BATON ROUGE ITINERARY

There is nothing better to boost the ego of an ordinary down to earth person than to have the National President of the 7.7 million member National Baptist Convention, USA, Inc., greet him or her upon arrival at the airport and offer transportation to the person's hotel.

Although we arrived early Saturday morning in summer like weather and missed the local welcoming party by a few minutes, our good friends Robbie McCoy, Martha Simmons, Grace Cobb and other members of the Detroit, MI delegation received the red carpet treatment that yours truly has become accustomed to in Baton Rouge, LA.

We barely had time to check into the hotel and unpack before the telephone rang and the voice on the line informed me that Baton Rouge's most gracious hostess, Mrs. Lillian Harrison, was waiting in the lobby to take us to dinner. The memory of the homemade gumbo prepared by my friend during my former visits to the Louisiana town encouraged me to hasten to the lobby.

It didn't take long for us to arrive at the spacous ranch type home sitting in the middle of several beautifully landscaped acres.

The dinner menu included spicy Louisiana gumbo, steak, rice, greens, corn muffins and cake. Believe me, There is nothing like southern hospitality.

Sunday morning found us worshiping with the Mt. Zion Baptist Church congregation pastored by the Rev. Dr. T.J. Jemison, president, National Baptist Convention, USA, Inc.

Following the morning feast on the spiritual food received during the worship service, we piled into cars and rode to a nearby restaurant where Dr. Jemison was waiting to treat the visitors to a dinner of their choice.

Monday morning was a tie for visiting the shopping Malls and then catching a little rest before dressing for the Presidents banquet at the Centroplex Convention Center where we spied the Rev. Nathaniel Higgs, the Rev. Olin P. Moyd, Mrs. Arlene White and Mrs. Lillian Cates, members of the Baltimore delegation, seated at a nearby table.

The Congress of Christian Education and the Woman's Auxiliary Board meeting were on the agenda for Tuesday morning. Tuesday evening we enjoyed one of the Conventions finest musicals held in the Convention Music Hall.

Wednesday morning the gavel was sounded to begin the Annual Executive Board business meeting of the National Baptist Convention, USA, Inc.

The fun ended and everyone settled down to take care of the business of the World's largest Black religious body.

COLUMBIA CAPERS

25TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

Mr. and Mrs. William Bush (Gladys) one of Columbia's handsome couples, recently were honored at a surprise twenty-fifth anniversary celebration at Kahler Hall in the Village of Harper's Choice.

It was indeed a gala affair organized by the Bush children, Yvonne and Bill, Jr., a student at the University of Mississippi.

The rainy cold weather did not deter the more than 200 guests from attending the festive celebration. The ladies were in a wide choice of fashions, some in sporty dresses and others in after-five attire, and did they look good!!!!! Most of the men wore business suits with a conservative flair while others were attired in sportswear.

The long buffet table was loaded with beautiful and tasty food which was continually replenished as the evening wore on. Daughter Yvonne and her cader of hostesses saw to every guests' whim.

About midway through the evening Bill Bush, flanked by the children, came forward and thanked all the guests for sharing their 25th wedding anniversary. He then invited his wife Gladys to come forward and presented her with a long black diamond mink coat. Much applause came from their friends, and my dear friend, Gladys, was speechless. It was indeed a monumentally surprising celebration.

Gladys is employed at the General Electric Company in Columbia where she was recently honored with an outstanding performance award. Bill is an engineer with Turner Construction Company in the Washington area.

FOUNDER'S DAY OBSERVED

The Columbia Chapter of Club Dejouir celebrated its founding by attending services at Calvary Chapel which is located at Ft. Meade. The Rev. Dennis A. Westbrook is the chaplain.

The chapel was filled to capacity with members and guests, but was most certainly filled with the Holy Spirit and melodious music from the Gospel Choir. Those in attendance clapped their hands, nodded their heads, sang along with the choir and enjoyed the service tremendously.

The Baltimore Chapter of Club Dejouir celebrated its Founder's Day at St. John Baptist Church here in Columbia. It was a real pleasure to have our sisters and their husbands worship at St. John.

The Columbia Chapter has previously observed Founder's Day at worship services at St. John, First Baptist of Guilford and the Long Reach Church of God.

Plummer-Ledbetter nuptials

The recent wedding of Shaunielle S. Plummer and Police Sgt. Derek G. Ledbetter was a happy one. The bride smiled without shuttering, and the groom beamed with assurance.

The Bridge's floor-length, bell-skirted white sateen gown was trimmed in clusters of seed pearls up and down the long lace-trimmed sleeves, and the bodice, and was scalloped around the hemline. The back of the bodice was cut very low, and was secured with a row of self-covered buttons.

The self train was the continuation of the full skirt, for about eight feet, and it, too, was trimmed with the seed pearls in icecycle design. Her headgear was a bando-styled dressing of netting and clusters of pearls over the ears, which dangled into earpieces.

The Bridesmaids wore peach satin gowns and peach satin pumps. Their gowns were demurely plain, but bottomed-off with deep lace facing the six inch hemlines. They included: Barbara Allen and Audrey Garret from Greensboro, N.C.; Sandra Fields, West Orange, NJ; Gwendolyn Motley, Pittsburgh, PA; Irene Schaefer, Damascus, MD; Sharon Howard, Crystal Johnson, Melvern Ledbetter, and Rosalind Plummer of Baltimore, MD. Flower Girl was Kathleen P. Cooper.

The Groom and his groomsmen were slick and suave in black tuxedos, white pleated-front shirts, and pink cumberbands. Each of them was a strong, broad-shouldered "hunk," and wore pink bowties.

They included: Thomas Plummer, from White Plains, NY; Randy Humes, Barry Johnson, Ricardo Johnson, Randy Lee, Rodney Lee, William Pitt, Michael Ledbetter, and Charles B. Plummer, from Baltimore, MD.

Junior Groomsmen were: Jacque Plummer, White Plains, NY; and Edgar Barnes, Baltimore, MD; Shawn Howard, Baltimore, and Shaw Motley, Pittsburgh, PA were Ring Bearers.

The Bride's Mother, Mrs. Senoria E. Plummer, wife of the late Thomas M. Plummer, Jr., wore a soft Pink chiffon, long to the instep and layered, with a long-line waist, and silver slippers. The groom's mother, Mrs. Mary Ledbetter, wife of Willie P. Ledbetter wore a "twenties-styled" black beaded gown, ankle-length, with over-beading of long strands of crystal, bow-designed at the neck-line. Her pumps were white satin, trimmed at the toe in the same beaded design. Each of the mothers sported bouquet of white flowers at the wrist.

Wedding coordinator was the Groom's sister, Mrs. Susan Cooper, who wore a spangled ecru ankle-length fitted gown of lace, and ecru slippers.

Hostesses included: Misses Delores Brown, Venice Davis, Debbie Mathews, Sheldon Smarr; Madames Karen Norris, and Serena G. Mills.

The Wedding Ensemble was designed by the Maid-of-Honor Ms. Gwendolyn A. Motley. The Flower Girl's gown was designed by Jacqueline Designs - Ms. Jackie Forte. Hair Styles were by Eric Gee, of Dett Set Salon.
