MSU Alumni groups host third annual Legislative Reception

VISITORS FROM PHILADELPHIA who were on hand for the Third Annual Legislative Reception hosted by Morgan's Alumni Association were (L to R): Mrs. Emma Minott, John Griswold, Doris Butts and Karles V. Jones. The reception was held at the Thomas Lowe Building in Annapolis, MD Monday, Feb. 6.

MRS. CYNTHIA HARVEY (L) and Dr. Ernest Hammond, the newly elected President of Morgan's Faculty Senate, greet Delegate Howard "Pete" Rawlings (far right).

AMONG THE MORGAN REPRESENTATIVES were Abraham Moore, Vice President for Finance and Management; Francis Gates, Board of Regents member; and Dean Talbert O. Shaw.

GLORIA BRYANT, (L) her husband Michael and Nina Dobson were present to "buttonhole" the members of Maryland's legislative body during the reception.

Annapolis was alive with excitement and festivities as Morgan State University's National Alumni Association, its local chapters and clubs hosted their third annual reception for Maryland's legislative body.

The gala event was overflowing with more than 250 guests including Senators and Delegates from Baltimore City and virtually every county in the State.

Additionally, there were numerous representatives of Morgan's Board of Regents, staff, faculty and students present to participate in the merriment while talking to legislators about matters of vital interest to Morgan's future growth such as the budget adequate funding for the Engineering School and the Science Complex, as well as other physical improvements and programmatic enhancements needed at the University.

Held in the Environmental Matters Hearing Room of the Lowe Office Building on College Avenue, the purpose of the reception was to further strengthen channels of communication between elected officials and the various organizations that have supported Morgan over the years.

Additionally, the event was designed to create an aura of ambience wherein the newly-appointed President, members of the Board of Regents and other University officials could converse with legislators on an informal basis.

National concern about the State Legislature's role in shaping Morgan's future has been demonstrated continuously through the cooperative funding of the annual receptions by the following alumni chapters and clubs: M.J. Naylor[4] Chapter, Howard L. Cornish Chapter, the Varsity "M" Club, and the Golden Bears, Inc. of Baltimore; the New York Chapter: the Detroit Chapter of Michigan; the Chicago Chapter of Illinois; the Richmond Chapter of Virginia; the New County Delaware Chapter: the Philadelphia Chapter of Pennsylvania; the Class of 1950; the Washington, D.C. Chapter; the New Jersey

Want to Call A Halt To Salt?

Studies show that sodium may contribute to high blood pressure and its related problems. Our Calling a Halt to Salt brochure is filled with information to help you cut back on salt and still enjoy what you eat. Here are some ideas:

- Season foods with lemon juice or onion and garlic powders. Use plenty of herbs and spices in place of salt. Try some of the delicious spice blends listed in our brochure.
- Check product labels to see if salt or sodium containing ingredients are listed.
- Try Giant brand no salt added products. We have a variety of canned vegetables, snack foods and breads.

For other suggestions, recipes and a listing of the sodium content of many foods, pick up our Calling a Halt to Salt brochure at the Consumer Information Center in any Giant Food store.
