay and we interviewed her at a massive press conference at the Warner Theatre. AFRO's Vanessa Johnson captured her on film. At 65, she has clear eyes and beautiful skin.

By mid-May everybody was talking about Irene Cara and her song for the movie "Flashdance... What A Feeling". Patti LaBelle in Baltimore at the Lyric to star in "Your Arms Too Short To Box With God". Immediately after closing she got part in "A Soldier's Story" in Little Rock Arkansas. Howard Rollins with Adolph Caesar star.

The Dance Theatre of Harlem starred two Baltimoreans Keith Saunders and Theara Ward. On the second anniversary of Bob Marley's death reggae fans pelted a modern-art statue of the hero with rocks and fruit because it did not bear sufficient resemblance to the super-star.

Jackie Wilson's new album, a two-record set that spanned a long and brilliant career was released by Epic Records.

June

Herbie Hancock, Wynton Marsalis, Branford Marsalis, Ron Carter, and Tony Williams started the VSOP II World Tour and played Baltimore Civic Center, JFK Center and Hampton, Va.

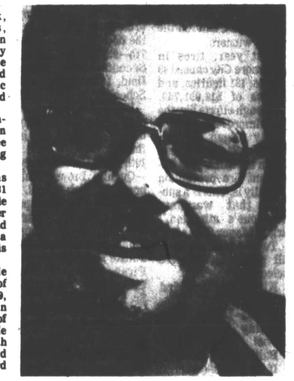
"Sophisticated Ladies" came to town with Dee Dee Bridgewater and Gregg Burge.

Marvin Gaye was hospitalized, May 31 after a grueling schedule of four concerts over Memorial Day weekend in New York. He got a rest and continued his fabulous tour.

Friends nationwide mourned the death of James A. Johnson, 39, senior publicist in promotion department of Paramount Pictures. He did "Leadbelly" with Roger Mosley and "Ragtime" with Howard Rollins.

At the end of June, Sir Walter Jackson collapsed shortly after midnight on Father's Day in Chicago. He was memorialized on June 22.

GEORGE CLINTON'S 1983 "Atomic Dog" concert tour was a smashing success. Note diaper and animal skins.



Sir Walter Jackson who was beloved by his lady fans for his hits "Feelings" and "Send In The Clowns" died of a massive stroke in Chicago in June, 1983.

BOB MATTHEWS Night Scene Seen

Want to wish everyone a joyous new year, with hopes that the Night Scene keeps on swinging and hope you will too.

Tried to check up on what is going on at the Left Bank Jazz society's lineup for the year, and ran into a bit of a stumper.

According to all of the schedules, the LBJS was to return from its holiday hiatus on Jan. 30, with the Wynton Marsalis group—but all this has been changed.

According to inside sources, the first session will happen on Feb. 5, with the artist not yet firmly booked. Word is that the opening attraction will be Les McCann, but it is not yet confirmed.

Don't know what happened to the Marsalis gig, but strongly suspect that the timing had something to do with it. After all, Wynton is appearing at Blues Alley in D.C. next week.

Usually, it is expedient for the artists to get as many bookings in an area as possible before moving on, for let's face it, idleness is not a way to buy groceries.

For your information, the group called Rare Silk is holding down the center stage at Blues Alley in D.C. this weekend. Guess you could call them a Lambert - Hendricks-Ross type of act, for they do material in that vein.

Their closest known influence could be the Manhattan Transfer, which does music of a similar style.

Was in the Sphinx Club before Christmas—the AFRO held its Christmas party there—and had a chance to chat with the owner, Charlie Tilghman.

With all seriousness, Charlie told us that the club would not be open for New Year's Eve, for he planned to close down for a while.

Kinda chuckled a bit, for we have heard this kind of talk from Charlie many times—in fact, he has indeed closed down on occasion, so asked him:

"What about your son Randy, who has been helping to run the place."

Charlie looked nonplused, and said simply: "He'll be unemployed, I guess."

Well—it didn't happen. Was talking to our friend Walter Carr of the Nightlifer, who had gotten the exact same word from Charlie. And that's what he printed.

But lo and behold, the club did not close—is not closed—and from where we sit, doesn't seem like it has any intention of closing.

The party continues.

Have heard nothing but good words about the appearance of Brook Benton et al at the Famous on New Year's Eve. 'Tis said he was in fine voice, and really captured the crowd.

We're happy about the whole thing, and hope that Maxine will continue to bring acts into town. Baltimore really needs them.

The Jimmy Wells Quartet continues on Wednesday nights at the Jean Edouards Pub at 102 Water St. The sessions happen on the third floor, and has a 90-cent cover charge.

Haven't made one of the sets yet, but plan to. After all, we keep hearing so much about the happenings downtown that it behooves all of us to check things out. Along with Jimmy, the rest of the group include Reppard Stone on keyboards; Gary Richardson, bass, and Warren Gantt, drums.

In case you have been wondering where Fuzzy Kane has been playing these days, you can find him at the Cafe Regine out in Towson. The place used to be called Bixby's, and it is definitely worth checking out.

The Classique over on Greenmount Ave. is fast becoming one of the top nightclub attractions in the city, with Lady Rebecca Anderson in place on some nights, and the Morris Dow Trio on others...O'Donel Levy and his group are at the Park Plaza for the weekend...At the King of France tavern in Annapolis, Carol Sloane and Gene Bertoncini are on tap through Sunday night.

Ruby Dee, Earle Hyman win cable awards

"Long Day's Journey Into Night" Ties for Top Drama Honor - Stars Ruby Dee and Earle Hyman Are Named Best Actress and Actor; "To Dance for Gold" Receives News&Special Events Award.

Two programs produced by ABC Vidwo Enterprises, and which premiered on theirstABC's ARTS cable service, have been honor- ed as winners of the prestigious ACE Awards for 1983, sponsored by the National Cable Television Association.

ABC Video Enterprises' version of Eugene O'Neill's Pulitzer Prize-winning play, "Long Day's Journey Into Night," tied with HBO's "The Terry Fox Story" for the ACE Award for "Excellence in a Single Program: Best Dramatic Presentation - Over 60 Minutes." Performed for the first time by an all-black cast, this version of O' Neill's classic starred Ruby Dee and Earle Hyman. Those performers received ACE Awards for, respectively, Best Performance by an Actress and Best Performance by an Actor, in a Dramatic Presentation. "Long Day's Journey Into Night" was directed for ABC Video Enterprises by William Woodman and produced by David Lown.

Ruby Dee has achieved critical and popular success in television, in films and on the theatrical stage, where she received an Obie Award and a Drama Desk Award.

Earle Hyman was last seen by Broadway audiences in Edward Albee's "Lady from Dubuque," for which he received a Tony Award nomination for Best Actor. He spent five seasons at the American Shakespeare Festival playing numerous roles. He also appeared in over 100 television shows.

"To Dance for Gold," a 90-minute program produced for ABC Video Enterprises by Josephy Wishy and directed by Lou Volpicelli, received the ACE Award for "Excellence in a Single Program: News or Special Event Coverage." The program focuses on the Second International Ballet Competition in Jackson, Mississippi, and was produced in cooperation with the Mississippi Authority for Educational Television and the South Carolina Educational Television Authority.

In Memoriam

HUNT—In loving memory of my beloved husband, EMMANUEL LEE HUNT, who passed away January 9, 1972:
Though now I walk thru life alone,
The path we once together trod,
I walk with eager happy steps
For each leads nearer you and God.
Devoted Wife, ELIZABETH HUNT

JACKSON—In memory of, NELSON SHERWOOD JACKSON, who passed away June 28, 1981:
We do not forget him,
We love him too dearly
For his memory to fade,
From out lives like a dream:
Our lips need not speak,
When our hearts mourn sincerely.
For grief often dwells,
Where it seldom is seen.
Wife, MARJORIE V. JACKSON
GERTRUDE JACKSON and CHILDREN

SCRIBNER—In loving memory of my dear son, CHARLES LOUIS SCRIBNER JR., who passed away January 4, 1979:
Now you are gone, we miss you so.
No gift, no kiss, on you to bestow.
A voice is still within our home.
A place, a vacant that can never be filled.
But in our hearts, you will linger still.
Loving Mother, DAISY SCRIBNER and FAMILY

Birthday Tributes

MOORS—A Birthday Tribute to the memory of our mother and grandmother, DORIS ANITA MOORS, on her birthday, January 5th, who passed away December 10, 1970.
Mother dear its been thirteen years.
Since God took you away,
But your Birthday holds sweet memories in our hearts.
Loving Children
DORETHA, CASSANDRA, STERLING
BRENDA and GRANDCHILDREN and GREAT GRANDSON

BURLEY—A Birthday Tribute in memory of my dear mother, 'AMEY BURLEY on her birthday January 1.
New Year's day, who passed November 16, 1973.
Happy Birthday Mother.
When days are dark and lonely,
And everything goes wrong,
I seem to hear you whisper,
When I see your face.
You seem to smile and say,
'Don't grieve, I'm only sleeping,
And we'll meet again some day.
Always Daughter,
ANNIE TURNER
