BREAKFAST MEETING AT THE FORUM:

Bush captivates black business people

By Jill P. Carter
AFRO Staff Writer

Vice-president George Bush, presidential candidate for the Republican Party, impressed Maryland's black business community at a breakfast assembly, yesterday at the Forum.

"I'm in favor of economic development for black businesses because it is the right thing to do," Bush said. His speech was well received, commanding full audience applause.

Of the 550 business representatives attending the affair, there was a strong mix of democrats and republicans, but a positive response to Bush transcended the audience.

"I think he changed a lot of minds, said Raymond V. Haysbert, chief executive of Parks Sausage Corporation. "The manner in which Bush expressed himself was very sincere. I think 90 percent of the people who leave here will support him.

Haysbert is a black Md. democrat who supports Bush.

"The people who feel that economic development will provide funds to solve social ills will respond dramatically to this," Haysbert said. He believes he is one of many black Maryland democrats who will support the republican ticket.

Jim House, 2nd vice-chairman of the Maryland Republican Party views the recent stir between democratic presidential candidate, Michael S. Dukakis and Rev. Jesse L. Jackson as an upsurge for Bush support.

"We have not been too effective in Baltimore City, but we have to chip at it piece by piece," he said. "Thanks to Dukakis, we made a big leap forward this week."

If the turnout is any indication, those who believe Maryland's blacks will swing towards Bush may be right. They had to turn people away at the door, according to Joshua I. Smith, Bush supporter and C.E.O. of Maxima Corporation.

"Blacks can no longer be ignored by the Republican Party," he said.

"We cannot afford to discriminate against a presidential candidate only because he has an "R" after his name on the ballot."

Bush talked not only of his advocacy of economic development, but also of how he believed education to be of major importance in increasing economic development.

"I want to be the education president," he said.

He's now a Bishop!

A CHAMPION — Rev. John R. Bryant of Bethel A.M.E. Church was elected Bishop at the A.M.E. Conference Wednesday on the second ballot. The complete story is featured on page 1C.

Jesse Jackson vows to never surrender

By Hamil Harris
AFRO Staff Writer

Jesse Jackson still has his eyes on the prize as the Democratic Convention gets underway Monday.

Still defiant, Jackson said his campaign would "never surrender" and that he was "too controlled" and "too mature to be mad" after learning of Michael Dukakis's choice of a running mate.

And although he won't be the vice-presidential nominee on the Democratic ticket, Jackson pointed out "I have registered more Democrats than any other candidate in history and my campaign will continue to grow and expand."

"We have come too far to stop now," said Jackson who said he plans to support the ticket but he still plans to, "fulfill the dream and put my name into the (Democratic) nomination for the presidency of the United
