RED DOT SALE

ONE DAY ONLY

TAKE AN ADDITIONAL

35% Off

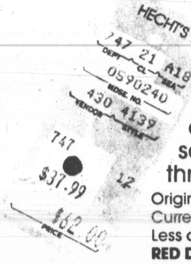
CURRENT SALE PRICES

Saturday only

All stores open 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.

(Metro Center 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Ballston, Manassas, Silver Spring, Salisbury 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.)

Look for the Red Dots on our entire stock of already reduced men's, women's and children's winter fashions. Then take an additional 35% off current sale prices.



Here's an example of the savings you'll find throughout our stores:

Original price	62.00
Current sale price	37.99
Less additional 35%	13.30
RED DOT PRICE	24.68

• Misses', Juniors', Women's and Petites' Dresses, Sportswear and Coats • Accessories • Intimate Apparel • Shoes • Men's, Young Men's, Boys' and Children's • Ladies', Men's and Boys' Budget Store Fashions

Budget Stores at Silver Spring, Prince Georges, Marlow Heights, Landover, Tysons Corner, Manassas, Howard St., Northwood, Salisbury, Bel Air. Budget Boys' at all Budget Stores except Laurel, Golden Ring, Bel Air. Budget Lingerie at all Budget Stores except Manassas, Laurel. Budget Accessories at all Budget Stores except Manassas.
This sale does not include Bridge and Fine Jewelry and Furs.

HECHT'S

Especially for you!

OUR WORLD

Pattie Hodges

PARTYTIME

PARTYLINE

SURPRISE PARTY GOES FROM TROLLEY TO TREMONT

Linda Kiah Tisdale gave a surprise birthday party for her husband Micheal a few days ago that had more stages than the most sophisticated rocket ever launched by mankind. This had to be the most spectacular party of January.

The festive evening began as dozens of the Tisdale's friends congregated at the Tremont Plaza Hotel at the corner of St. Paul and Saratoga Streets where they boarded one of the trolleys that have become familiar sights cruising along Charles Street.

Once the vehicle was loaded to standing room only capacity, the trolley began its journey to the Tisdale's palatial residence in the chic Reservoir Hill neighborhood which is a stone's throw from Druid Hill Park.

It took the trolley a while to get to the Tisdale's residence because the guests of honor had to be properly lured home and hidden away before his friends arrived. So the bus driver took his time while the revelers sipped fine champagne and snacked on cheese and vegetable platters.

Finally, the trolley arrived at the Tisdale mansion and all the celebrants lined up in front of the door awaiting Mr. Birthday. The sound of James Brown crooning "Living in America" filtered through the neighborhood as one those persons privy to the plot rang the doorbell.

"What's going on?...Who's making all that noise?..."demanded Tisdale when he came to the door. At that point, his friends, neighbors and relatives began singing the traditional birthday song to him as he stood there in a state of mind bordering upon a catatonic seizure."

Tisdale was given a black top hat style birthday chapeau to wear and was led to the trolley which he boarded willingly, but with somewhat faltering steps because he was having a difficult time in adjusting to the mind blowing surprise of having a trolley load of screaming, singing friends roll up to his doorstep completely unannounced.

The party on wheels resumed as the driver set forth on a tour of Baltimore's favorite sights including the Inner Harbor and a stop on top of Federal Hill so that everyone could take time to enjoy the spectacular view of downtown that can be seen from there.

Moving right along, the celebrants boarded the trolley again and progressed to Ethel's Place, the posh, Jazz nightclub across the street from the Joseph Meyerhoff Symphony Hall. Mrs. Tisdale had arranged for everyone to be served drinks and hors d'oeuvres at this junction of the trip.

Ethel Ennis was her usual jovial and convivial self as she was joined by her husband Earl Arnett in greeting Micheal Tisdale, the man of the hour, and those who had come out to help celebrate his birthday. The visit to the club was topped off with Ethel singing a stirring rendition of "Happy Birthday" to Micheal.

Next, Tisdale was told that he was being taken to the Tremont Plaza Hotel for another round of drinks. When he arrived at the hotel, he was led to a suite where, lo and behold, more of his friends were waiting to surprise him. Soon, all of the persons who were riding on the trolley joined the additional guests in the Tremont and the party continued to swing mightily until the wee hours of the morning.

Among the guests at the stellar soiree were: Mrs. Cornelius Gordon, Jr., R.T.; Curl and Rene Brook, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick I. Douglass, Mr. and Mrs. Micheal Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Harlee, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Cole, Mr. and Mrs. David Douglass, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Cheatman, Mrs. Gail Williams, Dr. David Glasser, Mrs. Magnolia Williams, Mrs. Marie Tisdale, Mrs. Darnetta Turner, Ms. Sheila Kiah, Ms. Mamie Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. Douglass White, Dr. Jackie Brown, Mrs. Kay Davis, Calvin Clame and Mr. and Mrs. John Long.

NCNW SALUTES

The National Council of Negro Women, Greater Baltimore Section celebrates Black History Month of Recognition.

Among the educators, humanitarians, counselors, leaders and entrepreneurs they honor are VICTORINE Q. ADAMS, educator, entrepreneur, community organizer, elected official, Baltimore City councilwoman and Maryland State Legislator, and Founder of the Baltimore Fuel Fund Project;

EVELYN BEASLEY, educator, innovator, entrepreneur;

THE REV. CECELIA BRYANT, religious leader, teacher;

SISSY BRYANT, organizer, young leader, spokesperson for black women and families;

AGNES KANE CALLUM, genealogist, historian, researcher of migration of families from St. Mary's County;

BEA GADDY, humanitarian, fed the five hundred from her kitchen until project received community support;

ESSIE M. HUGHES, educator, counselor, community leader;

ODELL PAYNE, counselor, religious leader, teacher;

HARRY BELAFONTE, singer, actor, entrepreneur, spokesman for human and civil rights for his people and the peoples of the world;

BILL COSBY, educator, actor, entrepreneur, creator of family series for television that exemplifies family life as it can be in America;

ALICE WALKER, writer, poet, lecturer, acclaimed for the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel, 'The Color Purple.'

The National Council of Negro Women, Greater Baltimore Section salutes with honor these Guardians of "The Flame that Perpetuates the Legacy of our founder, Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune, who challenged us - To accept Excellence as our standard."

TRAVIS WINKEY ALL STARS

The Travis Winkey and Coors Beer will put on the show of all Stars. The place to be on February 16 is at the Convention Center where the "International Designer's Showcase" will start on time at 6 p.m., show time. Be there.

Don't miss this exciting event--The Show of Stars and its designers.

For more details call Travis Winkey Studio, 225-7755.

HAMPTON ALUMNI TO HONOR DR. FREEMAN HRABOWSKI

The Baltimore Chapter of the National Hampton University, Alumni Association presents A Memorable Dinner in honor of one of it's own-- Freeman Hrabowski, Ph.D., at the Forum, 4210 Primrose Ave. on Sunday, February 23 from 3 until 7 p.m.

Net proceeds will go for scholarships. It's to be an evening to remember.

Tickets may be secured from Isabelle Parker, 947-6958.

CARVER-WASHINGTON SCHOLARSHIP AND AWARD WEEKEND

The Baltimore Tuskegee Alumni Club will hold its fourth annual Washington-Carver Scholarship Breakfast, Saturday, Feb. 8, from 9 a.m. to noon, at the Forum, 4210 Primrose Avenue.

Washington Carver Community Service awards will be presented to Parren J. Mitchell, U.S. Congressman; Dorothy Brunson, businesswoman; James Toedtman, newspaper editor, and Lois Young, opthalmologist. The honorees are being cited for their effective support of minorities in economics, business, education, and health care delivery.

The awards are made in tribute to the ideals of service and excellence promoted by Booker T.

Continued on page 10

Terry Addison hosts reception for MSU president

DR. AND MRS. EARL S. RICHARDSON greet Mrs. Thelma Cox in the receiving line during the affair in honor of Dr. Richardson which was hosted at the Forum recently by B. Tyrous (Terry) Addison, Forum proprietor, and which was attended by more than 250 people. Government official Aris Allen is at far right.

PRESTON VISMALE, a Morgan student majoring in telecommunications, plays piano with the Morgan State University Jazz Ensemble, which provided musical entertainment during the festive event.

PAIGE T. DAVIS, an outstanding Morgan Alumnus who is one of the three co-chairpersons of the February 9 Morgan Benefit Auction, is joined by his lovely wife Flo at The Forum.

CAROLYN COLE (L) and Ann S. Davis were busy during the reception selling tickets for the upcoming First Annual Morgan State University Benefit Auction which will be held on campus in McKeldin Center Ballroom at 3:00 PM this coming Sunday (2/9). They are two of the event's co-chairpersons.

B. TYROUS (TERRY) ADDISON, the Morgan graduate who hosted the affair at the Forum that honored Dr. Earl S. Richardson and which was attended by more than 250 people, stands in front of The Forum, one of his myriad business ventures.

SIDNEY EDWARDS, (L) Linda Davis and Micheal Bryant enjoy a few moments of scintillating conversation after hearing a presentation about the upcoming Morgan Alumni reunion in Nassau which has been scheduled for June 22-26 of this year.

LOIS GILLIAM, a Morgan graduate (3rd from left, standing) who coordinated the participation of students in the stellar event, is joined by: (standing, l-r) Patricia Duff, Wanda Woodward; (seated, l-r), Paula Johnson and Kioka Jones.

B. Tyrous (Terry) Addison hosted a salute to Morgan State University's (MSU) President, Dr. Earl Richardson at The Forum on Friday, January 24. The festive occasion was attended by more than 250 Morgan Alumni, staff, faculty members, Regents, students and other supporters of the University.

The reception featured a sumptuous gourmet buffet. Entertainment was furnished by the MSU student Jazz Ensemble, directed by Melvin Miles, and the MSU Choir, directed by Dr. Nathan Carter. When the choir began singing, the vocalists got everyone's attention as their harmonizing voices filled The Forum.

This signaled the start of the short program which began with Frederick Douglass, Director of Public Relations (MSU) introducing Addison, who extended greetings and introduced Dr. Earl S. Richardson, the guest of honor. President Richardson introduced Mrs. Richardson, The Board of Regents, and Foundation members.

President Richardson remarked on the need for added financial support for students. He announced a 1986 fundraising Goal of $1,000,000, that will be raised through a number of activities in-

Continued on page 12

FEB 1986