Smile orchids

Smile orchids to one of our town's gracious ladies — Mrs. Rosalie McGuire. She's the retired Baltimore city educator who observed her 89th birthday on Jan. 27.

Couple your best wishes with get well cards to her sister Mrs. Carrie Johnson, the retired Carver High principal who is out of the hospital, recuperating at their Lynchester Rd. home.

Orchids to Hazel Thompson Barrett, the retired city school teacher who maintains the pleasant disposition; we remembered her when she was a child growing up in Somerset, Pa.

After 25 years in the classroom, she volunteers her time in a number of endeavors, including the Museum of Art. She's been a member of St. James Episcopal Church for 55 years.

The Barrett children are into interesting careers too. Daughter Beverly Carter is an adminisrative assistant in the office of State's Attorney Stu Simms. Son George Barrett is an assistant attorney general.

More orchids

Cuff note: Mrs. Barrett was among 500 sorors who gathered at the Forum Saturday morning for Delta Sorority's 77th annual Founders' Day celebration.

There, the coveted Vashti Turley Murphy Award for outstanding community service went to Ruth T. Rosedom, another of our town's dedicated workers who is noted for giving generously of her time to help others-always with a smile.

Sunshine in the faces of these diners with whom we shared a table. Mrs. Dorothy Johnson, the United Methodist Church leader and teacher, and widow of Rev. Harold D. Johnson, former district superintendent. Also, Wilson and Geraldine Walters; he's the former Sing Sing warden and former City Jail aide and president of Baltimore Chapter of Frontiers. She's the Mary Kay beauty consultant and Sharp St. Methodist Church member.

More smile orchids to George and Vashti Jude. They're the good neighbors whose annual super bowl party at the Hopkins Club is a real bash — dinner and fellowship it was this past Sunday.

The 55 - 10 score was lopsided, but there was plenty of sunshine among the viewers with Alfred Woolridge, walking off with the pot. He correctly predicted the San Francisco 49ers would beat the Denver Broncos by a wide margin.

And to KLW

Orchids to members of the King's Landing Women's Service Club who co-sponsored the 15th annual Martin Luther King, Jr. Memorial Breakfast on January, 15. As usual, it was a sell-out with some 1,000 persons present at Martin's West to hear Dr. Carolyn Goodman.

She is the New York psychiatry professor and mother of Andrew Goodman, one of the three students slain by the Ku Klux Klan in 1964 during the register-to-vote drive in Philadelphia, Miss.

Citizens Celebrating Baltimore, with Dr. Hugh Carey directing, provided the musical treat.

Cuff note: This annual celebration is co-sponsored by the Baltimore YMCA. It was founded in 1974 by A. Paul Moss and Dick Kelly, then YMCA top executives. Since its inception it has been a huge success.

This year's celebration owes special orchids to KLW president, Marjorie Green and her fellow members who work hard to make sure the evene is a success,

This year's celebration owes special orchids to KLW president, Marjorie Green and her fellow members who work hard to make sure the event is a success.

Orchids too, to KLW's Helen Tucker, co-chair; to Doris Street, KLW vice president, and member, Mary Smith, who co-chaired the very lovely reception for Dr. Goodman the night before at NAACP headquarters.

Editor's note: Did someone's smile make your day? Let this column salute them. Write Smiles, If You Ask Me, Baltimore AFRO-AMERICAN, 628 N. Eutaw St., Baltimore, Md. 21201, and smile, please.

Remember

Thinking - of - your cards to the family of Mrs. Mildred Bivins Rideout. She was for 31 years a nurse with the Baltimore Citv Health Department, retiring in 1984. She died Sunday at her Catonsville home. She was 67.

Funeral services were last evening at Grace AME Church in Catonsville, where she was an usher and active in a number of auxiliaries.

Mrs. Rideout was a native of Crisfield, Md., where she did her high school work. She received her nurses' degree at the Old Provident Hospital.

She held membership in Chi Eta Phi, the nursing sorority, the Vagabonds, a social club and the Catonsville Senior Center.

Her husband, Robert C. Rideout died in 1985.

Survivors: Son, Ronald B. Rideout, Catonsville; six grandchildren, 5 great grandchildren and a great, granddaughter.

Mrs. Anna Mae Wilder Matthew, 80, was memorialized on Jan. 13. She was the widow the Rev. Dr. Baxter L. Matthews, pastor of Union Baptist Church from 1936-63. He died seven years ago.

Ms. Matthews was active in a number of the church's organizations, is credited with organizing the junior church, was past president of missionary society,

Dear Lucille

Lucille Chapman Ward Brown died on Monday at the age of 77. She willed her body to science. Memorial services are tonight (Friday) at seven o'clock in Morgan Christian Center.

She will be remembered as a kind and caring person who encouraged others to excell and supported them in their endeavors.

Mrs. Brown grew up in Baltimore, was a graduate of city schools and Cortez Peters Business School. One of her first jobs was secretary in the law office of the late Warner T. McGuinn, W.A.C. Hughes and now Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall. During World War II, she also worked at the Draft Board and at the AFRO-AMERICAN.

She retired several years ago as secretary in the acquisition department at Morgan State University.

She was a member of Morgan University Women, the Pitch and Putt Golf Club and the Morgan Park Improvement Association. She was a co-founder of the Big Sisters Club of Baltimore which recently observed its 50th anniversary.

Survivors: Her husband of 36 years, Sidney Brown; retired Morgan U. lab technician; daughter, Barbara Clark, Morgan U. library aide.

Also three grandchildren, Judith Clark, Ann Arbor, Mich., student at the U. of Mich., Bruce A. Clark, Babury, W. Germany, technician; and Nancy Clark, in pharmaceutical sales in Towson.

Cuff note: Mrs. Brown's death was second in the family this week. Paternal grandmother, Mrs. Seressie T. Clark, also died on Monday in Steelton, Pa. She was, 91, Funeral services were Thursday evening.
