If You Ask Me

By Bettye Moss

Hats off!

Salute of the week to Ms. Jean Tucker Adams. She is the executive assistant to Maryland's Governor Harry Hughes, a post she has held since 1980.

Whether at her office in Annapolis, or representing the state's chief executive at public functions, Ms. Adams is a striking picture and performs in a professional manner.

We heard Ms. Adams extend greetings on the Governor's behalf at the recent Delta Sigma Theta Sorority 71st anniversary. She was tops. The audience gave her sustained applause. Made you proud!

Governor Hughes can learn here that Ms. Adams is a first rate representative who looks good, talks well, and has a message of importance to encourage her audience. Hats off to her!

Next time you hear someone who performs well, please write this column's Hats Off section.

Help us prove that people do NOT talk about others just to criticize, that they do take time to praise others who do well.

More Adams

Jean Tucker Adams, our Hats Off subject this week, has many honors and accomplishments to her credit.

Before joining the Hughes staff, she was Deputy Director, Human Resources to Baltimore Mayor William Donald Schaefer. Prior to that she was a teacher in the city schools, an assistant regional director with Juvenile Services, and an adjunct professor at Loyola College.

Ms. Adams holds degrees from Coppin State College and the U. of Md., and has done doctoral studies at the U. of Southern California.

On the Hughes staff, Ms. Adams' duties include functioning as liaison between the governor and the department of human resources, employment and training, participating in policy and fiscal planning processes of the departments, as well as assisting in the preparation of speeches and legislative testimony, and representing the chief executive at public meetings.

AIDE TO GOVERNOR is Ms. Jean Tucker Adams, executive assistant to Maryland's Governor Harry Hughes. Read more about her in If You Ask Me.

Her family

Ms. Adams has been single head of a household for the past 14 years. She has two sons, Stuart, 19, a Hampton Institute sophomore, and Scott, 15, a ninth grader at City College.

The family resides in the Mt. Washington section of Baltimore, and attends Heritage United Church of Christ.

Of her sons, Ms. Adams says, "They have always demonstrated a great deal of loving understanding and tolerance of me during years that have included graduate studies and jobs that have required long and unpredictable working hours . . . they have a strong sense of self and a value system that I admire . . ."

Ms. Adams' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Tucker, (Mary Irene). They have been East Baltimore residents for over 50 years. Mr. Tucker is a retired crane operator at Bethlehem Steel, where he worked 40 years.

The Tuckers attend Zion Baptist Church, where Mrs. Tucker served as the first church secretary in 1933.

About people

The Rev. Porter W. Phillips, minister of Enon Baptist Church, suffered a heart attack during the Sunday services. He remains in intensive care at Mercy Hospital. A church spokesman said Thursday he is improved.

W. Emerson Brown, the attorney who had brain surgery last month, was back in Hopkins Hospital for tests this week, is now resting at home.

Dr. James D. Carr, the physician and longtime Health Department exec., is undergoing tests at Provident Hospital.

Also in Provident. Jimmy Ray, the Fox Chevvie salesman.

George Russell, the attorney and former judge, is the new Master in Chancery, named last Thursday by Baltimore Circuit Court judges, (formerly Supreme Bench).

New Morgan U. First family notes: Dr. John Stanford Richardson, who was named Morgan State University interim president this week, is just 40 years old.

He is a native of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, and the second Marylander to head Morgan (First was Dr. Dwight O. W. Holmes, the distinguished president from 1934 - 66).

Dr. Richardson is the youngest of 11 children, the first in his generation to finish college, although his brothers and sisters are all involved in meaningful careers.

Dr. Richardson is a graduate of Md. State College, now University of Maryland, Eastern Shore in Princess Anne (UMES). He is considered a whiz of an administrator and educator.

In his days as an Air Force lieutenant, those who knew him then relate many instances where he ran the show for commanding officers who relied entirely on his decisions. Wow!

Family: Mrs. Richardson is the former Sheila Bunting of Oklahoma City. She's a graduate of Lincoln U., Mo., and Alabama State College and is employed as community coordinator in the office of minority affairs at the U. of Md. in College Park.

They have a son, Eric Anthony, 6.

Shortly after Dr. Richardson assumed his job as assistant to UM President John Toll, over a year ago, the family moved to the Forest Park section of Baltimore, where they now reside. (They are in the old Whitaker residence)

Delta sorors: —Mrs. Richardson is one of you. Alpha Phi Alpha men, Dr. Richardson wears the gold and black.

Hurt is '84

People doing nice things for others. Sunday was the 84th birthday of Coach Edward P. Hurt. So leave it to Vandola King, an old family friend, to arrange a unique party.

She's the widow of Douglas King, the longtime Bates High School principal of Annapolis, now living in Altamonte Springs, Florida.

She made all the arrangements, long distance, saw that guests were invited, including former associates and athletes he trained while the beloved Morgan State University coach from 1929-72.

The event was at the Hurt home on Montebello Terrace in Morgan Park. Rachel and Philip Brown were here from Annapolis, with the birthday cake, decorated with happy birthday decor, just as ordered by the hostess. Joining in arranging for the cake were the Carroll Hymons and the James Hilliards, all from Annapolis.

Pinkney Clark and his wife, Bernice followed orders, came with the orange napkins with blue decor. Dr. and Mrs. Richard McKinney, contributed blue and orange floral arrangement highlighted with brown bear, which is the Morgan mascot.

Who was there

The honoree's wife, Bea, and his sister, Mrs. Appye Bell were in on the planning. Guests from D.C., former Morgan star, Otis Troupe and wife, Caroline;

From Philadelphia, Dr. James Rogers, onetime track star, and his brother, Kenny, also track star under Coach Hurt.

From Cheyney, Pa., Patrick and Edith Walker, he's former football star.

From N.J. — onetime member of Hurt's Flying Four track team, Otis Johnson.

Baltimoreans about: Messrs. and Mesdames John J. Hurt, Robert Cragway, Roy Cragway Sr., John Nash, Herman Wade, Alfred Moore, James Williams.

Also about, Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Billingsley, Dr. J. Lloyd Nickens Sr., John W. Williams, Dodanna Rajeana, and his sister - in - law, Mrs. Eila Mae Bailey from Dallas, who was here in the area for Mrs. Rajeana's funeral (She was the Morgan prof physical ed prof.).

Other guests, Miss Brenda Monroe, Mrs. Peggy Cunningham, and son, Michael; Alonso Coltman, Mrs. Ruth White, Capt. and Mrs. Avis T. Bailey from Annapolis and Dr. Roy Cragway Jr.

In Memoriam

MUSGROVE—In loving memory of our dear husband and father, ELDIE ELLSWORTH MUSGROVE, who fell asleep on February 17 1983.
One year has passed since that sad day
When the one we loved was called away;
God took him home - it was His will;
Within our hearts he lives still.
Wife, VERNICE MUSGROVE and CHILDREN

TATE—In loving memory of our loved one, VIVIAN D. TATE, who passed away February 19, 1981:
Bless our mother, Lord we pray,
Keep her safe from day to day;
Give to her an extra share,
Of thy tender, loving care.
For the things she did for us,
We'll be ever grateful thus,
As she sleeps when day is done
Make her rest a happy one;
Bless our Mother, Lord, we pray
Bless her now and every day.
In Loving Memory,
YOUR HUSBAND and CHILDREN,
GRANDCHILDREN, and GREAT-GRANDCHILDREN

Birthday Tributes

FLOYD— A Birthday Tribute in loving memory of REV. GEORGE C. FLOYD on his birthday February 17, who passed away February 3, 1970.
It seems like only yesterday,
We saw your smiling face.
But now your link in our family chain
Is just an empty space
We know your happy ur above,
With our father on high
And oneday we will see you,
In the sweet by and by.
