Harlem Park kids surprise

Undefeated lacrosse team snubbed in effort to schedule opponents

By Sam Lacy

A group of Harlem Park youngsters are caught in a vise of success and failure at the moment.

The success stems from the kids' proficiency with lacrosse sticks. The failure lies with the inability of their coach to lure other teams into competing against them.

Harlem Park Middle School has a lacrosse team that goes into a game with Loyola on Tuesday boasting nine victories and one tie in the 10 games played since being organized last fall.

All of which is fine, except that the record appears to have scared off most of the potential opponents.

• • •

Whereas the team was able to schedule eight games last year—including such prep powerhouses as Friends and Park—it is booked for just five this spring.

Friends has disappeared. Park played home-and-home last year. This year Park will not visit Harlem Park, though it played at home last Friday and lost, 7-1.

In addition to the victory over Park, Harlem downed Glenelg, 8-2 to be 2-for-2 thus far.

After Loyola on Tuesday at home, the youngsters meet Gilman at Gilman May 6, and close against the Greyhounds at Loyola May 9.

• • •

The lacrosse venture was mapped out in a meeting last fall between Harlem Park Principal Stanley E. Holmes and Marvin Jones, a representative of Westinghouse, which funds the program.

The two men were searching for a different form of motivation for students at an inner city school which had suffered unfavorable publicity concerning incidents beyond administration control.

Lacrosse became the focus because it was felt that introduction of this unfamiliar sport would involve the student body and community more effectively than basketball and football. The appeal of both, they agreed, had worn thin.

The idea was readily endorsed by Earl Banks, an alumnus of Harlem Park who had played lacrosse in Canada, the game's birthplace.

Banks coaches the youngsters.

Memories of Colts restored in Wednesday 'Welcome'

The familiar cry of C-O-L-T-S will once again be raised in Baltimore on Wednesday, April 30, as Mayor William Donald Schaefer joins ex-Colts players and fans throughout the region for a City Hall rally to "welcome home" from Indianapolis the team's Baltimore memorabilia.

The "Salute to the Baltimore Colts" celebration, which is open to the public, will be held from 5:30-6:30 p.m. in front of City Hall.

Headlining the evening's events will be the unveiling of a special Colts memorabilia exhibit to be showcased in the City Hall Rotunda for the next two months during weekday hours from 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

Many Colts greats — Ordelle Brasse, Tom Matte, Lydell Mitchell, Stan White, Hall of Famer Art Donovan, former general manager Ernie Accorsi, and others—will accompany the Mayor in a ribbon-cutting ceremony to open the exhibit.

• • •

A contingent from the Baltimore Colts Marching Band, Baltimore Colts Cheerleaders and Baltimore Colts Corrals will lead rally participants in singing the Colts Fight Song and the cheers that once rocked Memorial Stadium.

The City Hall Colts rally and display are made possible through the memories of the team's glory day. Baltimore will be revived as fans browse among the many Colts treasures on display, including game balls and trophies from the 1958, 1959 and 1970 championships; eight retired-player jerseys; Colts Hall of Fame paintings; team photos from 1954-1981; Johnny Unitas' shoulder pads; and other players' equipment.

Lady Bears Covet Penn Relays golds

PHILADELPHIA — Braced with what coach Len Braxton calls his "best team in nine years," Morgan State expects to be a strong contender for honors at the annual Penn Relays Carnival at Franklin Field this weekend.

The Lady Bears are entered in the 400 and 1600 meters relay events, and appear to be formidable in each.

Wendy Vereen, Rochelle Stevens and Ethlyn Tate will run on both teams. Vereen, a sophomore, and Tate, a freshman, also will run individual sprints at 100 meters. And Stevens, also a sophomore, will try to repeat her triumph at the Martin Luther King Games Sunday at 400 meters.

These three will be joined by senior Ramona Riley on the 400-meter relay unit and by Angela Pulliam in the 1600-meter tandem.

Their efforts to date have them listed as rivals worthy of attention from the acknowledged top women's foursomes in the nation — Tennessee, Louisiana State, Texas and Florida State.

Morgan's 44.52 at 400 meters and 3:34.84 compare favorably with times elsewhere.

Patterson run set for pre-Preakness

On Saturday, May 10, the "banner neighborhoods" of Patterson Park (Baltimore-Linwood, Butchers Hill, McElderry Park, Patterson Place and Chatham Place) will hold the first Banner Neighborhoods Run.

Set for 9 a.m. immediately following the Great Preakness Balloon Race, the event is part of a day-long festival in the Patterson Park neighborhoods. The four-mile course will wind its way through Patterson Park itself.

To register, contact Marian Gillis, Neighborhood Housing Services, 327-2020.

Poet basketer picks Clemson

Clemson University on Tuesday won out in the 3-school recruitment campaign for Dunbar High School's Sean Tyson.

Tyson, a 6-7 forward with a senior average of 14 points and 13 rebounds a game chose the South Carolina school over Florida State and Wake Forest, despite the fact ex-Poet Tyrone Bogues is a standout on the Deacons five.

The youngster implied that his friendship with assistant coach Len Gordy influenced his decision. Gordy formerly coached at Towson State.

SOUNDS

WALLY SABAROU
"Echoes"
(Island Visual Arts)

You can hear the influence of the traditional music of Africa in this latest work by Paris-born Wally Sabarou, who is on the staff of Miles Davis' horns with Chief Inspector.

Record company contacts led the multi-talented Sabarou to session work in the late seventies with the Gibson Brothers ("Cuba") and the artist known as "Mr. Freedom" in Moscow; he was also with Cats on her "Warm Leatherette" LP.

Sabarou was also responsible for some of the material done by British band Level 42, whose current album is "World Machine."

This "Echoes" album features a sound you'd expect from an artist who has worked with such notables as Sly & Robbie, Joe Cocker, and Manu Dibango. "Hi-Life" is a joyous number that makes the most of the mini moog, flute, drum, and plays on the LP, and at least makes fine background "mood" music if nothing else.

"Canyons" is just what its title implies: deep, city passages of synthesized tones, etc. On the other hand, there's Endless Race" on side two, probably think, "Hold on, now! This is Lou Rawls's latest album?" Don't say I didn't warn you.

I'll admit, this cut sounds more like a Starpoint or Janet Jackson track than a Lou Rawls tune, but producer Jay Graydon and company have come up with a catchy love song that, I'm sure, will tell how it sells.

The title track is a contemporary piece of pop/rock which better shows off Lou's talent and vocal experience. The next step up for Rawls now would be to write his own material (Graydon wrote or co-wrote all of side one).

At the risk of getting the impression that this is really two different Lou Rawls albums in one, flip the disc to side two, and if you're getting tired of his style of rock and roll try his rendition of "Willow Weep For Me" and relax. Listen to Victor Feldman's piano and Lou's soft-toothed vocal handling of this Ann Ronell standard. Or, if you don't know why this album is a must for Lou Rawls fans.

Other cuts: "Stop Me From Starting This Feeling," "Learn To Love Again," "It Never Entered My Mind."

Lou Rawls

LOU RAWLS
"Live All Your Blues Away"
(Epic)

A familiar name on the R&B and pop charts for many a year has a new album, "Live All Your Blues Away."

Chicago-born Lou Rawls has sold around 20 million records over the past twenty-years or so, and has "Black Gold" Awards with such singles as "You'll Never Find Another Love Like Mine," "Groovy People," and "Lady Love."

Now when you put the needle to the grooves of the first cut on this new album, a quick initial promo and Lou's soft-toothed vocal
