SATURDAY ONLY

RED DOT SALE

TAKE AN ADDITIONAL

35% Off

CURRENT SALE PRICES

All stores open 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.

(Howard St. closes at 6:00 p.m.; Salisbury closes at 9:00 p.m.).

Look for the Red Dots on our entire stock of already reduced men's, women's and children's winter fashions, then take an extra 35% off the marked price.*

Here's an example of how it works:

Original price	62.00
Current sale price	37.99
Less additional 35%	13.30
RED DOT PRICE	24.68

• Misses', Juniors', Women's and Petites' • Dresses
• Sportswear • Accessories • Intimate Apparel • Shoes
• Men's, Young Men's and Children's apparel
• Ladies', Men's and Boys' Budget Store Fashions

EVERY COAT, EXTRA 25% OFF ALREADY REDUCED PRICES
• ENTIRE STOCK OF LONG WOOL COATS • ENTIRE STOCK OF PANT COATS
• ENTIRE STOCK OF RAINWEAR • ENTIRE STOCK OF ACTIVE JACKETS

Budget Store at Salisbury, Howard St., Golden Ring.
Furs, Coats, Fine and Real Jewelry not included in sale.

HECHT'S
ESPECIALLY FOR YOU!

Our World

Pattie Hodges
OUR WORLD EDITOR

PARTYLINE

DELTAS IN BALTO CO. IN ACTION

The Deltas have been very busy in Baltimore County ith their public service projects.

Recently, the Baltimore County Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., sponsored a Financial Aid and Career Awareness forum in which thirteen presenters, including James H. Marrow, Assistant Financial Aid Director for the Community College of Baltimore, and Staff member Craig Walters, presented valuable financial aid information to several parents.

This information will be valuable to parents who are preparing to send their children off to college this year.

Other presenters were Dr. Mabel L. Murray, Supervisor of Reading, Carroll County; William Hankins, Hospital Administrator; Lieutenant Claude Watts, U.S. Army; Mrs. Janice Bowie, Supervisor, Physical Therapy; Dr. Marcus Carson, Businessman-Pharmacist; Dr. Nora Cartledge, Baltimore City Elementary School Principal; Mrs. Weldena Kelly, Health, Social Security Administration; Barry Cobb, student Fla. A. & M. University; Dr. Stanley Rich, Executive Director to the President of Morgan State University; Russell Jolivet, vice president, Commercial Credit; M's. Suzanne Kelly, Fashion Reporter, the Evening Sun; S. Lee Martin, Realtor; Attorney Vicki Ballou-Watts, G. Smith and Associates; and M's. Deborah Peaks, Public Relations Director, Coppin State College.

This series of presenters provided Baltimore County youngsters with a wealth of information to peak their career interests and give them some direction. Mrs. Lila Curry, Counselor at Morgan State University, gave the students and their parents a great deal to think about with her cogent remarks about life and preparing to meet the "real" world.

That January 10th activity was soon followed up by the January 21st public forum on pre-retirement planning, held at the Randallstown Library. Featured in this forum were Bob Gleason, Field Representative, Social Security Administration; Mrs. Barbara Cephas, Outreach Supervisor for the Baltimore Co. Dept. of Aging; Timothy Fagan, also of the Baltimore County Dept. of Aging; and M's. Deborah Mohler of IRS.

These knowledgeable presenters gave information and answered citizens' questions on topics of social security, community resources for the aging, housing for aging and retiring citizens, and taxes as related to the new concepts and retirement.

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. founded in 1913, is a national and international public service sorority. It has more than 125,000 members and more than 742 chapters in and outside of the U.S., combined. The Baltimore County Alumnae Chapter was organized in December, 1984. And, since its establishment, it has attempted to provide many public service programs to Baltimore Countians.

Among its many activities since its establishment in Baltimore County are: a Candidates' Forum for County Executive and County Councilmen; participation in the Baltimore County Hospital Health Fair; a Seminar on Being a Black Parent in the Baltimore County Public Schools; Summit II workshops; Voter Registration; a Teen Lift Program; Arts and Letters programs; the annual Masquerade Ball to raise funds for UNCF and scholarships, and a Cotillion in which more than $3,000.00 in scholarships was given to deserving students. But, alas, these are only just a few of the County Deltas' efforts.

Committee members responsible for the two previously mentioned public service projects are: Sorors Gladys Bragg, Gloria Marrow, E. Dean Evans, Linda Vaughn, Dena Kelly, Valerie Montague, Margaret Pennington, Darlean C. Williams, Georgia Simpson, and, again, Gloria Marrow, respectively.

Soror Ernestine Jones Jolivet is the chapter President. Other officers include Sorors Mabel Murray, first vice president; Gloria Wilson, second vice president; Deborah Peaks, corresponding secretary; Linda Hollis, recording secretary; Janice Bowie, financial secretary; Janice Page, treasurer; Gloria R. Marrow, historian; E. Cathy Carr, chaplain; Vicki Watts, parliamentarian; and Maxine D. Hurley, sergeant-at-arms.

Currently, the chapter through its History and Heritage Committee is planning its third annual celebration of Founders' Day. The event will be held at Martin's West on Sunday, February 8, from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. The guest speaker will be Soror Vashti McKenzie of radio station WEBB.

NCNW-GBS HOLDS BLACK HISTORY MONTH CELEBRATION

The National Council of Negro Women, Inc. Greater Baltimore Section, held a meeting recently to formulate plans for their Black History Month Celebration. The president, Mamie Jones is calling all members of NCNW and friends to join the Greater Baltimore Section in their celebration of Black History Month at the historic church on Sunday, February 8, as the council worships together at the Ebenezer AME Church (Sharp and Montgomery Streets). The minister is The Reverend Wendell O. E. Christopher. The church will be celebrating its Founders Day. The AME church, founded by the Rev. Richard Allen, is one of the oldest churches in the Baltimore community.

The Mathilda Monroe Missionary Society (an affiliate of the National Council of Negro Women, GBS) at Ebenezer, will host the group at the Worship Day activity with Mrs. Beatrice Avery as chairperson. All members and friends are expected to join in the celebration at 10:45 a.m.

WOMAN POWER MEMBERSHIP TEA

It's that time again. Woman Power, Inc. will hold its "Membership Tea" on Sunday, Feb. 22 at the U.S.A. Eubie Blake Cultural Center, 409 N. Charles St. The time for the event is from 5 until 8 p.m.

Tickets are affordable. The small fee includes your annual membership.

Some of Baltimore's best youth will provide entertainment for the royal membership tea, and a tribute will be made to Dr. G. James Fleming.

Dr. Fleming is a long-time supporter and member of Woman Power, Inc., and is considered by many to be the group's greatest supporter.

Tickets for the tea will be available at the following places (phone calls after 5 p.m. please): Margaret Brown, chairperson, and Ann Spradley, ticket officer.

For information and more details simply call 922-9325 or 383-9753.

RENAISSANCE RHAPSODY: FASHIONS OF THE 30's

"Renaissance Rhapsody" a look at fashions of the 1930's will be held at The Baltimore Museum of Art on February 8 at 3 p.m. as part of the Museum's Black History Month Celebration.

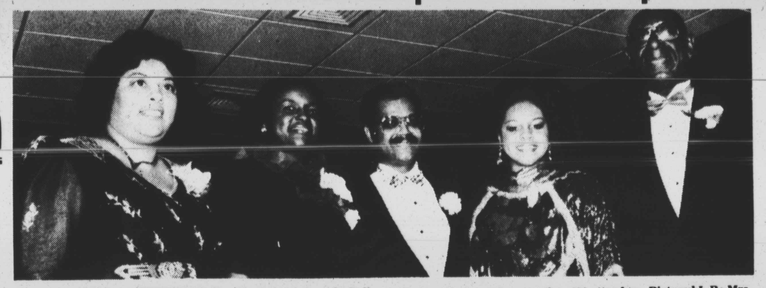
This year's program highlights the Harlem Renaissance, an era when the Black arts community in Harlem, New York proudly witnessed the emergence of such creative greats as Langston Hughes, James Van Der Zee, and Richard Wright.

"Renaissance Rhapsody" will feature the lively music and sweeping hairstyles of the period, along with the vintage and reconstructed garments generously provided by Center Stage and the retail outlet Dreamland.

The Pauline Brooks Boutique

Continued on page 21

MSU President's Scholarship Ball—a real sparkler



MORGAN STATE UNIVERSITY'S Presidential Scholarship Ball, which was held at the Palladium Ballroom on January 30, was highlighted by the presence of recording star Deniece Williams (2nd from right) whose performance of "Black Butterfly" drew a standing ovation from the more than 800 attendees. Pictured L-R: Mrs. Earl (Sheila) Richardson; Dr. Yvonne Kennedy, President of S. D. Bishop Jr. College in Alabama; Dr. Earl S. Richardson, President, MSU; and Francis Gates, Chairman, MSU Board of Regents.

JOSEPH HASKINS (standing, left), the Morgan graduate who recently became President of Harbor Bank of Maryland is caught by the camera standing next to Mrs. Nathaniel (Rachel) McFadden, and Keith Lee. Seated (L-R) Ella Campbell, Evelyn Stevens, Rufus Stevens and Kathy Frazier.

MARY ROBINSON (right), the Chairperson of Morgan State University's Presidential Scholarship Ball Committee, converses animatedly with Mr. A. Rogers and Ms. J. Greene.

DR. STAN RICH (standing), the Executive Assistant to Dr. Richardson, Morgan's President, chats with a lively group that includes his wife Jacqueline (left) plus Shadena Bouldin and Dr. Linda Thompson.

Topping the list of stellar events for last weekend was the second annual Presidential Scholarship Ball of Morgan State University held Friday, January 30.

More than 800 Baltimoreans, from all walks of life gathered at the Palladium for the gala which began at 9 p.m. and lasted until 1 a.m.

To say "extremely pleased with the event" is the understatement of the year. The weather outside might have been frightful, but the ambience inside was delightful.

None could resist the lure of the continuous delectable open buffet and bar, nor the beat of the Bobby Felder Band, of Washington, DC which kept the floor a teeming mass of folks, all decked out in their glitter and other finery to sparkle along with the chandeliers above them.

To add to their enjoyment, special guest Deniece Williams, recording artist and Morgan alumnae, thrilled the guests with her rendition of "Black Butterfly." She got a standing ovation and was presented with flowers afterwards.

Dr. Flossie Dedmond, chairperson, Program Committee, was in charge of the interlude activities, which began with the impressive posting of University colors by MSU ROTC Cadets. She welcomed all, thanked them for being there, then introduced Mrs. Mary Robinson, chairperson of the Scholarship Ball.

Mrs. Robinson announced the planned presentation of $20,000 to Morgan as a result of the Scholarship Ball, and then caused the grand elation of Emily Moore, a guest, by announcing Mrs. Moore the winner of a raffled fur jacket.

Dr. Earl S. Richardson, president, MSU, responded with gracious thanks not only to the guests but to the committee as well, and to Mrs. Robinson in particular. He also announced that since she has worked so well on fundraisers with the university, she had been hired as the Director for Development and the Assistant to the Vice President for Development and University Relations.

(CUFF NOTE LAUGH: To prove her fundraising powers, Mary promptly sold the lovely table centerpieces to the guys for their special ladies. Then in turn, she presented the entire Scholarship Ball Committee.

Dancing and much socializing rounded out the evening, which many were reluctant to end, and who lingered, and lingered and lingered.

The Presidential Scholarship Ball Committee included Committee Chairperson, Mrs. Mary Robinson; Committee Co-Chairpersons Mrs. Shirley Beard

Continued on page 11

EDNA JOHNSON (left) who appears to be mesmerized by the music and the festive nature of the event, greets Beverly Douglass at the MSU Presidential Scholarship Ball which featured dancing to the scintillating rhythms of Bobby Felder, Washington, D.C.'s most popular band leader.

HARRY MILLER (right), MSU's Vice President for Development and University Relations, who serves as Morgan's chief fundraiser, and Dr. L. Thomas, admires one of the elegant centerpieces that added to the ambience of the Presidential Scholarship Ball.

FEB 1987