Founders, a candlelight Roll Call was conducted by Mrs. Betty M. Moss, Ms. Frances Murphy and Mrs. Ida Peters, daughters of Founder Vashti Turley Murphy. Daughter Frances Murphy ended the Roll Call by sharing a beautiful tribute to her mother.

Co-Chairperson Ellen Howard read an appropriate selection entitled "In Memory of Delta Founders." The blessing was given by Mrs. Louise Jackson, Chaplain.

Past National President, Mae Wright Peck made a champagne toast to the Diaspora Celebration.

Guest Speaker for the occasion was the distinguished, Mrs. Lynnette Taylor, National Chair-Projects-Program Planning and Development, Delta Sigma Theta, Inc.

Receiving a standing ovation, she brought an informative and thought-provoking message to the audience in reference to the African Diaspora. Incidentally, Mrs. Taylor had just returned from Kenya.

Mrs. Taylor was presented with gifts from Ms. Jean Adams, Executive Assistant to Governor Hughes, Bernellyn Carey, representing Mayor Schaefer, and Mary Demory, President of the Baltimore Alumnae Chapter.

Another highlight was the presentation of awards. Dr. Beryl Williams, received the Vashti Turley Murphy Award, the sorority's highest honor.

Receiving awards for outstanding public service were: Lillian F. Gundy, Ellen Dolvey-Howard, Louise Hare Jackson, Bernice Mitchell McDaniels, Gertrude L. Neale, and Patsy C. Newgbaraocha.

Melodiously sung, musical selections such as "Hush, Come By Here, Lord"; "Lift Every Voice," and "Reach Out and Touch" were rendered by the Paul Lawrence Dunbar Senior High School Alumnae Singers, directed by Hugh Carey.

After Sorors serenaded guests with the Delta Sweetheart Song, Co-Chairpersons Howard and Woodland appropriately concluded the evening with special words formerly spoken by Delta's Late Past President, Lillian Benbow.

"With these hands I cannot defile you
They are to lift you, my sister.
With these words I cannot demean you
They are to encourage and comfort you, my sister.
With this strength I cannot destroy you
It is to defend you my sister
With this heart I cannot reject you
It is to love you my sister."

At the close of the evening, guests remained to view the elaborate, and well appointed display of African artifacts. It was evident that many of the five hundred guests in attendance had been motivated, educated and inspired, by both activities, and they left ready to join Delta in its International Mission - an awareness of the African Diaspora.

On the 1985 Founders' Day Committee were Ellen D. Howard, Co-Chairperson; Julia B. Michaels is the evening drive at WBGR from 3-7 p.m.

Both Rev. Green and Evang. Caeser have become recent Grammy Award nominees. Each have had an extensive involvement in the music industry and have recorded a duo hit "Sailing On The Sea Of Love," which remained at the top of the Billboard chart for a number of weeks.

A portion of the proceeds for the $10 musical festival will benefit the Ethiopia Famine Drive.

Liberation theology Morgan conference

Dr. Joseph R. Washington, Jr.

Liberation theology will be the subject of an all day joint convocation to be held at Morgan State University's Christian Center on Saturday, February 9, 9-4 p.m.

Student bodies of Morgan State and Coppin State are the sponsors of the event.

Two speakers have been invited to present two points of view on liberation theology.

Sister Rosalinda Ramires, currently administrative coordinator of the Theology in Americas Project out of New York City, will be talking on the contribution of liberation theology to a progressive community a la Latin America.

Sister Ramires is a noted spiritual counselor and retreat director. She is a consultant on interracial ultural relations, a free lance lecturer and a member of the U.S.A., Caribbean and Europe Inter-religious Task Force on Central America.

Professor Otto Begus, chairman of Morgan's philosophy department, will respond to her presentation.

Dr. Joseph R. Washington, Jr., currently professor of religious studies and chairman of Afro-American studies at the University of Pennsylvania, will speak on he contribution of liberation theology to a progressive community a la black America.

He has been a former professor of religious studies at the Universities of Virginia and California at Riverside. Dr. Washington has published several books such as "Black Religion" and "Anti-blackness in English Religion 1500-1800."

Rev. Dr. Olin Moyd, pastor of Mt. Lebanon Baptist Church and lecturer at St. Mary's Seminary, will respond to Dr. Washington's presentation.

Cameron Carter's Coppin State College Choir and the Morgan Chapel Singers will provide music for the occasion.

General discussions will follow after each presentation.

The only cost for the day's experience will be a buffet luncheon. It is $6.

The convocation will be the first of its kind sponsored by the two schools.

"Liberation theology deals with the liberation of the poor, in body and spirit," remarked Bishop Edward G. Carroll, Morgan's Christian director and host of the convocation.

"It advocates that the church should be on the side of the poor. The Catholic Church has taken a lead in that in Latin America.

"This conference being held at Morgan is intended to inform people more about the theology, and we also would like for the joint venture from the students of Coppin and Morgan to develop a close relationship between us."

"While aiming at establishing a long-time relationship between the two of us, we hope to raise the consciousness of people about liberation theology.

"It is a theology that definitely has some relevance to blacks because it forces you on the sides of the poor, and many of us certainly are that. We can relate.

"The black church has always advocated liberation theology, for it has always been active in those involvements to help the poor and needy."

Further information about the convocation can be received by calling the Morgan Christian Center, 254-7166.

Baptist banquet a success

By Eddie King
AFRO Religion Editor

More than 1,000 people crowded into Martins West main ballroom Friday for the Baptist Congress of Christian Education's 25th annual awards banquet.

Awards were presented to more than 40 local and state-wide church workers.

The Miles W. Conner Award, the organization's highest honor, was presented to Miss Mary Davis of Perkins Square Baptist Church.

Guest speakers for the occasion included state's attorney Kurt Schmoke and Delegate Larry Young (D-39). Various leaders from the state's Baptist conference also spoke.

Music was provided by soloists Barbara Hudson and Thomas Myers, Musician for the evening was James Toney.

Chairperson for the affair was Isaac Moody, program chairman, Mae Moody, co-program chairman, Hilda Brown and Mary Davis. The Baptist Congress of Christian Education is a subsidiary auxiliary of the United Baptist Missionary Baptist Convention of Maryland and is geared towards promoting Christian education throughout Maryland and vicinity.

More than 40 churches in the local area are a part of the Congress.
