NCNW sets goals for anniversary celebration

The National Council of Negro Women begin their 50th anniversary year in 1985 with your major priority goals, according to president Dorothy I. Height.

Major emphasis will be placed in the coming year on the establishment of programs dealing with the rising problem of adolescent motherhood and single parenting.

In addition, the NCNW will focus on approaches to major global problems by organizing workshops in many U.S. cities on how to influence world hunger and advancement of education issues.

Thirdly, in preparation for the United Nations international women's conference (held once every ten years) in Nairobi, Kenya in November of 1985, the NCNW will hold hearings in twenty U.S. cities on the economic state of Black women in the United States.

And finally, the NCNW and its national member organizations, who assembled organizations, who assembled in Washington last weekend for their biennial national conference, have as their goal to continue strengthening their coalition by extending their membership outreach by one million new members.
