Rev. Turner Celebrates new church dedication in Bahamas

By Brion M. Tyson
AFRO Religion Editor

The Rev. C. Stuart Turner, international evangelist of Baltimore and head of the Christian Research and Development Center of Baltimore, and the Hon. Sir Lyndon O. Penderling were guests invited to the dedication services of Rev. Dr. Benjamin Fergerson's new Church, Emmanuel Missionary Baptist Church which is situated in Freeport, Grand Bahamas.

Rev. Dr. Turner was in the islands tending to other business as he was invited to attend the dedication of the church's edifice. Dr. Turner was in the islands on business involving a real estate and development project. He and his wife were greeted in a grand style when they arrived early in March. During their stay they resided in a luxurious penthouse overlooking the beautiful Channels of the Bahamas and the Atlantic Ocean.

While in the Bahamas, Dr. Turner preached at the St. John Native Baptist Church where Rev. Godfrey Williams is pastor, the Rev. Dr. John N. T. Rolle who is the pastor of The Bethel Cathedral, and the Emmanuel Baptist Church where Rev. Fergerson is pastor. These were Dr. Turner's 40, 42, and 43rd sermons preached in the Bahamas.

Dr. and Mrs. Turner's trip was successful, but marred by the explosion of the Challenger Space Shuttle and its seven passengers who lost their lives. Dr. and Mrs. Turner were joined in their flight to Freeport by Rev. Dr. Leon Sullivan, pastor of the Zion Baptist Church in Philadelphia and founder of Opportunities Industrialization Center (OIC) in the U.S. and abroad, and also Kenneth O. Wilson, vice president for advertising of the AFRO-AMERICAN Newspapers.

BETHEL AME'S LENTEN SERIES

Bethel A.M.E. Church's Annual Lenten Series will continue through March 25 with services beginning at 7 p.m. each evening. Each service will feature one of six esteemed ministers whose sermons will focus on the theme: "The Autobiography of Jesus Christ."

Lenten services were held on Feb. 18 and 25 and large audiences came out to hear the sermons "The Whole Church Family" and "Families of the Incarcerated."

Dinners were served after each sermon, both of which were well-received.

The Lenten Services emphasizes a season of spiritual preparation during which time the church recalls the whole life, teachings, and ministry of Jesus. Each Tuesday evening will emphasize a focus of the Lenten Series theme. Outlined is a schedule of the following services.

March 4, Rev. Dr. Kenneth Robinson. Nashville, Tennessee. "Alpha and Omega."

March 11, Sis. Jessica Ingram, Chicago, Illinois, "I am the Door."

March 18, Rev. Leodis Strong, Pine Bluff, Arkansas, "I am the Shepard."

March 25, Rev. Dunkard Tims, Dallas, Texas, "I am the Resurrection."

The church, located at Druid Hill Ave. and Lanvale St., welcomes you to attend these services. For information call 523-4273.

MOORISH SCIENCE TEMPLE TO HOLD FIRST ANNUAL BAPTIST BENEFIT DINNER

Wednesday, Feb. 26, Brother D. Ransom Bey, Grand Shiek of Original Branch Temple No. 13, announced that the Temple's First annual Benefit Dinner will be held on May 10 at Dunbar Community High School, 1400 E. Orleans St. from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. Donation is $7.

Days prior to his announcement Mayor Schaefer granted the orgaization permission to use the Dunbar facility. On Wednesday Shiek Bey said, "We are thankful to the mayor for making this celebration possible, and we look forward to meeting with many of the high-ranking Moorish officials who will be there."

POLICE COMMISSIONER VISITS MINISTERS CONFERENCE

To determine how ministers can affect the community in this era of rampant crime, the Evening Ministers Conference recently invited Bishop Robinson, police commissioner of Baltimore City, to discuss the subject at one of their weekly meetings.

Bishop Robinson sees crime as a result of several problems; lack of positive values among our youths, that many youths find pleasure in violent television shows, that positive role models are few, and that many youths are interested in getting rich overnight without considering the consequences.

The commissioner agreed that there is a great need for youth to develop personal responsibility and accountability as well as respect for themselves and others.

Robinson expressed a need for strong organizations which demonstrate love and compassion which promote unity among all people.

The program was followed by a question and answer period.

BALTIMORE BISHOPS ISSUE STATEMENT ON DEATH PENALTY

After many discussions and many more murders since the discussions, Baltimore Bishops' Conference issue the following statements regarding the death penalty. The bishops feel that a statement from other clergy regarding this issue is long overdue.

"We believe each person should be given a chance to rehabilitate themselves. This is based on the scripture that deals with the blessedness of the merciful. However, this does not mean that murderers should use this scripture to their advantage.

"Our justice system is entirely too lenient. Seeing that some things resist recycling, people sometimes resist rehabilitation. Why should these people continue to fester and eventually poison the rest of society? As we look around today, who is really being protected from whom? As ministers of the Gospel, we are to seek and save that which is lost. However, we must not lose sight on the fact that certain Old Testament scriptures are very much applicable for today and one such scripture is 'Whoso sheddeth a man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed.' (Gen. 9:6).

"To ignore this along with the scripture that points out very vividly how you are to deal with the cold-blooded murderers will continuously open the floodgates for those who do not value another human life.

"The public executioner in the scriptures was called the 'Avenger of Blood,' and it was his job to track down and slay the man slayer. However, if the man slayer made it to a city of refuge, he was safe as long s he stayed in that city. This is parallel to persons seeking a forgiving God and acting accordingly, escaping the wrath of God.

Bishop Isaiah Hill, head bishop of the International Bishops' Conference, Inc. says, "He knows that some of these words may be shocking to some people. However, I keep hearing—'It's got to stop—it's got to stop—We've got to do something.' Well all I'm saying is that I believe the way to eliminate these questions is to quit ignoring God's law regarding the death penalty. Ideally, we should live free of capital punishment. Further, I believe that if black clergymen would start doing more work of the church, it would have a great impact on our young people. Let's face it, they need it the most. I feel that we should do what Booker T. Washington said, 'let down your buckets where you are.' I believe that if the church centers were opened throughout the week for recreation and counseling, this would fill a tremendous gap. Since recreation centers in our neighborhoods are closed, I believe that once the church reaches out more, it will help to eliminate some of our reactions to symptoms because we will be getting to the causes.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER on Friday, March 7 is a worldclass call to prayer observed by Christian women of many traditions in the United States and more than 170 countries and regions of the world. "Choose Life," theme of the 1986 service articulates the hard choices women are called upon to make if peace is to be achieved in today's world.

This service is a challenge to women of the world from Christian women in Australia who wrote this year's WORLD DAY OF PRAYER worship materials. It calls women to make decisions and take actions that will begin to change the injustices and inequities that cause suffering to countless numbers of the world's people.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER, celebrated this year for the 99th consecutive year, began in the United States in 1887 as a day of prayer for mission by laywomen in the Presbyterian Church. It now has spread worldwide and acts as a catalyst for women to come together in continuing relationships of prayer and action for peace.

Church Women United, sponsor of WORLD DAY OF PRAYER in the United States, is the ecumenical movement that brings Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox women together into one Christian community of prayer, advocacy and service. Church Women United (CWU) represents a broad spectrum of religious tradition, race, age, economic status and ethnic background and works through a national unit, 53 state units (including ones in Greater Washington, D.C. Puerto Rico) and 1,850 local units.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER offerings make possible, in part, the mission of Church Women United, including the Intercontinental Grants for Mission program that funds national and international projects in support of the empowerment of women, human rights, justice and peace.

In Baltimore City, one of the WORLD DAY OF PRAYER observances will be held at Trinity Baptist Church, 1601 Druid Hill Avenue.

G.I.G. Benjamin T. Layton addresses the audience as Master of Ceremonies at the 100th Anniversary of the Commanders of the Rite of 33 Degree Masons of Washington, D.C. The Masons held their Scholarship and Awards Banquet earlier this month.

ASALH Holds Second Annual Luncheon

By Twilah Scarborough

Three hundred guests recently attended the Second Annual Luncheon hosted by the Eubie Blake Branch of the Association For the Study of Afro-American Life and History, Inc. The luncheon was in observance of National Afro-American History Month.

The theme for the 1986 luncheon was "The International Connection." Members and guests spent an enjoyable afternoon taking in several aspects of black culture. An entertaining blend of performing arts and narrative information was presented. Norman Ross, coordinator of Cultural Arts for the Urban Services Agency and a member of ASALH, presided. Mr. Ross skillfully weaved a very interesting story about the black experience in introducing the program elements and the practitioners. He explained the relative importance of each presentation to black history.

Ms. Rebecca Henderson, soprano, song moving renditions of two Negro spirituals. The spirituals served the important purpose of telling a story and expressing, in a fundamental way, the feelings and experiences of Afro-Americans who lived during the slave era.

A troupe of young dancers under the direction of Stephanie Powell, herself an accomplished young dancer, performed some traditional Afro-American dances with jazz influence. The troupe included two groups. The pre-teen dancers showed exceptional poise while delighting the audience with their well-choreographed movements. The teen group also performed to an appreciative audience. Their dance was highlighted with spirited and energetic movements that prompted intermittent applause. A thoughtful description of the dances was given by Ms. Powell.

A very informative presentation on African art and sculpture was given by Mrs. D. Regina Hillian-Ligon and Lt. Col. Claude Ligon, a husband and wife team. Mrs. Ligon is Director of the Maryland Museum of African Art. Several pieces of African art and sculpture were on display for guests to view. Mrs. Ligon gave guests basic information about African art and sculpture that enabled them, many for the first time, to grasp an understanding of and thus a greater appreciation for African art.

The final connection in the international experience was the explanation and demonstration of the Caribbean steel drum. Representatives of the Maryland Pacesetters Steel Band were present. The history of the drum, as a means of communication in Africa, was explained. Also, the development of the steel drum from its beginning in the Caribbean to the refined version which was played at the luncheon. Paisley Graham explained the drum and how the different sounds are produced.

In addition to an outstanding array of information and entertainment, guests also enjoyed a fine meal. Guests included Joseph Smith, C&P Telephone Company; Richard Andrews, president Baltimore Branch ASALH; Councilman Nathaniel McFadden; Dr. Lenwood M. Ivey, executive director, Urban Services Agency, and Mrs. Ivey; Del. Ruth Kirk; Randolf Edwards, City Safety Office; Sammye Ellis, president, Washington Branch ASALH; and Dr. Theodore Hudson.

Closing remarks were made by Mrs. Elva J. Edwards out-going president of the Baltimore Branch ASALH. Mrs. Betty Knight and Mrs. Gloria Carpenter, chairpersons for the occasion, were commended along with other committee members for an enjoyable afternoon.

A rousing rendition of "Lift Every Voice and Sing" ended luncheon.

Woman Power, Inc. held its Annual Membership Tea on Feb. 23 at the Eubie Blake Cultural Center, 409 N. Charles St.

Woman Power, Inc. has selected several local artists who will be honored on this occasion. They are now better known as Baltimore's VIPs.

Ruby Glover, Reva Lewis, Serena G. Mills, Viola G. Smithlin, Carolyn Pittman, and Dr. Lottie K. Hammon are not only members of Woman Power, Inc., but they will be honored for their outstanding service as well.

There will be music performed by Dave and Marlene Ross. Our very own Ruby Glover will lend her talent of participation. Attractive and appetizing refreshments will be served.

Woman Power, Inc. anticipates a significant increase in its membership at the culmination of this affair, as a direct result of its recent revitalization efforts.

Chairing for the Membership Tea is Margaret Brown. Program Chairperson is Serena G. Mills.

The Ladies of Woman Power, Inc. carry their theme very well: "Each One Reach One - Each One Teach One."

"Over the years, we have once again become stronger and still growing. We have touched and reached many through our concerted efforts."

The Membership Tea Drive and members took time to salute "Our Ladies in Black History." February was American National Black History Month. History is made each day throughout the year.

Nothing sells black consumers better. Check into the AFRO, and be in the know. Black people, wake up. You have been asleep too long. Sure, we are in a unique position because of the many plights we have experienced over the years, but it is not all the fault of your legislators. Remember, you are the voice, you are in control, you are in the position to make demands to enhance your future. Now, but where are you when it is time to be heard. Everyone now should become involved. Don't be at arm distance, or long distance, or longwinded. The time is now. You know our people are in high ranges in Annapolis. I say all this to say, remember we have to lift our voices, our rights of opinions, our right to vote.

The AFRO staff and editors keep you abreast of all that is happening. The connection is the Afro-American. Now is the time to be more involved, be interested in your neighborhood and your areas, your community. Read the AFRO. No one but the AFRO can tell it like it is and will tell it like it is. Don't you want to know how it is, and what to do about it? To quote Frederick Douglass, "A people without a voice are people without freedom." Black participation is long - way overdue. Let us insure the type of leadership which is necessary for blacks to move forward more vigorously as a people. Baltimore, our own community, should remember the three sources of power - The Power of God, The Power of Economic Equity, and the Power of the Vote. Remember friends, the biggest power on earth we have is our right to voice our opinions and exert, put forth oneself into action and everlasting effect and back our leaders in Annapolis and get out, register and get out and VOTE!!!
