ABOUT WEAA, THE POPULAR ALTERNATIVE

WEAA is a non-commercial public relations arm of Morgan State University. Since its inception on January 10, 1977.

WEAA serves the Baltimore Metropolitan area and surrounding counties, as well as some parts of Pennsylvania, Delaware, Washington, D.C. and Virginia. It serves as a prime repository for academic excellence in the areas of cultural information and education development.

Each semester WEAA holds a workshop for the University's Telecommunication Students, approximately 90 students per year. These students receive on the job training. At the end of the semester, they are able to perform the duties of Control Board Operators, assist in Production and News Department. There are many graduates who hold professional positions in the Broadcasting Industry.

Our WEAA Radio is the only station that provides a live over the air book review program in the area. A wide spread audience discusses a variety of books primarily authored by African Americans.

As we know WEAA is an educational station, music lovers find its unique cross formatted programming consists of music ranging from Jazz to Gospel.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTIONS, MONDAY THRU FRIDAY

Turn your dial to 88.9 early in the morning at 5 a.m., you'll listen to "Day Break Delight's." Drive time morning programming featuring progressive Jazz, rhythm and blues. Among other programs are "The Mid-Day Sound Creative" selections of easy listening music.

Beginning at 10 a.m. through 2 p.m., with a one half hour break for our good friend Larry Dean, WEAA's News Director, news from a Black perspective including Comprehensive International, National and Local. At 2 to 6 p.m., The alternative Spectrum, more music, news, etc.

At 6 p.m. until 8 p.m. it's the popular Two-Way Talk Show produced by Kweisi Mfume. It's an open telephone dialogue program that allows the listening audience to engage in an interesting forum of thoughts with community leaders and organizational representaties, exchange of ideas, it's a winning program.

Another popular show is hosted by Mr. Gospel Grace himself, "Al" Stewart! Listeners tune in on Sunday mornings at 6 a.m. for spiritual inspiration, it ends at 11 a.m., and continues from 1 until 3:55 p.m.

Another great winner in my book, Dr. Gossie Hudson, comes on the air at 4:30 until 6:00 p.m. It focuses on Black heritage in the general literature.

There are many other super programs such as on Saturdays at 10 a.m., The Griot, Mary Carter Smith, The Drum at 6 p.m., with Dr. Jesse McDadeBey, and at 7 p.m. Virbrations.

To all Morgan graduates, students and friends of WEAA Radio we need your help. WEAA's budget is limited to funds derived from students fees and monies contributed by generous and understanding people like its listening audience.

The station needs additional equipment repairs to existing equipment and monies to defray operational costs. The station launched its sixth fund raiser recently, but pledges were not fulfilled as promised which meant that staff had to be reduced and some professional slots filled with students.

Please join in this effort for WEAA Radio. A reception will follow the Fashion Show.

The National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Inc., Gamma Chapter, held its Breakfast Meeting on Friday, Oct. 18 at 10 a.m. at the Forum.

This event is held annually in conjunction with the Maryland State Teacher's Convention.

Theme for the occasion was 'The Pursuit of Excellence: A Challenge to Fulfill.'

Mrs. La Nita Brown, co-chairperson, presided, with the invocation and grace given by Mrs. Myrtle Stanley, Director, Office of Propagation of Faith, Archdiocese Office.

During breakfast, master musician, Bill Cummings, who served as pianist and soloist, entertained royally with dulcet tones and great songs that took us back to other years, reminiscent of Nat King Cole and Frank Sinatra.

His spendid rendition of "My Way" garnered for him a standing ovation. Introduction of dais guests was done by the Breakfast chairperson, Jo Ann M. Rogers.

Greetings were brought from the mayor's office and from the School Board by Mrs. Erla McKinnon, who also made a plea for help for teachers who are retired to help students with writing.

Mrs. Rose Gallop, past basileus of Gamma, brought greetings and congratulations on behalf of School Superintendent Alice G. Pinderhughes, who could not attend.

Mrs. Ardena Dixon, Eastern Regional Director, National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Inc., brought greetings from the Regional Executive Committee and the National president. She also gave the name of former presidents.

Phi Delta Kappa member Claire Dorsey introduced guest speaker, Mrs. Evelyn Chatmon, Assistant Superintendent, Baltimore County Schools, Southwest District.

Mrs. Chatmon gave a most inspirational address on 'Excellence' which left all determined to lift our children educationally to their fullest potential. She was so electrifying that she, too, received a standing ovation at the end of her address.

Remarks of thanks were given by Mrs. Leanna Ferrell, basileus of Gamma Chapter. Acknowledgements were done by Mrs. JoAnn Rogers, and the benediction by Mrs. Myrtle Stanley.

It was a stimulating, interesting and informative Breakfast Meeting — One of Phi Delta Kappa's finest.

On the Breakfast Committee were JoAnn M. Rogers, Chairperson; LaNita Brown, Co-Chairperson; Adele Harris, Financial Chairperson; Jean Beckett, Ida Eley, Ruth Hill, Marie Berry, Catherine Thomas, Geraldine Hale, Gloria McLean, Agnes Seymour, Gladys Covington, Delores Dorsey, Ruth Fauntleroy, Florine Camphor and Mattie Riddick.

Jones, sponsored by Soror Janet Williams and Tamara Lea Williams, daughter of J. Otto Williams, sponsored by Soror Verna Jones.

All of the honorees were lovely in gowns and dresses of a variety of beautiful colors and styles, and their credentials are virtually impeccable.

Their scholarship is excellent, many having already won several awards (Debra Brookes and Deborah Jones having three point averages, and Desiree Humphries with a four point) their community service records are good, their future goals admirable.

A grand exhibit of many of their awards adorned the lobby of the Forum. As the young ladies, poised and charming came in, they were assisted to their seats by impressively uniformed Honor Guards, JR. ROTC students from Douglass High School.

As the salutees for '85 were called to stand, so were the proud members of their families. The 'Salute's a splendid way to honor young ladies who are doing so very well in all areas of their lives, and who, must serve as our women of tomorrow.

Chairperson for the 1985 Salute was Soror Rosaland R. Lee, assisted by Sorors Rowena P. Lewis and Irma K. Roy. Other chairpersons were Sorors Edwin B. Burke, arrangements; Evelyn J. WOODLAWN HIGHLIGHTS

SSA HOLDS AUCTION FOR CFC

Last Friday afternoon The Dickinson Building cafeteria was the scene of a unique auction staged to raise funds for the Combined Federal Campaign (CFC). Members of the Office of Disability top staff furnished items that raised an additional $2,000 for the CFC drive.

Top seller, according to auctioneer Charlie Stewart, was a week's occupancy of Deputy Director Wayne Albrechts' reserved parking space. Albrecht originally made the offer of the spot for one day, but during the bidding, he was challenged by Ed Pederlik who promised to match the bid if Albrecht would do the same. The parking spot went to bidder Jack Slicher for $350 with matching amounts contributed by Albrecht and his challenger.

A two hour plane ride for four went to Don Palmer, a technical staff manager. Richard O'Toole is the owner and pilot who made the offer. A German chocolate cake went to Maxine Barshop for $100. A pecan pie, a decorator plant made from colored silks and two tickets to the Harbor Power Plant were among the items donated by the Office of Disability top staff.

Music for entertainment was furnished by disc jockey Abe Riley during a peach pie eating and dance contest.

RETIREMENT

Friends, co-workers and other well wishers will say farewell to Avis Fagan at a retirement luncheon on Friday, November 1, 1985. The happy event will take place at the Holiday Inn, Belmont. Committee contacts are Mickie McLaughlin and Dee Conroy.
