Monumental Medical Auxiliary inducts new members

A special kick-off meeting for the Auxiliary to the Monumental City Medical Society was held recently at the home of their vivacious and energetic president, Mrs. Mabel Young. This meeting marked the beginning of the 1986-1987 year and all of the newly-elected officers were extremely enthusiastic. Program plans were made for the entire year and the highlights for the meeting included the installation of our new members as well as a special tribute to all of the past presidents of the organization.

The Auxiliary to the Monumental City Medical Society is a non-profit volunteer community service organization which operates exclusively to aid the medical profession in matters of health care and health education. Each year the Auxiliary gives medical scholarships and makes contributions to various other charitable organizations. Over the years, the local Auxiliary has been a very strong supporter of Provident Hospital.

For the special tribute to the past president, each president was asked to bring their scrapbook representing the various activities and community service projects performed by the Auxiliary during their administration. All of the members present shared much fun and laughter reminiscing about "old times" and the old photos in the scrapbooks. Mrs. Mabel Young said kind words of thanks for their commitment and dedication and pinned special badges, which she made personally, on each of the past presidents. The illustrious past presidents who attended this meeting were Mrs. Louise Owens, Mrs. Frances Mitchell, Mrs. Donna Rice, Mrs. Robbie Chissell, Mrs. Vivian Pendleton, Mrs. Serena Holmes, Mrs. Tommi White, and Mrs. Celonia Walden. In addition, two of these presidents, are also past Walden. In addition, two of these presidents, Mrs. Robbie Chissell and Mrs. Celonia Walden, are also past presidents of the Auxiliary to the National Medical Association.

The candlelight induction ceremony for the new members was very lovely and quite moving for those members present. The new members inducted at this meeting were Mr. John Cooper, Mrs. Diane Julian, Mrs. Renee Smoot, and Mrs. Deidre Stokes. Each new member was sponsored and presented to the group by a past president who also read the pledge to their inductee. At the end of the ceremony, an extremely warm and hearty welcome was given to the new members by each regular member present.

Following the business meeting, the members enjoyed a wonderful repast prepared by the members who hosted this meeting. Each hostess brought a specialty dish, which was her own creation, and a splendid array of extraordinary cuisine was enjoyed by all. Hostesses for the meeting were the officers for the current year:

President, Mrs. Jacqueline Chambers; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Ruth Hunt; Corresponding Secretary Mrs. Marlene Downs; Treasurer, Mrs. Frances Mitchell; Financial Secretary/Newsletter Editor, Mrs. Octavia Venter; Parliamentarian, Mrs. Mildred Campbell; Chaplin; Mrs. Wilhelmina Young.

there," Dr. Hooks continued. "We have to first get students back in school before we can start tackling other problems such as more black curricula, more black teachers, etc."

Mr. Holman added that the black community needs to eradicate some of the old ideas that it has held regarding black employment. "We need to look at how we can build jobs and establish career ladders, and do away with the notions that all blacks cannot be educated. There is a place in education and employment for each and every black on this continent," he said.

Commenting on the poll by the Joint Center for Political Studies that showed younger blacks' attitudes have changed regarding civil rights, affirmative actions and politics, Dr. Height said, "The polls must have surveyed those blacks who have jobs and have reached the top. This is probably why this viewpoint is reflected. I think these views reflect those blacks who have forgotten where they came from. They are certainly not indicative of the masses of black people who are poor and out of work. Racism has affected us so much that we are afraid of each other, and that is why you find these kinds of present - day attitudes."

Mrs. Coretta Scott King joined the panel briefly and said that she sees black employment heading in a positive direction. "I am encouraged from the white business community for the first time. Whites are beginning to realize that the entire culture is at stake if blacks and other minorities are not educated and included in this country's business community. They now see it is all tied together. If blacks fail, the whole culture will fail. They realize now it is all interrelated."

HEROES AND HEROINES HONORED

Friday night was the time to honor a number of heroes and heroines of the Civil Rights Movement. This was done at a "Home At Last" banquet at which tributes and presentations were made to Rosa Parks, whose refusal to give up her seat sparked the Montgomery bus boycott; Daisy Bates, who played a major role in the "Little Rock Nine" episode; Rev. Ralph Abernathy, president emeritus of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and one of the closest associates of Dr. Martin Luther King; Myrlie Evers, widow of Medgar Evers; and Dick Gregory, comedian and social activist.

The Youths had their night on Saturday when a "Youth Rally" was held at Morgan State University. Carl Lewis, the Olympic Gold Medal winner, told a packed audience "we're losing our togetherness. We don't feel that same togetherness that our parents did, so let's support our leaders and join them in the struggle."

Guest speaker Martin Luther King, III, son of the slain civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr., reprimanded his peers for spending so much money on products that do not help blacks, and asked them to financially support the NAACP, PUSH, the Urban League and other such black organizations.

The final event took place on Sunday night as the Rev. Joseph E. Lowery, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, told a rally of people that there is a new terror, deadlier than the hooded lynch mobs of the past that is plaguing the black community.

"There is a new Ku Klux Klan — Killer Crack and Coke. And the new lynch mob is sweeping all through the black neighborhood." he said that blacks must stop abusing alcohol and drugs, rebuild family structures and discourage teenage pregnancies.
