FLOTILLA 19 CHANGES OF WATCH HONORS CHARLES JACKSON

Charles Jackson was cited as the auxiliarist of the year at the annual Change of Watch ceremony, held Jan. 18 at Meushaw's Security Blvd. Charlie performed safety patrols for the Coast Guard every weekend last summer.

The new Flotilla officers are Jon Lockett, Commander, and Fred Bellfield, vice-commander. They were sworn in by Richard Mayer, Division Captain, and Robert Bertram, Division Vice-Captain.

One of the most enjoyable aspects of the ceremony was the singing of Robin Waters. The affair was held at Meushaw Restaurant, Security Blvd. at the Beltway.

Flotilla 19 is the Inner Harbor unit of the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary. They assist the Guard by presenting boating classes, examining vessels, and operating safety patrols from the Harbor to the Key Bridge.

WOMAN POWER MEMBERSHIP TEA

With the theme, Each one reach, out, each one teach one, a special February activity is in the making. Soon the Woman Power, Inc. will be holding their annual Membership Tea. It was a big success last year and members say the year of 1986 will be even better.

The Membership Tea will take place February 23 at the Eubie Blake Center from 5 to 7 p.m.

Lavish plans are in the making, so members urge all to kind of get a head start and get your one shot package plan early. Tickets, which are $13.50, includes membership for 1986.

Being a member and on the mailing list will put you the woman in the know and know how, so say the members.

Woman Power, Inc. has many interesting performances coming up soon, according to Erla McKinnon, president.

LADIES OF ST. JOHN'S ACTIVITIES

The ladies of St. John Baptist Church have gotten off to a fantistic strt in preparation for their annual women's day. The first event was a kick-off social affair with the Mark Elliott Trio.

The special guest of honor was Nene Toure Nichols, the CARE food distributor for the central African country of Mali. Each family brought a package of food to nibble on. More than 125 persons were in attendance.

On January 15 the committee sponsored a candelight march in honor of the birth of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. After the march, young people of the church delivered orations about Dr. King's life and work.

Essay contest winners were also recognized. They were Alika Crew, Lori Johnson and Erika Clark.

The special guest at the affair was Baltimore's Rhonda Boozer, Runner-up in last year's Miss Talented Teen Maryland Contst, who along with fellow students at the Baltimore School for the Arts Warren Lee and Rachel Tucker, performed a creative dance. Columbia's Louvenia Elliott rendered a solo.

Other program participants were Howard County School Board Chairman William Manning, Howard County Council Chairman Dr. C. Vernon Gray, Mrs. Clemma Carrington and Mrs. Pamela Johnson, Chair. The Rev. Herbert Eaton is the pastor of St. John.

Another Women's Day activity is the presentation of the Arena Player's Har-Flo Association of Baltimore performing "Tambourines of Glory" at the Smith Theater at Howard Community College.

This event, chaired by Jeanne Cooper, is scheduled for February 7 and coincides with our celebration of Black History Month.

Call Jeanne on 730-7788 for more information.

Sylvia Cook Martin is this year's Women's Day Chairperson.

MARTIN LUTHER KING CELEBRATION WRAP-UP

The first Howard County commerative celebration of the Martin Luther King National Holiday was held on Sunday, January 19 at Howard Community College's Smith Theater. More than 1,000 people came out in very incilement weather to be a part of the celebration.

At 7 p.m., a combined choir of Howard County churches, directed by the Rev. Mrs. Elvora Robinson began the program with songs of the civil rights activity era.

A children's choir from Guilford Elementary School and a Bell Choir from Abiding Savior Lutheran Church also participated on the program.

Several dynamic presentations by Latanza Dennis, who gave the King's "I Have a Dream" speech, Traci Miller, who presented a litany of the meaning of King's life and work and the Rev. Dr. Emmett Burns, NAACP regional director. Program planners were, Alice Cornelison, the Rev. Richard Rhodes, A. Clinton Sellers, O.H. Laster, Clifton Felton and others.

The Committee, co-chaired by Sherman Howell, recognized several members of the Howard County community with plaques for their work to foster the dreams of Dr. King. They include: NAACP national board member, Dr. Salis Craft; Columbia founder, James Rouse; Human Rights Commission executive, Jean Tommer; Community Leader, Celonia B. Walden; Guilford Baptist Church pastor, The Rev. Dr. John Wright; Human Rights Commission member, Edward D. Young and Harry Dunbar, for his exceptional effort in developing a cable TV film on Dr. King.

Co-chair Sherman Howell and Roger Marina were recognized for their efforts in coordenating the county-wide Martin Luther King Birthday Celebration.

Remarks came from the Rev. John W. Holland, pastor of the Full Gospel Tabernacle, Council Chair, Dr. C. Vernon Gray and School Superintendent Dr. James Hickey.

At the conclusion of the program, thousands of pledges to support the dreams of Dr. King were presented. The pledges were collected in the country schools and in the community at large. The activities of the week long celebration were depicted by a slide presentation at the end of the program.

SINGLE PARENTING

MAN SHARING IS IT FOR YOU?

Rodney Scott

It is really a myth or a problem that so many women seem to be having trouble meeting eligible single bachelors? Somewhere between Baltimore and Washington, someone is preaching that the only way to go is to share your man.

What does this mean? Willingly accepting the fact that your man is dating others as well as you.....or does it mean that standards have changed and if you are looking for companionship be willing to share your man.

Whatever happened to the old fashioned standards of pursuing one person at a time. Man sharing may be for some, but with it comes a lot of disadvantage. Whom will he spend his birthday with, what about holidays, or will he simply introduce you to his other girlfriends and ask all of you to work it out. Could this be an act of machoism in our males?

Let's dig a little deeper. What about the transfer of unwanted viruses. Each person carries some form of infection if they are sexually active with more than one partner.

Because of sexual freedom within our society, one must decide what he or she is looking for in a relationship.....companionship.....a sex partner.....friendship.

Too many women feel that if there isn't a man in their life, then they must be unhappy. Too many women don't know how to just say no to the man who is looking for multiple intimate relationships.

We must ask ourselves how did this come about. One woman's remark was that where she came from it was accepted in their community.....men were scarce and they allowed it to happen.

But what about those women who are looking for that very special person? Does it mean they must compete in the outside world as well as in the bed to find that person?

If women were to say no to men who offer them a relationship intertwined with others, eventually men would get the message that nobody likes to be used and abused. Perhaps if men and women begin to communicate openly it would alleviate this latest trend of man sharing for women. We can't put the total blame on men because we allowed it to happen. Maybe it isn't too late.
