MEOC, a nationally sponsored project of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., has been federally funded by the U.S. Office of Education for 18 years. At the center youths and adults are given help with two/four year college and specialized training admissions and the financial aid process.

Services include decision-making, career opportunities and self-image building workshops, individual and group counselling, placement and follow-through. Special attention is given to single, female heads of households, the incarcerated and the handicapped.

Ellen Dolvey Howard is a member of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Inc. - Baltimore Alumnae Chapter, and she is a member of the Baltimore City Task Force (Project PLUS) which was initiated by WJZ-TV.

A gala reception was held following the awards presentation.

DAUGHTERS OF ISIS DRILL TEAM SPARKLES

Jerusalem Court No.1 Daughters of Isis Drill Team packed 350 people into the Masonic Temple on Saturday, Jan. 17 for the Drill team's fourth annual Disco fundraiser.

Among the 350 were 50 people from Philadelphia who arrived together by bus. Charlie Gibson, who led the group from Philadelphia stated that this is the third trip he and his friends have made to attend this affair. The group has grown each year. Gibson promises to bring two buses next year.

Gibson is the brother of Darlene Stewart who is the captain of the drill team.

The Masonic Temple was beautifully decorated in red and white for the occasion. At the stroke of midnight, the drill team marched in in uniform and gave a drilling exhibition.

Gene Bradley mixed the "oldies but goodies" with the latest dance tunes as the group packed the dance floor into the wee hours. Many of the serious party people continued to party at the beautiful Lochearn home of Phyllis and Charles Butler.

The drill team was organized by Daughter Janie Wright. Darlene Stewart and Willie Eure were co-chairpersons of the of the fair.

Betty Zellner, the Illustrious Commandress of Jerusalem Court No. 1 stated that the court was extremely proud of the drill team which is rated No. 2 in the nation. Zellner said that she is confident that the drill team will be No. 1 in the national competition to be held in Atlanta, GA in August.

SINGLE PARENTING

WHAT LOOKS GOOD MAY NOT BE WHAT YOU WANT

While there may be a male shortage, what you may be looking for in a man may not be what you need. You've seen pretty oranges in the market that look like they should be sweet. But once you have made the purchase, tested them, they may not be sweet at all.

So what do you do? Stop looking for the best looking mate. Looks aren't everything. Stop wearing rose colored glasses and blinders. Women particularly, base their entire initial meeting of a man on just how well he looks. He may be too fat, too short, have a pot belly, double chin, etc. most women will overlook him just because of his appearance.

Certainly if he is untidy, that is the one exception to the rule...unkempt, unshaven, and unwashed men are a no no. However, if the only thing that is keeping you from talking to him or her is the fact that he or she isn't as handsome or pretty as you would like, this should not be the determining factor is pursuing the relationship.

Beauty is only skin deep. A nice personality, intelligence, and the ability to be able to love and show affection is what's needed in a person.

If you can find a person who is honest, kind, considerate, and caring, what difference does it make if he or she doesn't look like a raving beauty?

You can just about bet your last bottom dollar that the perfect looking female or male, extremely attractive, may have a string of people of the opposite sex pursuing them.

Politeness, the ability to mingle and make friends easily . . . with a nice disposition are assets. Not only has this person demonstrated that he or she is self-sufficient and can stand on his or her own two feet, and is capable of showing love. This is the type of person that you want your kids to be around.

This personality combination in a person, is surely a sign that you are on the road to a successful partnership with the opposite sex.

You know the old saying . . "I can do bad by myself," is true. In addition to finding someone who feels good about him or herself, is kind and considerate, etc., gets a big A plus for yourself, because these types of people will also stimulate and motivate you during times of stress and depression. Your inner growth and what type of person motivates you regardless of how handsome he is, will enhance your overall lifestyle.

So, ir your lifestyle has been bah! Humbug! try these suggestions. You can't go wrong.

Karen R. Franklin weds Spencer L. Giles

NEWLYWEDS MR. AND MRS. SPENCER LOWEL GILES are pictured during their candlelight wedding ceremony at the Ray of Hope Baptist Church, Parkside Dr., Saturday, Jan. 17. The bride is the former Miss Karen Renee Franklin.

Karen Renee Franklin, the Alameda, daughter of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Charles M. Franklin, Sr. was joined in matrimony to Spencer Lowel Giles, Parkville, MD, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Giles, N. Kenwood Ave., Saturday, Jan. 17 at 5 p.m. at the Ray of Hope Baptist Church, 3000 Parkside Dr. Her father is the church pastor.

The double ring ceremony was officiated by the Rev. James H. Franklin (the bride's uncle) and the Rev. Dr. Charles M. Franklin, Sr. (bride's father). The ministers are twin brothers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long white satin gown with a high neckline and designer sleeves which pointed at the fingertips, beautifully detailed pearl and rhinestone bodice and skirt with inlaid lace and crystal pleated trim on the cathedral train. Her headdress was of pearl and rhinestone with a flower spray on the left side of the face. She carried a bouquet of pink and white rosebuds.

Maid-of-Honor Lora Tabb and Matron-of-Honor Sharon T. Head, both of Baltimore, wore long peacock tissue taffeta gowns with sweetheart necklines, short puffed sleeves, crisscrossed gathered bodices and draped skirts. Their headdresses were peacock pointed hats with pearls, pouffed in the back and with French veils. They carried nosegays of baby's breath, pink and white roses accented with tiny lights and hot pink and peacock ribbons.

Bridesmaids Ramona Giles, Deborah Rose, Valerie Harrison (bride's niece), all of Baltimore and Pamella Henderson, Pasadena, MD, Carolyn S. Brown, Pikesville, MD and DeBranda Giles (Junior bridesmaid), Lansdale, PA wore dresses the same as the Maid and Matron-of-Honor's, except for peacock French veils. Everyone wore long fingertip gloves.

Flower Girl, Wanda Banks, of Baltimore wore a long white lace on white taffeta dress. Her headpiece was a cluster of white flowers with white streamers and carried a basket of live white, pink and red rose petals and rosebuds.

Best Man was Randolph H. Giles, brother of the groom, Lansdale, PA. Groomsmen were Darrell B. Giles, Sr., brother of the groom, James Douglass, Robert L. Harris, Jr., Thomas Head, Charles Franklin, Jr., brother of the bride, all of Baltimore, and Gregory Lee, Quantico, VA. Ushers were Dwayne Johnson and Jeffrey Lee, Petersburg, VA. Bible Carrier was Darrell Giles, Jr. and Ring Bearer was Darien Giles, both of Baltimore.

Decorations at the church included live palms, candelabra, baskets of white flowers with peacock and pink bows forming the background for the beautiful candlelight service.

Musical Programs Organists were Horace Parker and David Parker. Soloists were the Rev. William Bailey and Ms. Myra Wright, Flutist was Ms. Katherine Lockard.

A reception was hosted for the couple following the wedding at Martin's Eastwind for 500 guests. Featured were the traditional introduction of the wedding party, dance of the bride and groom, the Best Man's toast, grace by the bride's father, dinner, the cutting of the cake, tossing of the garter and bouquet, the daughter and father dance "Daddy's Little Girl" and the last dance.

The bride is a graduate of Lake Clifton High school and matriculated at the Shennandoah Conservatory of Music, Winchester, Va and is employed by the Federal Government, Washington, DC.

The groom is a graduate of Patterson High School, Morgan State University, a member of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Inc. and is employed by the Baltimore City Department of Education.

The couple honeymooned at the Pocono Palace Resort. They are at home in Parkville, MD.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Ida Richardson, Oakland, CA; Mr. Charles Spellman, Ventura, CA; Mrs. Lillian Wiley, Norwalk, CN; Miss Shirley Franklin, Bronx, NY; Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn Jackson, Bronx, NY; Mr. Sylvester Merkersn, New York, NY; Miss Shirley Blakely, Bronx, NY; Mrs. Deborah Giles, Lansdale, PA; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Johnson, Philadelphia, PA; Miss Iva Walters, Philadelphia, PA; Mrs. Minnie Spellman Henderson, Trenton, NJ; Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Giles, Wilmington, DE; Mrs. Angela Case and Charles, Newalk, DE;

COLUMBIA CAPERS

NANBPW YOUNG ADULT INDUCTION

The Columbia Young Adult Club of the National Association of Negro Business and Professional Women's Clubs had their impressive orientation and induction of members recently. Ther ceremony was held at the home of Advisor Celonia B. Walden.

The program opened with greetings from Second Vice President Carolyn L. Brown, followed by prayers from Recording Secretary Abbie Diane Martin and a discussion of the club's purpose, origin, colors, flower and insignia by Carolyn Brown. Lauri Hals, the club Parliamentarian discussed the organization's national and local history. Celonia A. Walden, daughter of the Advisor and newly-elected Young Adult Club President, gave the inductees valuable information on the national headquarters, national, district and local club officers, current national programs and the new members financial obligations, Then club First Vice President Daphne DeShields provided further information regarding meetings, membership and financial obligations.

Sylvia Cook-Martin, the senior club's able president, then gave the inductees a presentation on the expectations and benefits of being affiliated with NANBPW. Her presentation was excellent as always.

Other Young Adult Club participants were: Financial Secretary Sandra Carter, who was responsible for arranging for the beautiful yellow roses, and pretty Gail Baker Allen, a former charm school student of yours truly, who was in charge of membership assignments.

The young adults pledge, as members of the local NANBPW club to become involved in local and national activities, to be constant, cooperative, enthusiastic and concerned about the problems and social ills affecting people in our community. They also pledge to be willing to give of their time, talent and resources to improve the economic, social and educational conditions of those in need.

The Young Adult Club was founded by Daphane DeShields, who served as president for two years. Ms. DeShields received a special leadership award from the Young Adult Club at the 1986 Founders Day Awards Luncheon which theme was entitled "Celebrate With The Young And Gifted."

The young ladies have been involved in many activities since they organized. They include an exhibit at the Black History Fair in the Columbia Mall, joining with the senior club in a stress management seminar, a seminar on the new tax law, a group fellowship dinner at Crystal's Restaurant followed by a social hour at the Columbia Hilton Inn, a dinner party at Ethel's Place in Baltimore and attendance at the District meeting at which they received a second place award for outstanding programs for the year.

I am sure that these young ladies will add many more members from Columbia in the years to come. Current members are: Celonia A. Walden, President, Carolyn Brown, Vernell Crochan, Sandra B. Carter, Daphane DeShields, Lauri C. Hoes and Abbie Diane Martin, Newly inducted members are: Cheri Caldwell, Janet B. Carter, Jocelyn Chaney, Kathlyn Gillard, Revenda Green, Kim M. Sterrette, Angela Gray and Angela Wade.

Senior club members present and helping with the ceremony were: Mary Bracey, First vice president; Roberta Briscoe, treasurer; Doris Brown, mother of Carolyn Brown. The mothers of Jocelyn Chaney and Kim Sterrette were also present at the induction ceremonies.

A reception followed the induction which provided all present a chance to get to know each other better.
